The difficulties in the way of a preparation for attack, outside the absence of the monitors, are very great, though not insurmountable. The landing of supplies and troops and the stores generally on vessels is very slow business. It all has to be done by lighters having very little capacity, and there are very few under the control of the Army. Beyond Cavite and south of Manila the troops already landed occupy very good camps, and everything is being done to insure the health of the men, which at present is good; but I fear very much that a long delay will result in considerable sickness, and for that reason I am anxious to make a demand for the surrender of Manila, and an attack, if need be, at as early date as possible. In view of the critical condition of affairs, Admiral Dewey, however, hesitates to expose his unarmored boats to the fire of the forts, in which, it is said, some powerful modern guns are mounted, but as soon as the monitors arrive he assures me that he will be able to make an attack which undoubtedly will prove successful.

The approaches from the camp to Manila are narrow and inclosed by rice fields and swamps which are practically impassable. There is one good main road about 30 feet wide, but in places not wide enough for more than two vehicles to pass each other. This is the best road that the vehicles can take, though approach is also practicable by the beach. I am very much in hopes that the Monterey will be here by the 1st of August and the other monitor only a few days later.

I visited the camp yesterday and made a reconnoissance of the approaches to the city, so that I speak by personal knowledge of the above facts.

Very respectfully,

W. MERRITT,
Major-General, U. S. Army.

They fear resumption of Spanish authority, and Spanish residents increase fear insurgents pardoning of native inhabitants; aspire to and determine to fight even United States for Philippines. Large number of remaining natives prefer prolonged American protection. Insurgent army, large part of which resentful and desire hostilities against American troops. Principal men, including Aguinaldo, desire peaceful relations, I think. Am preparing communication withdrawing of insurgents from suburb within certain time. May be necessary to forcibly eject them, in which event war may result. Officers report conference between principal men of interior and upper provinces of Luzon with Aguinaldo, and apparent settlement former difficulties. Chiefs of priest party and Aguinaldo have conferred and claim to be in accord. Insurgents constructing defenses on railroad line and elsewhere; no insurgent vessel having troops has left Manila nor Manila Bay, recently. Rumor reports the insurgents have three or four small vessels, two of which carry guns; that about August 10, two vessels with from 100 to 200 troops left the bay, destination unknown. Rumor reports insurgents meditate attack from Iloilo, Panay, where 4,000 disaffected residents are prepared to assist. All rumors lack confirmation. Insurgents have captured all Spanish garrisons in island and control affairs outside of Cavite and this city. Number in city and outskirts under arms large and increasing. Admiral Dewey and myself consider affairs critical. Will send to Aguinaldo to-morrow long communication in reply to his demands on General Merritt in which conditions and our international obligations under the terms of capitulation are fully discussed, and which concludes as follows:

"It only remains for me to respectfully notify you that I am compelled by my instructions to demand that your armed forces evacuate the entire city of Manila, including its suburbs, and that I shall be obliged to take action with that end in view within a very short period of time should you decide not to comply with my Government's demands, and I hereby serve notice upon you that unless your troops are withdrawn beyond the lines of the city's suburbs before Thursday, the 15th instant, I shall be obliged to resort to forcible action, and that my Government will hold you responsible for any unfortunate consequences that may ensue. Permit me to believe my confidence in the sound judgment and patriotism of yourself and associates is not misplaced. In conclusion, I beg to inform you that I have conferred freely with Admiral Dewey upon the contents of this communication, and am delegated by him to state that he fully approves of the same in all respects; that the commands of our Telegraphed situation briefly yesterday. Insurgents have acceded demand and evacuated entire city of Manila, except small force in one outlying district. No difficulty anticipated and no concessions made to them. They express strong desire to maintain friendly intercourse with the United States Government in all particulars. They organized congress Thursday at Malolos, 20 miles north of city, to frame plan of government. May injure commerce by exacting tariffs at ports in their possession. They can place under arms at short notice, possibly 30,000 men. Manila very quiet, military government being perfected gradually, and large force policing and cleansing city. Health of command fairly satisfactory. Trade and commerce active. Treasury receipts since August 14, $540,000, Mexican current money. Philippines monthly expenses will aggregate at least $350,000, nearly one-half required to subsist 13,000 Spanish prisoners; believe that receipts will largely exceed expenditures; tariffs and duties imposed as directed by President on July 12, but received in currency of country as on gold basis would almost double former Spanish duties. United States laws applied for admission of Chinese and opium, sales of licenses for lotteries and other pastimes opposed by public morals discontinued; private claims against Spanish Government received in large numbers, aggregating large amounts, are being investigated, but it is not intended that any claims shall be paid which originated prior to our occupation.

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE PACIFIC AND EIGHTH ARMY CORPS,
Manila, P. I., September 12, 1898. (Received Washington, October 19, 1898.)

The ADJUTANT-GENERAL, U. S. ARMY,
Washington, D. C.

SIR: I have the honor to inclose herewith copies of all correspondence by and between the United States military authorities and General Aguinaldo, commanding the insurgent forces of the Philippines, which are of record. I am of the impression that certain notes have passed between the parties of which no record was made, and I conclude thus from expressions in the letters of Aguinaldo, copies of which are inclosed. To my long communication, in which I make demands upon the insurgents to evacuate the city of Manila and its defenses by the 15th instant, I have not yet received any response. I am informed that Aguinaldo's advisers are quite evenly divided in sentiment—the one strongly advocating a compliance with the demands, the other urging refusal. I can not as yet reach any decided opinion as to which party will prevail. Should I promise them that in case of the return of the city to Spain upon United States evacuation their forces would be placed by us in positions which they now occupy, I thoroughly believe that they would evacuate at once. But of course under the international obligations resting upon us by reason of the articles of capitulation no such promise can be given.

The insurgents are very strong, estimated by some to number 30,000 troops. They have been receiving a good many arms and much ammunition within the last few weeks, and I am informed have contracted with the Japanese Government for a considerable supply. I shall not yield to any of their requests or make any concessions which affect in any way our international obligations to Spain. Should war result, more troops would be required, for which I shall make request by telegraph. Admiral Dewey approves thoroughly of my action and heartily unites in the course which I am pursuing. I continue in the hope that hostilities can be avoided. It is reported to me that the best legal talent which the insurgents possess (and they have among them some able men) state that the arguments used in my communication are unanswerable, but the difficulties lie in their inability to control their irresponsible military organizations. They want the arguments coupled with requests and not demands, so that Aguinaldo can make proclamation in his paper which will appeal to their sense.

I send these papers in care of Maj. W. A. Simpson, assistant adjutant-general, U. S. Army, who has been directed to proceed to Washington by War Department orders.

Very respectfully,

E. A. OTIS,
Major-General, U. S. Volunteers, Commanding.

HEADQUARTERS FIRST BRIGADE, U. S. EXPEDITIONARY FORCES,
Cavite Arsenal, Philippine Islands, July 4, 1898.

Señor Don EMILIO AGUINALDO Y FAMY,
Commanding Philippine Forces, Cavite, Luzon.

GENERAL: I have the honor to inform you that the United States of America, whose land forces I have the honor to command in this vicinity, being at war with the Kingdom of Spain, has entire sympathy and most friendly sentiments for the native people of the Philippine Islands.

For these reasons I desire to have the most amicable relations with you, and to have you and your people cooperate with us in military operations against the Spanish forces.

In our operations it has become necessary for us to occupy the town of Cavite as a base of operations. In doing this I do not wish to interfere with your residence here and the exercise by yourself and other native citizens of all functions and privileges not inconsistent with military rule.

I will be pleased to be informed at once of any misconduct of soldiers under my command, as it is the intention of my Government to maintain order, and to treat all citizens with justice, courtesy, and kindness.

I have, therefore, the honor to ask your excellency to instruct your officials not to interfere with my officers in the performance of their duties, and not to assume that they can not visit Cavite without permission.

Assuring you again of my most friendly sentiment and distinguished consideration, I remain, with all respect,

THOMAS M. ANDERSON,
Brigadier-General, U. S. Volunteers, Commanding.

Received July 5, 1898. From Aguinaldo, Emilio. No date or place. Brief: Expresses an interpretation of sentiments of natives of the Philippine Islands toward the great North American nation, and announces his agreeable relations with the United States military authorities, etc. Action: Forwarded to General Merritt, July 27, as an inclosure to L. S. 45.

HEADQUARTERS FIRST BRIGADE, U. S. EXPEDITIONARY FORCES,
Cavite Arsenal, Philippine Islands, July 6, 1898.

Señor Don EMILIO AGUINALDO Y FAMY,
Commanding Philippine Forces.

GENERAL: I am encouraged by the friendly sentiment expressed by your excellency in your welcome letter received on the 5th instant to endeavor to come to a definite understanding which I hope will be advantageous to both.

Very soon we expect a large addition to our forces, and it must be apparent to you as a military officer that we will require much more room to camp our soldiers, and also storeroom for our supplies. For this I would like to have your excellency's advice and cooperation, as you are the best acquainted with the resources of this country.

It must be apparent to you that we do not intend to remain here inactive, but to move promptly against our common enemy. But for a short time we must organize and land supplies and also retain a place for storing them near our fleet and transports.

I am solicitous to avoid any conflict of authority which may result in having two sets of military officers exercising command in the same place.

I am also anxious to avoid sickness, by taking sanitary precautions. Your own medical officers have been making voluntary inspections with mine and fear epidemic disease if the vicinity is not made clean.

Would it not be well to have prisoners work to this end under the advice of the surgeons?

I again renew my assurances of distinguished consideration.

I am, with great respect,

THOMAS M. ANDERSON,
Brigadier-General, U. S. Volunteers, Commanding.

GENERAL: Wishing to get complete information of the approaches to Manila from every direction, I therefore have the honor to request that you give my officers all possible assistance in making reconnoissance to the lines and approaches, and that you favor them with your advice.

Officers coming from me will have a note to that effect.

L. R. No. 122. Received July 20, 1898. From Aguinaldo, Emilio, general Philippine forces. Dated at Bacoor, P. I., July 15, 1898. Brief: States that his government has seen necessity of adopting form and organization more adequately popular. Expresses friendly and harmonious relations with "the Great North American Nation."

HEADQUARTERS EXPEDITIONARY FORCES TO THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS,
CHIEF QUARTERMASTER'S OFFICE,
Cavite, P. I., July 17, 1898.

Gen. EMILIO AGUINALDO,
Addressed.

SIR: General Anderson wishes me to say that the second expedition having arrived he expects to encamp in the vicinity of Parañaque from 5,000 to 7,000 men. To do this, supply this army, and shelter will require certain assistance from the Filipinos in this neighborhood. We will want horses, buffaloes, carts, etc., for transportation, bamboo for shelter, wood to cook with, etc. For all this we are willing to pay a fair price, but no more. We find so far that the native population are not willing to give us this assistance as promptly as required. But we must have it, and if it becomes necessary we will be compelled to send out parties to seize what we may need. We would regret very much to do this, as we are here to befriend the Filipinos. Our nation has spent millions of money to send forces here to expel the Spaniards, and to give a good government to the whole people, and the return we are asking is comparatively slight.

General Anderson wishes you to inform your people that we are here for their good, and that they must supply us with labor and material at the current market prices. We are prepared to purchase 500 horses at a fair price, but can not undertake to bargain for horses with each individual owner.

I regret very much that I am unable to see you personally, as it is of the utmost importance that these arrangements should be made as soon as possible.

I will await your reply.

Very respectfully,

S. R. JONES,
Major and Quartermaster, U. S. Volunteers, Chief Quartermaster.

[Indorsement.]

FIRST BRIGADE HEADQUARTERS, July 17, 1898.

The request herein made by Major Jones, chief quartermaster, was made by my direction.

THOMAS M. ANDERSON,
Brigadier-General, U. S. Volunteers, Commanding.

The within communication was delivered to me personally by a staff officer of General Aguinaldo, who stated that General A. requested to know whether it was sent by my authority. The above indorsement was placed on the paper, which was then returned to the staff officer.

THOMAS M. ANDERSON,
Brigadier-General, Volunteers, Commanding.

L. R. No. 137. Received July 22, 1898. From Jones, Sam R., chief quartermaster first brigade. Dated at Cavite, P. I., July 20, 1898. Brief: States that it is impossible to secure transportation except upon Señor Aguinaldo's order, in this section, who has an inventory of everything. The natives have removed their wheels and hid them.

HEADQUARTERS FIRST BRIGADE, U. S. EXPEDITIONARY FORCES,

The ADJUTANT-GENERAL UNITED STATES ARMY.

GENERAL: Since reading the President's instructions to General Merritt I think I should state to you that the establishment of a provincial government on our part will probably bring us in conflict with insurgents, now in active hostility to Spain.

The insurgent chief, Aguinaldo, has declared himself dictator and self-appointed president. He has declared martial law and promulgated a minute method of rule and administration under it. We have observed all official military courtesies, and he and his followers express great admiration and gratitude to the great American Republic of the North, yet in many ways they obstruct our purposes and are using every effort to take Manila without us.

I suspect also that Aguinaldo is secretly negotiating with the Spanish authorities, as his confidential aid is in Manila.

The city is strongly fortified and hard to approach in the rainy season. If a bombardment fails we should have the best engineering ability here.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

THOMAS M. ANDERSON,
Brigadier-General, U. S. Volunteers, Commanding.

Señor Don EMILIO AGUINALDO,

GENERAL: The bearer, Maj. J. F. Bell, U. S. Army, was sent by Maj. Gen. Wesley Merritt, U. S. Army, to collect for him, by the time of his personal arrival, certain information concerning the strength and position of the enemy and concerning the topography of the country surrounding Manila.

I would be obliged if you would permit him to see your maps and place at his disposal any information you may have on the above subjects and to facilitate his passage along the lines upon a reconnoissance around Manila on which I propose to send him.

I remain, with great respect, your obedient servant,

THOMAS M. ANDERSON,

L. R. No. 47 (new series). Received August 8, 1898. From Aguinaldo, Emilio. Dated at Bacoor, P. I., near Manila, July 18, 1898. GENERAL: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 18th instant. Your offer of assistance is appreciated and your assurances of good will are most gratifying. The difficulty of collecting supplies, referred to by you, is apprehended and will be considered in fixing compensation.

As a medium of communication with your people, we will be pleased to have you assure them that there will be no confiscation of their property, that our requisition will be reasonable, and that a fair compensation will always be given.

I remain, General, with all respect, your obedient servant,

THOMAS M. ANDERSON,
Brigadier-General, Commanding.

"ADJUTANT-GENERAL, U. S. ARMY,
" Washington, D. C.:

"Since I wrote last Aguinaldo has put in operation an elaborate system of military government under his assumed authority as dictator, and had prohibited any supplies being given us except by his order. As to this last, I have written him that our requisitions on the country for horses, ox-carts, fuel, and bamboo (to make scaling ladders) must be filled, and that he must aid in having them filled. His assumption of civil authority I have ignored, and let him know verbally that I could and would not recognize it, while I did recognize him as a military leader.

"It may seem strange that I have made no formal protest against his proclamation as dictator, his declaration of martial law, and publication and execution of a despotic form of government. I wrote such a protest, but did not publish it, at Admiral Dewey's request and also for fear of wounding the susceptibilities of Major-General Merritt, but I have let it be known in every other way that we do not recognize the dictatorship.

"These people only respect force and firmness. I submit, with all deference, that we have heretofore underrated the native. They are not ignorant, savage tribes, but have a civilization of their own; and though insignificant in appearance are fierce fighters, and for a tropical people they are industrious. A small detail of natives will do more work in a given time than a regiment of volunteers."

Señor Don EMILIO AGUINALDO,
Commanding Philippine Forces.

GENERAL: Replying to your excellency's letter in relation to the property of Don Antonio Osorio, I have the honor to state that if he transferred the property to you personally before the capture of Cavite by our forces, it will give me great pleasure to transfer the property to you, in question. If, however, the property was not transferred to your excellency until after the capture of Cavite, the property would appear to have been public Spanish property, or contraband of war, and subject to capture.

This property will be held subject to investigation, but Don Osorio must make his claim and offer his proof to the commanding officer of the American army.

I observe that your excellency has announced yourself as a dictator and proclaimed martial law. As I am here simply in a military capacity, I have no authority to recognize this assumption. I have no orders from my Government on the subject, and, so far as I can ascertain, your independent status has not been recognized by any foreign power. Your fine intellect must perceive that, happy as I am to see you fighting so bravely and successfully against a common enemy, I can not, without orders, recognize your civil authority.

I remain, with great respect,

THOMAS M. ANDERSON,

GENERAL: When I came here three weeks ago I requested your excellency to give what assistance you could to procure means of transportation for the American army, as it was to fight in the cause of your people.

So far we have received no response.

As you represent your people, I now have the honor to make requisition on you for 500 horses and 50 oxen and ox-carts.

If you can not secure these, I will have to pass you and make requisition directly on the people.

I beg leave to request an answer at your earliest convenience.

L. R. No. 167. Received July 25, 1898. From Aguinaldo, Emilio, general Philippine forces. Dated at Bacoor, P. I., July 24, 1898. HEADQUARTERS FIRST BRIGADE, U. S. EXPEDITIONARY FORCES, Cavite Arsenal, P. I., July 24, 1898.

Señor DON EMILIO AGUINALDO,
Commanding Philippine Forces.

GENERAL: Your favor of the 26th ultimo, [?] in relation to requisitions for cattle, horses, etc., is satisfactory. I regret that there should have been any misunderstanding about it. The people to whom we applied, even for the hiring of carromatos, etc., told our people that they had orders to supply nothing, except by your orders. I am pleased to think that this was a misapprehension on their part.

We are not so unreasonable as to suppose that all we want can be supplied at once or from one place. We may even have to send to other islands. Our quartermaster will establish a depot near the American camp, where he will receive and pay for supplies, and from which he will send out parties to whatever places your excellency will indicate, to transact business with your people.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL, DEPARTMENT OF PACIFIC AND EIGHTH ARMY CORPS,

SIR: Referring to verbal instructions in relation to an issue of rations to Spanish prisoners, I have the honor to state that I have just received a verbal message from General Aguinaldo, conveyed by Capt. Marti Burges, aid-de-camp, to this effect: That he (Aguinaldo) appreciates the kindness that prompts the offer, but fears that if this should become known in Manila, the Spaniards would regard it as an indication that resources were exhausted and would consequently take heart and make renewed resistance.

He will therefore endeavor to increase their rations, but reminds us that prisoners always complain. I made answer verbally that if prisoners were kept here they would have to be well fed, but that he could of course remove them if he saw fit to do so.

Very respectfully,

THOMAS M. ANDERSON,

ADJUTANT-GENERAL, DEPARTMENT OF THE PACIFIC.

SIR: I have the honor to inform you that General Aguinaldo, through a staff officer, complains that the Signal Corps, United States Army, in putting up wires, has interrupted his communications; that he was promised that this interruption would not last more than one day, but that it has now been out of working order for three days; that he is very glad to have the army use his telegraph poles, but it is so important to keep his communication that he earnestly requests prompt action in the matter.

Very respectfully,

THOMAS M. ANDERSON,
Brigadier-General, U. S. Volunteers, Commanding.

AUGUST 10, 1898.

INSTRUCTIONS FROM GENERAL MERRITT BROUGHT BY GENERAL BABCOCK.

1. No rupture with insurgents. This is imperative. Can ask insurgent generals or Aguinaldo for permission to occupy their trenches, but if refused not to use force.

2. No extension of lines as proposed in memorandum of August 9, which will bring partial engagement resulting in loss prior to general assault.

3. One gun can be placed within two hours after receiving the order in the insurgent emplacement on the road facing No. 14; not as good a position as farther to the front and right. Three more guns can be placed in trenches near the beach without precipitating an engagement. Embrasures can be cut through trenches to-night.

4. Troops can occupy trenches on two hours' notice, but are not prepared to make a determined assault without carrying out memorandum of August 9, requiring three days. We can hold trenches against any possible attack and bring eight field guns into action in front of enemy's lines.

CAMP DEWEY (NEAR MANILA),
August 10, 1898.

Gen. EMILIO AGUINALDO,
Commanding Philippine Forces, Bacoor:

Will your excellency consent to my occupation of the intrenchment facing blockhouse No. 14, on the road from Pasay to Singalon? Our object is to place artillery to destroy the blockhouse. If you consent, please issue necessary orders to-night. I shall highly appreciate a prompt reply.

THOMAS M. ANDERSON,
Brigadier-General, Commanding Division.

BACOOR, August 10, 1898.

Brig. Gen. THOMAS M. ANDERSON, U. S. Volunteers, Camp Dewey.

SIR: Replying to your note of this date, in which you ask me the occupation by your troops of the intrenchments facing blockhouse No. 14, on the road from Pasay to Singalon, I have the pleasure to tell you that I [am] giving the necessary orders so that your troops may occupy the mentioned intrenchments, and my troops will pass to the immediate intrenchments or to any other place where they think convenient to intrench themselves.

E. AGUINALDO.

MANILA, P. I., August 13, 1898.

General AGUINALDO, General in Chief, Filipino Forces:

Serious trouble threatening between our forces. Try and prevent it. Your forces should not force themselves in the city until we have received the full surrender. Then we will negotiate with you.

ANDERSON.

[Most urgent.]

PIÑEDA (Received from Bacoor, 10.50 a. m., 13).

General Aguinaldo, president of revolutionary government, Ermita, to General Anderson, Ermita.

I received a telegram. My interpreter is in Cavite; in consequence of this I have not answered till now. My troops are forced by yours by means of threats of violence to retire from positions taken. It is necessary to avoid conflict, which I should lament, that you order your troops that they avoid difficulty with mine, as until now they have conducted themselves as brothers to take Manila. I have given strict orders to my chiefs that they preserve strict respect to American forces and to aid them in case they are attacked by a common enemy.

I do not doubt that the good relations and friendship which unite us will be continued if your soldiers correspond to the conduct imposed upon mine.

E. AGUINALDO.

[Memorandum without date. In General Anderson's handwriting.]

If you apparently have been treated harshly, it is from military necessity and not for want of confidence.

We had to take Manila to effect the purpose of our war.

While we may admit the justice of your insurrection, to prevent all possible complications still it is thought judicious and necessary to have only one army in Manila at once.

[In General Merritt's handwriting.]

The Government of the United States, you may be assured, which as its agent I can make no promises, will deal fairly with the Filipinos, but we must now insist for the good of all there shall be no joint occupation of Manila.

NOTE.—This note is apparently the draft of a telegram sent in reply to General Aguinaldo's message dated 10.50 a. m., August 13, and marked "Most urgent."

BACOOR, August 14, 1898.

General ANDERSON:

My troops who have been for so long besieging Manila have always been promised that they could appear in it, as you know and can not deny, and for this reason and on account of the many sacrifices made of money and lives, I do not consider it prudent to issue orders to the contrary, as they might be disobeyed against my authority. Besides, I hope that you will allow the troops to enter because we have given proofs, many times, of our friendship, ceding our positions at Parañaque, Pasay, Singalon, and Matubig. Nevertheless, if it seems best to you, and in order to enter into a frank and friendly understanding and avoid any disagreeable conflict before the eyes of the Spaniards, I will commission Don Felipe Buencamino and others, who will to-day go out from our lines to hold a conference with you, and that they will be safe during the conference.

E. AGUINALDO.

DEAR GENERAL: Not being able to leave government, have conferred special powers to ——— Buencamino, Araneta, and others, who left here for you at 8 o'clock this morning.

E. AGUINALDO.

NOTE.—This document was received in the War Department in the form in which it is here given, and in which it was printed in the report of the Major-General Commanding the Army, 1899, volume 2, page 343. It is found not to have been correctly rendered in Spanish and it is evident that it should have read as follows:

[From Aguinaldo, Emilio, dated Bacoor, P. I., August 15, 1898.]

Mis comisionados me dicen que V. ha prometido enviarme cuanto antes el plan del radio que quieren Vds. ocupar; sin embargo irán allí mañana mis comisionados para hacer arreglos, después de los cuales veré si conviene la retirada de mis tropas. Deseo siempre conservar la amistad y una buena inteligencia.

A translation of it reads:

[From Aguinaldo, Emilio, dated at Bacoor, P. I., August 15, 1898.]

My commissioners tell me that you have promised to send me as soon as possible the map of the zone that you wish to occupy; without doubt my commissioners will come to-morrow to make the arrangements, after which I shall see if it is possible to withdraw my troops. I desire always to maintain friendship and a good understanding.

[Memorandum.]

General Merritt remarks in relation to the telegrams you sent us that it would be well to inform General Aguinaldo as follows:

We can not permit joint occupation of the city. The city surrendered to the United States forces, and all the headway that you have been able to make was due entirely to the assistance furnished you by the United States. We now hold the city, which includes all the outlying districts of the city properly within the city limits. We most earnestly and sincerely hope and trust that there may be no conflict between us, but we are prepared to enforce our orders in this matter, and expect from time to time large additions to our strength. We desire most sincerely to remain friendly with the Filipinos, and have nothing but their best interests at heart in all our dealings with them.

We have given orders to our troops as well as to General Aguinaldo that there shall be no violence whatever.

(NOTE.—Apparently a memorandum prepared for General Anderson by General Babcock.)

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE PACIFIC
AND EIGHTH ARMY CORPS,
Manila, P. I., August 15, 1898.

Brig. Gen. T. M. ANDERSON,

U. S. Volunteers, Commanding Second Division, Eighth Army Corps.

SIR: The commanding general directs that in any arrangement made with the insurgents in regard to retiring from the vicinity of the city, care will be taken to make them understand that they must not hold a line encircling the city. The commanding general will not tolerate a line of troops or works which would give the appearance that our troops were hemmed in by a besieging force. The insurgents may billet their commands in villages in the vicinity, but under no circumstances will they be allowed to hold a line as above indicated.

Very respectfully,

J. B. BABCOCK, Adjutant-General.

NOTES TO GENERAL ANDERSON.

First. We concede the military disposition of the town of Manila, always that there be understood by said town, the jurisdiction of the old municipal limits or walled city and its suburbs, Binondo, Tondo, Santa Cruz, Quiapo, Sampaloc, San Miguel, Concepcion, Ermita, Malate, and Paco or San Fernando de Dilao.

Second. We concede the source of potable water always that [on condition that] the ayuntamiento of Manila bear the cost of repairing the machinery and piping, and current expenses of the machinery, such as coal, and the pay of the working force. We will be responsible for order and security at that place.

Third. We ask free navigation for the Patria, with entrance and exit to the port and river Pasig, and that our products be admitted free of duty, and free entrance to and departure from the city to all the Filipinos, the arms of our chiefs and officers being respected.

Fourth. The sacrifices that we have made in contribution to the siege and capture of Manila being notorious, it is just that we should have a part of the booty of war.

Fifth. We ask for our use the palace at Malacanan and the convents at Malate, Ermita, and Paco or San Fernando de Dilao.

Sixth. We ask that the civil offices of Manila be filled by North Americans and never by Spaniards. But if General Merritt should have need of Filipinos, we would be pleased that he concede to our president, General Don Emilio Aguinaldo, the right of nominating those Filipinos who would be most energetic and apt. The jurisdiction of the authorities of Manila will not be recognized outside of the municipal radius [limits].

Seventh. The American forces can not [will not be permitted to] approach nor pass through our military positions without permission of the respective commanders, and all positions outside of the municipal limits shall be evacuated. Spaniards who pass through our lines without permission of the commander will be considered as spies.

Eighth. We ask the return of the arms of the 150 military [men] who were disarmed by the American officers.

Ninth. All arrangements [negotiations] must be made in writing and afterwards ratified by both generals in chief.

Tenth. We are pleased, lastly, to be certain [to affirm] that our own commissions and positions do not signify acknowledgment on our part of North American sovereignty in these islands any more [or longer] than the necessity of actual war [demands].

NOTE.—This is presumably a memorandum drawn up and submitted to General Anderson by the commissioners (of Aguinaldo) mentioned in the preceding telegram. Both the pumping station (at Santolan) and the reservoir (at San Juan del Monte) had been taken from the Spaniards by and were in the possession of the insurgents prior to our entry into Manila.

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE PACIFIC
AND EIGHTH ARMY CORPS,
Manila, P. I., August 20, 1898.

The COMMANDING GENERAL OF THE PHILIPPINE FORCES.

SIR: The commanding general of the American forces has received a memorandum addressed to General Anderson, which purports to contain a statement of certain desires on the part of the Filipinos.

As most of them seem to be reasonable, it gives him much pleasure to say that he agrees to the following:

The forces of the Filipinos are to withdraw entirely beyond the jurisdiction of the old municipal limits or walled city and its suburbs, Binondo, Tondo, Santa Cruz, Quiapo, Sampaloc, San Miguel, Concepcion, Ermita, and Paco, or San Fernando de Dilao. The Filipinos will repair at once whatever may be needed in order that the water may be turned on to the city, and the expenses of the repairs and current expenses of the works will be paid by the city. The commander of the Filipinos agrees to be responsible for order and security at the pumping station.

Permission for the free navigation of the Patria to entrance and exit of the port and river passage, and that country products for sale be admitted free of duty, is granted.

Free entrance and departure from the city of all Filipinos without arms is granted. Chiefs and officers of the Filipino army may, as a matter of courtesy, wear their side arms, though this is deprecated as possibly leading to disturbance of quiet of city.

No pistols should be carried. The major-general having taken for his own use the palace at Malacanan, the request that it be turned over to the Filipinos can not be granted, and the convents at Malate, Ermita, and Paco can not be turned over and must be evacuated. The civil offices at Manila are being filled as rapidly as possible by Americans, and the commanding general will be glad to receive recommendations for appointments to office of such Filipinos as may be considered fitted for the duties of subordinate officers.

American soldiers without arms are to be allowed to pass through the Filipino's position outside the city, just as the Filipinos without arms are permitted to enter the city.

The return of the arms of the 150 men will be granted by the general in immediate command.

The opening of the waterworks at once, and the retirement of your soldiers from the positions now occupied within the municipal jurisdiction, will be sufficient notice on your part that everything is satisfactorily arranged on the terms of this letter. With the sincere hope that it may be speedily accomplished, I am

Very respectfully,

W. MERRITT,
Major-General Commanding.

NOTE.—I delivered this letter the day it was written, and was to verbally convey the contents of the memorandum which follows the answer thereto at the same time; but Aguinaldo was absent from his headquarters at the time the letter was delivered and I did not mention the contents of the memorandum, except that portion relating to opening the waterworks immediately. His associates claimed that General A. had already ordered this done (and I feel certain that he had). They promised that it should be done at once, and sent a message to again order it done at once while I was there. I made an engagement to see General Aguinaldo at 11 a. m. the next day.

J. F. BELL.

BACOOR, August 21, 1898.

The COMMANDING GENERAL OF THE AMERICAN FORCES IN THE PACIFIC.

SIR: The commanding general of the Philippine forces has been favored by your excellency with a letter of the 28th instant, containing the conditions that you will accept from the Filipinos provided the latter abandon the posts that they now occupy within the suburbs of Manila. The aforesaid letter speaks of permission for the free navigation of the Patria, and as the Filipinos have no boat of that name the undersigned takes the liberty of clearing up that point, as he considers it understood that the Filipinos desire the protection of the American squadron for the free navigation of all their boats, and free entrance and exit in the ports that are in charge of the same.

Moreover, in substitution for the conditions proposed (in a previous communication), which the aforesaid letter does not mention, the Filipinos desire to go on occupying that part of the suburbs of San Fernando de Dilao or Paco, adjacent to the east side of the bridge and creek of the same name, the undersigned answering for the foreign interests which exist in that district. They also desire that if in consequence of the treaty of peace which may be concluded between the United States of America and Spain the Philippines should continue under the domination of the latter, the American forces should give up all the suburbs to the Filipinos in consideration of the cooperation lent by the latter in the capture of Manila.

With these conditions and others which you have already accepted in the aforementioned letter the undersigned promises in the name of the Filipinos to evacuate the positions they now hold in the suburbs; and the acceptance of the same on the part of your excellency will be one more proof that you have in consideration the innumerable lives sacrificed in the siege of Manila, and that you are able to appreciate the unqualified friendship which he, the undersigned, will try to preserve at all costs.

Very respectfully, EMILIO AGUINALDO.

NOTE.—This answer was already prepared and was handed me on my arrival at 11 a. m. Therefore it was prepared before the contents of the memorandum which follows were made known to Aguinaldo and his associates.

[Memorandum for Major Bell.]

1. In case you find Aguinaldo inclined to be generous in his arrangements with us you may communicate to him the following:

(1) [a] That if a meeting between himself and the commanding general here could be arranged I would be very glad to meet him and have a talk with him upon the general situation.

(2) That it is of the utmost importance to us that the water supply of the city be at once turned on, as the rainy season having suspended it is important that the sewers be flushed and the city gotten in fair sanitary condition.

(3) That I have every disposition to represent liberally the Government at Washington, which I know is inclined to deal fairly with him and his people; but not knowing what the policy of that Government will be I am not prepared to make any promises except that in the event of the United States withdrawing from these islands care will be taken to leave him in as good condition as he was found by the forces of the Government. [b]

(4) That I agree with Mr. Williams, the consul, in thinking that it would be well for him and some of his leaders to visit Washington and represent the case to the American authorities. I feel sure that good would result from this course. However, it is not considered necessary.

(5) It is my intention to depose the Spanish officials from all important positions hitherto held by them, and this already has been done to a considerable extent. I will be very glad to receive recommendations from him for Filipinos who are especially trustworthy, though I can not agree to make any appointments in the immediate future. The American officers and men will be employed as far as is practicable in conducting the affairs of the municipality.

(6) I expect daily a considerable accession to the forces which I now have here, and it is my design to lodge them in Cavite provided room can be found. In conclusion I sincerely trust that there will be no friction in the future between our commands, and that the good feeling that we have made every attempt to foster will be encouraged by Aguinaldo and his chiefs. For myself and the officers and men under my command I can say that we have conceived a high respect for the ability and qualities of the Filipinos, and if called upon by the Government to express an opinion it will be to that effect.

[a] Aguinaldo told me to thank General Merritt for his kind offer and to say that just as soon as his health would permit of such a thing (he had been sick) he would send a staff officer to General Merritt to ascertain when it would be convenient to meet him. He had not sent the staff officer, as far as I know, when General Merritt left. Soon after General Merritt's arrival he sent a staff officer on board the Newport to arrange for an interview with him, but the General sent back word that he was exceedingly pressed by business just then, but as soon as he could he would send him word when he could see him.

[b] I was pressed to explain further just what meaning General Merritt meant to convey by the underscored portion of this remark, but I replied that I had repeated the language General Merritt had used to me and I preferred they should seek any further explanation from him, lest I might unwittingly fall into error if I undertook to explain the meaning myself. Their lack of definiteness and my unwillingness to comment upon the language seemed to arouse their apprehensions and suspicions. They have been trying ever since to obtain in writing some definite promise on this subject.

BACOOR, April (August) 21, 1898.

Without losing a moment, you will proceed to open [start] the machinery of the water works, being sorry that up to the present my orders have not been completed [fulfilled], for said object, and I expect that the present will be immediately completed [fulfilled].

I inform you that this order will be carried to you by Majors Bemont (engineer) and Bell, accompanied by an assistant, Mr. Infante, with the object of examining said machinery.

E. AGUINALDO.

NOTE.—Aguinaldo and his associates seemed much gratified when I made known to them the contents of the preceding memorandum. I asked for a written order to the officer in charge of the forces holding the reservoir and pumping station, to be delivered by myself. The above was prepared and handed me. Captain Infante, one of Aguinaldo's adjutants, was also sent with me to make sure that his object (the immediate opening of the works), was accomplished. On arriving at the pumping station next day, I found that the delay had been due not to official obstruction, but to the inability of these mañana people to overcome the inertia incident to starting up machinery which had lain idle for some months.

OFFICE OF THE MILITARY GOVERNOR AND
HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE PACIFIC,
Manila, August 24, 1898.

Gen. EMILIO AGUINALDO,
Bacoor, Philippine Islands.

SIR: The commanding general of the American land forces has the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of August 21, and in reply to inform you as follows:

The error which you speak of which needs clearing up as to the navigation of the Patria, seems to have arisen from a request on your part that the Filipinos of the country should be permitted to trade freely, and navigate without obstruction the streams and bays surrounding Manila. So far as the products of the country are concerned this has been acceded to, and there will be no obstruction placed by the American land forces in the way of a free trade in the products of the country between the residents of this island and the city of Manila.

The protection which you ask from the American squadron rests with Rear-Admiral Dewey and it is for him to determine whether it can be granted or not.

A commission of your appointment, which had an interview with the undersigned about the 15th instant, agreed that if a line were designated by a proper commission on my part that the armed Filipinos should retire beyond it. While this had been done in some instances it has been neglected in others, and it is now desired to call your attention to the fact that the occupation of the suburbs of Manila or any part of them can not be acceded to by the undersigned. It has already been pointed out to you that dual occupation of Manila was impossible in the interests of either party; and as the troops of the United States are in possession of Manila, I must insist upon the carrying out of the original agreement between your commissioners and myself. I am the more insistent in this particular because recent instructions from my home Government contemplate this course.

So far as any promises as to what should be done in the event of a conclusion of a treaty between the United States and Spain is concerned, it is utterly impossible for me as the military representative only of the United States to make any promises such as you request. As you have already been informed, you may depend upon the good will of the Americans out here, and the Government of which you already know the beneficence, to determine these matters in the future.

This answer to your communication has been delayed by a press of business which could not very well be neglected.

I thank you in the name of my country for the good will expressed toward it, and feel assured that nothing will occur to mar the friendly feeling that now exists. It is for the interests of all that the good feeling that now exists between us should be carefully fostered and maintained.

Very respectfully, WESLEY MERRITT, Major-General.

[Telegram received from Aguinaldo, 5.13 a. m., August 25, 1898. To General Merritt: Concerning trouble between Filipino and American forces at Cavite.]

I have received notice of the death of one American soldier and three wounded. It is said that this happened by their being drunk. They fired in the air in the beginning but afterwards fought among themselves. General Anderson says death has been occasioned by my people on account of which I have ordered investigations to ascertain the truth and demonstrate that the Filipinos try to be in harmony with the Americans. If I shall find any one of my people guilty I shall order severe punishment.

Yours, respectfully, AGUINALDO.

[Reply to telegram received from Aguinaldo, 5.13 a. m., August 25, 1898.]

MALACANAN, August 25, 1898—3.05 a. m.

General AGUINALDO,

Commanding Philippine Forces, Bacoor:

Thanks for your telegram. I am glad to learn of your intention to investigate fully. I am desirous with you that harmony should prevail, and request you always in event of trouble to communicate directly with me, as you have so wisely done this time.

MERRITT.

REVOLUTIONARY GOVERNMENT OF THE PHILIPPINES,
Bacoor, August 27, 1898.

Gen. WESLEY MERRITT, Manila.

MY DEAR SIR: Knowing the contents of your letter of the 24th instant, I can not do less than manifest my surprise at knowing that you have formed the idea that my commissioners compromised themselves in the conference of the 15th, to retire my troops outside of the line that you would designate.

I understood, and still understand, as well as the commissioners, that the evacuation of my troops of the posts that they occupy to-day on the outskirts of the city would take place when the proposed conditions were accepted by you, among which figured the condition that the agreement [treaty] should be in writing to be valid; for which reason, not having yet accepted some of the propositions made at the time, nor those that were substituted in my previous communication, I do not think that up to now I have contracted said obligation.

If I have permitted the use of the water before the formalization of the treaty, it was more to demonstrate that I am disposed to sacrifice to friendship everything that does not prejudice too much the rights of the Philippines. I comprehend as well as yourself the inconvenience of a double occupation of the city and its suburbs, given the conditions stipulated in the capitulation with the Spaniards; but you ought to understand without the long siege sustained by my forces you might have obtained possession of the ruins of the city, but never the rendition of the Spanish forces, who could have retired to the interior towns.

I do not complain of the disowning of our help in the mentioned capitulation, although justice resents it greatly, and I have to bear the well-founded blame of my people. I do not insist upon the retention of all the positions conquered by my forces within the city limits at the cost of much blood, of indescribable fatigues, and much money. I promise to retire, then, to the following lines:

In Malate, the continuation of the Calzada of Singalon to the bridge that joins the road; from this bridge in straight line to that of Paco; from this last bridge, following the creek Paco and leaving outside the suburb of Tanque, to the river Pasig; following this river and entering by the creek that goes to the bridge of Aviles; from this bridge following the road (Calzada) of the same name and that of Santa Mesa, that are the dividing lines between Sampaloc and the village of Pandacan, to the jurisdictional limit of the suburbs of Sampaloc, Trozo, and Tondo.

But before I retire to this line I pray you to reclaim from Admiral Dewey the protection of our ships for free navigation, and permit me to insist, if you wish, upon the restitution of the position that we are now going to leave if, in the treaty of peace to be celebrated between Spain and the United States, they acknowledge the domination of Spain in the Philippines. I expect as well that you order the American forces outside of the above line to retire within the city, as already agreed to. I do not believe that the acceptation of the conditions proposed will prejudice the smallest right of your people, as it signifies nothing more than the acknowledgment of a part of the rights of a friendly people.

I am now compelled to insist upon the said conditions to quiet the complaints of my chiefs and soldiers, who have exposed their lives and abandoned their interests during the siege of Manila. I hope that this time you will manifest the spirit of justice that pertains to such a free and admirably constituted Government as that of the United States of America.

Very respectfully, EMILIO AGUINALDO.

NOTE.—No position whatever, with a possible exception of Paco (San Fernando de Dilao), were conquered within the city limits by Aguinaldo's forces. Definite information can be procured of General MacArthur as to whether the insurgents or our forces forced the Spanish to retire from that place.

The Calzada á Aviles merges at the crossroads, [where] there is really a round open space with a fountain in the center and called the "Plaza de Rotondo," into the road to Santa Mesa, marked on the map "A" Mariquina, to which place it also goes. The First Colorado Regiment has a picket post on this road a half mile beyond the limit mentioned by Aguinaldo.

I gather from the statement of many naval officers that Aguinaldo was invited here and given much assistance and encouragement by Admiral Dewey, who of course did not anticipate any complication, and probably never supposed Aguinaldo would at once assume an independence of American control. He has been much concerned and displeased by Aguinaldo's course of conduct, and told me several days ago that he had ceased to recognize him in any way, and had refused any longer to receive his representatives. This prayer to you to "reclaim" Admiral Dewey's protection is doubtless due to this change of attitude on the Admiral's part, who, if permitted to follow his own inclinations, will not only grant Aguinaldo no protection, but will seize boats and launches at the first overt act.

Attention is invited to General Merritt's promise (page 11, paragraph 3), made known to Aguinaldo by me verbally, namely, that in the event of the United States withdrawing from these islands care would be taken to leave Aguinaldo in as good condition as he was found by the forces of the Government. From a remark the General made to me I inferred he intended to interpret the expression "forces of the Government" to mean the naval forces should future contingencies necessitate such an interpretation. At the time of the entry of the American forces into Manila, which was accomplished without assistance from the insurgents being either needed, requested, received, or desired, the insurgents held the following lines: Joining onto the American trenches facing Mytubig (the Indian name for the locality at the south end of Malate, in the vicinity of the old fort and bridge), their trenches extended in a large circle around and outside of the Spanish line of blockhouses. The Spanish held Santa Ana, Concordia, Paco, Singalon, and Malate; then the line dropped back to blockhouse No. 8, to McLeod's house in Santa Mesa, and continued on around to the bay at Bancu Say, including within it all the suburbs on the northern side of Manila. The lines are indicated in map accompanying my report of July 27. Parañaque, Pasay, San Pedro Macati, Mandaloian, Pasig, Guadalupe, Partero, Santolan (where is situated the pumping station), San Juan del Monte (where the reservoir is located), Cabiao, Santol, San Francisco del Monte, Caloocan, and Malabon are the villages, towns, and places (immediately in rear of the insurgent trenches and positions) where the insurgent forces were generally located. After our entry into the city they all advanced their positions and encroached upon our outposts without anyone's authority or permission save their own, and in the face of repeated objections on the part of General Merritt. They can lay no just claim to having conquered from the Spanish the positions now held, except those at the pumping station and reservoir. Prior to the 13th of August they had for weeks been straining every resource in an effort to capture Manila without the assistance of Americans and before they got ready, without making the slightest progress. Of course, they could never have made the progress they did in investing the city had it not been for the destruction of the Spanish fleet by Admiral Dewey, but they did do much hard fighting and did drive the Spanish from positions in the provinces immediately surrounding Manila into the confines of the city itself. This credit they are entitled to.

OFFICE OF THE MILITARY GOVERNOR AND HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE PACIFIC,
Manila, August 30, 1898.

Colonel BARRY,

Adjutant-General Eighth Army Corps.

DEAR COLONEL: Inclosed you will find a letter from General Aguinaldo and a blue print of Manila. The letter was brought by his aid two days ago, and he was informed that a reply would be sent within four days. The matter should have immediate attention as General Merritt has not been able to take it up, owing to his hurried departure. The letters referred to by Aguinaldo from General Merritt will be found in the press copy book at the department headquarters and here.

The demand now made by Aguinaldo is to retain his people just outside of the interior black pencil mark on the map. The outside pencil marks indicate the positions that General Merritt desired to have the insurgents withdraw to. I inferred from what the aid said that what Aguinaldo particularly desires is, that in case his requests are are not granted, that reasons are to be given which he can use to satisfy his people. The trouble seems to be that he does not think it prudent to give positive orders for his people to withdraw from the city.

Very respectfully,

——— ———, Chief of Staff.

[Telegram.]

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL,
Manila, P. I., August 31, 1898.

General AGUINALDO, Bacoor, P. I.:

Referring to promise made by General Merritt to reply to your letter of August 27 within four days, I desire to state that General Merrett was unexpectedly ordered away and had not opportunity to reply. Being unacquainted with the situation I must take time to inform myself before replying, which I will do at the earliest opportunity.

OTIS, Commanding.

OFFICE OF THE U. S. MILITARY GOVERNOR IN THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS,
Manila, P. I., September 8, 1898.

The COMMANDING GENERAL OF THE PHILIPPINE FORCES.

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 27th ultimo, addressed to General Merritt, my predecessor, and by him transferred to me on the eve of his departure from Manila. By telegram of the 31st ultimo, I informed you of General Merritt's hurried departure in obedience to orders from my Government; that his necessarily hurried preparations did not permit him to make reply to the communication and that such duty devolved upon me, which I would perform at the earliest opportunity and as soon as I could acquaint myself with the condition of affairs of which (as I had but recently arrived) I had but slight knowledge. To my telegrams you made a most courteous response. Having now carefully considered the situation, I have the honor to make reply as follows:

First. In your note of the 27th ultimo you are pleased to manifest surprise that the United States military governor should have reached an erroneous conclusion as to the result of a conference with your commissioners on August 15, as apparently manifested by his letter to you of August 24. I do not know the extent of any conversation which may have been indulged in at that conference and the nature of the impression which may have been conveyed. Referring to a written memorandum in my possession, which purports to contain the substance of propositions discussed at the time, I find that certain concessions were made by the commissioners in expected return for specific privileges to be conferred, and as there has not been a mutual agreement concerning these matters between the interested parties I do not understand that any obligations have arisen by reason of that conference.

Second. I note with pleasure your allusion to your very friendly disposition toward my Government, as manifested by your prompt attendance to our request for a supply of water; also your expression as to the inconvenience of a dual occupation of the city of Manila, and I do not forget that the revolutionary forces under your command have made many sacrifices in the interest of civil liberty and for the welfare of your people, and to this I will be pleased to allude hereafter.

Third. In connection with your remark as to the injustice of the United States in not properly appreciating your assistance in the capture of Manila, I beg a full consideration on your part of the mandatory conditions which accompany the occupation, which I am sure you fully appreciate, but to which I will respectfully invite your attention in a subsequent portion of this reply.

Fourth. You designate certain lines within the suburbs of the city of Manila to which you promise to retire your troops, and name as conditions precedent—first, protection to your shipping by the United States Navy and the free navigation of your vessels within the waters of United States occupation; second, restitution to your forces of all positions which are now occupied by your troops in the event that treaty stipulations between the United States and Spain surrender to the last-named Government the territory occupied by the former; and, thirdly that United States troops now occupying positions beyond the lines which you name shall retire within the same.

A discussion of your proposition to hold jointly with the United States Government the city of Manila involves consideration of some of the other concessions you desire to be made, and to that I will at once refer. I wish to present the matter, in the first instance, in its legal aspect, although from remarks contained in former correspondence I am of the opinion that you are fully aware how untenable the proposition is. The United States and Spain were and are belligerent parties to a war, and were so recognized by the civilized world. In the course of events the entire city of Manila, then in full possession of the Spanish forces, was surrendered to the first-named belligerent power. The articles of agreement and capitulation gave to the United States Government full occupancy of the city and defenses of Manila, and that Government obligated itself to insure the safety of the lives and property of the inhabitants of the city to the best of its ability. By all the laws of war and all international precedents United States authority over Manila and its defenses is full and supreme, and they can not escape the obligations which they have assumed.

By the able representatives who have charge of the interests of the Philippine revolutionary forces this conclusion will be admitted to be incontrovertible and argument on the point unnecessary. Can they who seek civil and religious liberty and invite the approval and assistance of the civilized world afford to enter upon a course of action which the law of nations must condemn?

But conceding, as you do, the strictly legal right of my Government to hold and administer the affairs of the city of Manila and all of its suburbs (I thus conclude from expressions contained in former correspondence and from my appreciation of your intellectual attainments) you base your proposal of joint occupation upon supposed equitable grounds, referring to the sacrifices your troops have made and the assistance they have rendered the American forces in the capture of Manila. It is well known that they have made personal sacrifices, enduring great hardships and have rendered aid. But is it forgotten that my Government has swept the Spanish navy from the seas of both hemispheres, sent back to Spain the Spanish army and navy forces recently embarked for your destruction and for the secure holding of its Philippine possessions; that since May 1 last its navy has held the city of Manila at its mercy, but out of consideration of humanity refused to bombard it, preferring to send troops to demand surrender and thereby preserve the lives and property of its inhabitants? Is it forgotten that the destruction of the Spanish navy and the retention of Spanish armed men in its European possessions has opened up to you the ports of the island of Luzon and held Spain helpless to meet its refractory subjects?

As between my Government and the revolutionary forces of the Philippines, I fail to discover on what principle of common justice a joint occupation of Manila can be maintained. Equity, in the legal acceptance of the term, would most assuredly condemn it. A sense of justice should, in my opinion, have prompted the revolutionary forces to aid those of my country in every way possible in return for the great assistance they have received. You remark in substance, that had you not prevented the Spanish forces from retreating from the city, the United States would have received naught but its ruined streets and buildings. Possibly; but had all Spanish subjects, elsewhere and here, been the contented subjects of Spain, war between it and my Government would not have been waged. It was undertaken by the United States for humanity's sake, and not for their aggrandizement, or for any National profit they expected to receive, and they have expended millions of treasure and hundreds of the lives of their citizens in the interests of the Spanish suffering colonists.

Apart from all legal and equitable considerations, and those having their origin in personally-conceived ideas of justice, I wish respectfully to call your attention to the impracticability of maintaining a joint occupation of Manila and its suburbs; and in this I know that I shall have the approval of your excellent judgment. It would be extremely difficult to prevent friction between our respective forces, which might result in unfortunate consequences, labor as we may for continued harmonious relations. Located in close proximity, irresponsible members of our organizations, by careless or impertinent action, might be the means of inciting grave disturbances; and in this connection I cite the recent shooting affair at Cavite, which still requires investigation. There might also arise conflicts of authority between our respective officers. Even now, within precincts in entire actual possession of our troops, I find that permits are given to citizens, who are styled local presidents, to make arrests, to carry arms, etc., in violation of our instructions and authority, and that several cases of kidnaping have taken place. In pursuance of our obligations to maintain, in so far as we can, domestic tranquillity, our officers have arrested suspected parties, and they have asserted (with what element of truth I know not) that the insurgent forces are the offenders. I have declined to accept their statements, as I prefer to believe the contrary, although it would appear that officers connected with these forces have issued the permits to which I allude. Such interference with our administration of civil affairs must eventually result in conflict.

Again (reverting to a legal aspect of the subject) the affairs of the entire city corporation must be administered from a common center. The trust accepted by the Government from those who surrendered actual possession confers a discretionary power which can neither be shared nor delegated. The validity of this conclusion will be readily understood by yourself and associates as a well-established legal proposition, and does not require argument. And here permit me to remark upon a view of the subject you have advocated in support of the plea for dual occupation of the city's suburbs. Your forces, you say in substance, should have a share in the booty resulting from the conquest of the city, on account of hardships endured and assistance rendered. The facts on which you base your conclusion granted, the conclusion under the laws of war, which are binding on my Government, does not follow. It has never recognized the existence of spoils of war, denominated booty, as have many European Governments. No enemy's property of any kind, public or private, can be seized, claimed, or awarded to any of its officers and men; and should they attempt to appropriate any of it for their individual benefit, they would be very severely punished through military tribunals, on which have been conferred by law very sweeping jurisdiction. The enemy's money and property (all that is not necessary to be expended in administering local affairs in the enemy's surrendered territory) must be preserved for final arbitrament or settlement by and between the supreme authorities of the nations concerned. My troops can not acquire booty nor any individual benefits by reason of capture of an enemy's territory. I make this comment believing you hold erroneous opinions in respect to individual advantages which occupation bestows.

I request your indulgence while I briefly consider the concessions you ask us to make as conditions precedent to the retirement of your forces to the line indicated by your note of the 27th ultimo. The first is protection to your shipping and free navigation to your vessels. Neither the extent of protection nor the limit of free navigation you request is understood. Certainly you could not mean protection on the high seas or in ports not in the rightful possession of the United States. That, as you are fully aware, could only be effected by a treaty of guaranty following international recognition of the belligerent rights of a Philippine revolutionary government. While the existing armistice continues the United States are in rightful possession, in so far as the navigable waters of the Philippine Islands are concerned, only of the Bay of Manila and its navigable tributaries. Within the same all vessels of trade and commerce and the war vessels of recognized national powers sail freely as long as the sovereignty of my Government is not assailed nor the peace of the locality threatened. In this respect whatever concessions are extended by way of relaxation of trade restrictions incident to war to citizens of these islands will be extended to all alike; no discrimination in this regard is intended or will be permitted. Admiral Dewey exercises supervisory jurisdiction over all navy matters, and they are in no way related to the duties conferred upon me by law. Nor would it avail should I seek his consent for greater latitude of action, for even if disposed to grant special concessions he could not do so, and I doubt if the supreme authority of my Government could now, under the prevailing truce with Spain, invest him with the requisite powers to do so and at the same time preserve its international obligations.

The second concession named by you is restitution of positions in the city of Manila to your forces, in case a treaty of peace remands to Spain the territory surrendered by her in the late capitulation articles; and the third and last is a promise to retire our troops within the lines indicated by you as the lines which you desire your troops to remain permanently. These propositions having a kindred nature may be considered together, and indeed have already been impliedly answered. From previous statements of facts and logical conclusions made and stated in this communication, concerning the nature of the obligations resting upon the United States with regard to the territory to which they have the legal right of possession under contracting articles with Spain, it is evident that neither in law nor morals can the concessions be made. I would be powerless to grant them in any aspect of the case, being nothing more than an agent to carry out the instructions of the executive head of my Government, and not being vested with discretionary powers to determine matters of such moment. In the present instance I am not only powerless to accede to your request but have been strictly enjoined by my Government, mindful of its international promises and national honor, which it has never broken or sacrificed, not to concede joint occupation of the city and suburbs of Manila, and am directed specially to preserve the peace and protect persons and property within the territory surrendered under the terms of the Spanish capitulation. These mandates I must obey.

Thus have I endeavored with all candor and sincerity, holding nothing in reserve, to place before you the situation as understood by me, and I doubt not by the Republic which I represent. I have not been instructed as to what policy it intends to pursue with regard to its legitimate holdings here, and hence I am unable to give you any information on the subject. That it will have a care, and labor conscientiously for the welfare of your people I sincerely believe. It remains for you, beneficiaries of its sacrifices, to adopt a course of action which will manifest your good intentions and show to the world the principles which actuate your motives.

You and your associates could not regret more than I any conflict between our forces which would tend to excite the citizens of my country, who are always a unit in action when its sovereignty is attacked or when its rights to fulfill its international obligations are called into question. Then they never count cost; and, as you are fully aware, resources are abundant. Rather than see the ships of the Navy of the United States controlling the navigable waters of these islands and its armies devastating their territory, I would greatly prefer to advise my Government that there is no longer need to send more of its troops to this section of country, and that those whom it holds waiting on its Pacific slope can be remanded to their homes or employed elsewhere, as it may determine.

It only remains for me to respectfully notify you that I am compelled by my instructions to demand that your armed forces evacuate the entire city of Manila, including its suburbs and defenses, and that I shall be obliged to take action with that end in view within a very short period of time should you decline to comply with my Government's demands; and I hereby serve notice upon you that unless your troops are withdrawn beyond the lines of the city's defenses before Thursday, the 15th instant, I shall be obliged to resort to forcible action, and that my Government will hold you responsible for any unfortunate consequences that may ensue.

Permit me to believe that my confidence in the sound judgment and patriotism of yourself and associates is not misplaced.

You will please pardon me for my apparent unnecessary delay in replying to your communication of the 27th ultimo, but the press of duties connected with the administration of the affairs of the city is my excuse.

In conclusion, I beg to inform you that I have conferred freely with Admiral Dewey upon the contents of this communication, and am delegated by him to state that he fully approves of the same in all respects; that the commands of our Government compel us to act therein indicated; and that between our respective forces there will be unanimity and complete concert of action.

I am, with great respect, your obedient servant,

E. S. OTIS,
Major-General, U. S. Army, and U. S. Military Governor in the Philippines.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL, Washington:

Situation Luzon somewhat improved. Influence of Filipinos of education and property, not desiring independent government, but hostile to Spain, gaining ascendency in revolutionary councils. Believe Spanish residents constantly plotting to inaugurate hostilities between our forces and insurgents; freedom press permitted but greatly abused, many articles published entirely devoid truth; have no effect here. Insurgent authority crude, information and application acknowledged by inhabitants in two-thirds Luzon, North. Aguinaldo moderately recognized. Will make endeavors to gain possession of Spanish priests; now treated better than formerly. Do not anticipate trouble with insurgents; promise nothing but enforcement of law, and no encouragement given for American assistance or protection in southern islands; Spanish authority precarious, confined mostly to stations of troops. Insurgents there not allied to those in Luzon; appear determined to resist Spanish rule; would welcome that of United States. These complications seriously affect interisland commerce and diminish revenue receipts half million Mexican monthly. Affairs progressing favorable, though sick report increasing, owing mostly to carelessness enlisted men; health of officers good; condition of city and facilities for quartering troops improving; fevers decreasing; intestinal troubles about same; many slight ailments; smallpox apparently arrested. During month 28 deaths, 8 smallpox, 8 typhoid fever, 5 malarial and intestinal complaints, 3 accidental.

Hon. RUSSELL A. ALGER, Washington, D. C.:

Intense anxiety prevails among relatives and friends thousand Colorado men at Manila. Statements signed by dozens of credible men of regiment allege bad and insufficient food, poor hospitals, wretched sanitary arrangements, and much disease. One statement signed by forty-five men says: "Since we landed on Luzon we have not eaten a decent meal unless we paid for it with our own cash. Weak with hunger and growing weaker, hollow eyed and with sunken cheeks, we are expected to do our duty, to fight and win our country's victories in the name of someone else, to sleep in the mud and rain, to walk our posts and stay awake on an empty stomach, and, hardest of all, we are expected to live and resist the ravages of a strange climate upon our weak and undermined constitutions. On August 13 First Colorado charged upon the Spanish intrenchments when we were so weak from constant hunger that we could hardly carry our ammunition. Had the Spanish forces remained in their intrenchments they would have experienced little trouble in dispatching us, for we were utterly exhausted and for a few minutes almost helpless, the excitement alone sustaining us." Can you not furnish authoritative statement of facts and give suggestion what may be done here to better condition at Manila? Friends of soldiers ready to do anything possible. Please wire reply.

What was the condition of the troops on the day of the battle of Manila?

H. C. CORBIN, Adjutant-General.

SAVANNAH, GA., November 12, 1898.
(Received 8.17 p. m.)

ADJUTANT-GENERAL, Washington, D. C.:

Telegram received. Colorado regiment, in common with all others under my command at Manila, suffered great hardship in trenches due to incessant rains, deep mud, and difficulty of landing provisions through high surf, but the essential components of ration were obtained every day by one in twenty-four.

There was practically no sickness; the men were in fine health and spirits, appreciated the fact that the difficulties arising from bad weather were what was to be expected in war, and made no complaints.

The Colorado regiment, in particular, was extremely anxious to go to Manila, was always eager for duty, and performed enthusiastically whatever was required of them. They led in the assault of August 13, and were justly proud of being the first to enter the Spanish works.

I inspected the regiment August 28, two days before leaving Manila. They were then quite comfortably quartered in San Sebastian Convent and adjacent buildings, and were in good health and spirits.

I can not believe that these complaints fairly represent the regiment, which contains splendid material, sturdy, courageous men and well-instructed officers. I suggest you cable Brigadier-General Irving, Hale, or McCoy for the facts concerning present situation.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL, Washington:

First Colorado supplied with full rations and addition 30 cents per day from public fund for each man sick. Reported to have cleared $700 last week from regimental exercise. The regiment has food, clothing, and money in abundance. Enlisted men desire to return home and telegraphed governors. Official papers in mail explain. Are now recovering from demoralization caused largely by State action. Abundant supply of provisions here of all kinds, including stores for sale; except there are periodical shortages in fresh vegetables which will not keep in climate. Regular regiments [illegible]aterially increasing company funds.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL, Washington:

Prudence dictates that all troops here and soon to arrive be retained. Situation as follows: Revolutionary government Luzon progressing; cabinet divided on questions of policy; better element declare people are not capable of self-government and favor United States control; Aguinaldo ambitious, acting with unscrupulous members of cabinet and advisers, cries independence, secretly assert Americans must be driven out; his authority in northern provinces of islands outwardly acknowledged, not secured to any extent; asserted that Japanese Government has promised protection, favored by some, as Japanese kindred race. Arms and ammunition for insurgents received at northern ports of island; Aguinaldo accepted draft of $100,000 about to be sent to Hongkong for arms to be landed in upper ports if possible. In southern islands condition as follows: Insurgents in full possession Negros, Cebu, Panay, all but city Iloilo and adjacent islands Spanish forces concentrated and surrounded in Iloilo, and doubts expressed of ability to hold out. Glass, Navy, two vessels Admiral Dewey's fleet there now, also probably Bell, Army, who left here on Spanish vessel Buenos Ayres 7th instant. Southern insurgents acting to limited extent with those of Luzon. Aguinaldo's name in southern islands powerful incentive, but authority not recognized. Many important problems constantly arising here but no serious difficulty anticipated. Necessary to maintain adequate force to meet possible emergencies.

Event retention entire Philippines, at least seven posts, with several detached garrisons, must be maintained for a time; strength of posts to depend on action of inhabitants on question of absolute independence. Should United States assume Philippine debt, interest wealthy inhabitants with United States. Aguinaldo's cabinet divided; some discord. He assumes dictatorship, disregards opinion of congress and cabinet, not in his interest. Will endeavor to retain power. On question of independence he can unite disaffected influential men and lower class. Delegation from different parts of Luzon at Malolos to-day and question of loan discussed. Aguinaldo trying to establish bank with large capital, and urging subscriptions; $350,000 subscribed, but result doubtful. Bank to be established at Manila, where I advise location for purpose of control. Aguinaldo wishes to borrow $1,500,000 to expend purchase of arms. Reported that he has made arrangements for purchase with Hongkong and Shanghai house. Thus far he has sent $100,000, but no arms. Recently received report that delegation sent to Japan to ask protectorate. Three men composing delegation left yesterday for Hongkong. No one can determine result of United States action should she take island. Think that disaffection among inhabitants can at least be produced. Policy now to preserve quiet and to act vigorous when time for action arrives. Should Aguinaldo succeed in arousing decided opposition to United States authority generally, 25,000 men will be required here, as campaign must be made; although in southern island, do not now apprehend serious difficulty. There would be required 1,000 mounted cavalry, 15 light batteries, 22,000 infantry. The six regular regiments infantry should be sent from San Francisco as soon as practicable to meet possible emergency, as little dependence placed on some volunteer organizations now here. Hope to report more favorable indications soon, and may succeed in destroying much of Aguinaldo's authority. This dispatch should be kept secret, as publication in the United States quickly followed by publication here.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
Washington, D. C., December 1, 1898.

The Honorable, the SECRETARY OF WAR.

SIR: I have the honor to invite attention to the following:

Upon a recent visit to Fort Crook, near Omaha, Nebr., I ascertained the condition of the Twenty-second Infantry at that time to be as follows:

Left Tampa June 14 for Cuba, 39 officers, 481 men; returned to Fort Crook, 5 officers, 176 men; killed, 1 officer, 10 men (3 men died from wounds); wounded, 6 officers, 31 men; present for duty at that time, October 15, 12 officers, 198 men; absent sick, whereabouts known, 31 men; absent sick, whereabouts unknown, 147 men; present sick, 83 men.

Attention is invited to the large number of men belonging to this regiment that are absent, whereabouts unknown. These men, I learn, have been sent to hospitals and retained there or furloughed, and the latter are wandering about the country. Similar reports were made to me, but not so serious, concerning regiments at Fort Snelling, Fort Sheridan, and other places, showing a large number of men absent from their commands.

The latest report concerning the regiments that have been directed to be ready for service in the Philippine Islands shows that out of 7,411 men 1,819 are sick or absent from their commands.

As artillery will be needed in the Philippine Islands, and the artillery regiments are armed with rifles and can do infantry duty if required, I recommend that the Seventh U. S. Artillery, now numbering 2,319 men, be prepared for service in those islands in place of the Fourth, Twentieth, and Twenty-third Infantry.

As Manila will undoubtedly be held for an indefinite time by the United States, I recommend that high-power guns, mortars, carriages, etc., and ample ammunition, with all other necessary appliances, be sent to that place, for the purpose of fortifying the harbor and rendering it untenable for any foreign fleet or battle ship; also that torpedoes and submarine mines be stored there where they can be instantly placed in position to protect the harbor against any foe.

The necessity of having officers in command of departments who are actively interested in all the requirements of the service I regard as highly important. General Merriam is commanding two departments, Gen. E. V. Sumner two, and General Bacon two. It it impossible for them to be at the headquarters of more than one department at a time, and I therefore suggest that General Chaffee be assigned to the command of the Department of the Missouri, General Bates to the Department of the Lakes, and Gen. S. S. Sumner to the Department of the Columbia.

Very respectfully,

NELSON A. MILES,
Major-General Commanding.

The ADJUTANT-GENERAL, U. S. ARMY,

SIR: I have the honor to report that the Twentieth Infantry is being instructed and outfitted for service contemplated in confidential letter from your office.

Requisitions have been forwarded, stores not yet arrived; six special recruiting parties are now established, and the prospects are that the regiment will be filled to the maximum during month of December. These parties, as well as officers on court-martial duty at Fort Riley and those on short leaves, can be recalled within twenty-four hours.

A list of officers absent, not including above, is inclosed. Of these Captain Moon is not in good physical condition, and Lieutenant Sehon is absent sick at Columbus, Mo., awaiting retirement.

I would recommend the following:

(1) That authority be granted to discharge or transfer all married men of this regiment upon application made by them; the vacancies thus created can easily be filled by desirable men.

(2) That early information as to destination of this regiment be furnished, in order that officers can make provision for the future for their families. If the regiment is to be stationed in the Philippines, different arrangements would be necessary than would be the case if Cuba or Porto Rico is to be the station.

(3) That officers' families be permitted to occupy quarters at this post, not required by the regular garrison, until other arrangements can be made.

(4) That information be given whether it is intended that transportation for officers, allowance of baggage in changing station be furnished.

(Received December 3, 1898.)

The ADJUTANT-GENERAL, U. S. ARMY,
Washington, D. C.

SIR: I have the honor to inclose copy of correspondence, with explanatory notes, between these headquarters and those of the insurgent forces. The accompanying blue prints are explanatory of my letter of the 14th instant, and show the lines to which the insurgent forces are now retiring.

The friction between the United States military authorities and the insurgent troops is decreasing daily, and the latter are gradually ceasing their open interference in city affairs.

Aguinaldo, his cabinet and congress, remain in the city of Malolos. I understand that dissensions among them are frequent. The inhabitants of the north of Luzon Island (a different race of people from the Tagalos of the south) refuse to be subject to Aguinaldo's authority, although he could probably manage to use them by uniting against some common enemy.

The fear of the return of Spanish authority excites all classes, and persons acting in the interests of Spain are continually agitating them. This is one of the difficulties which has confronted us ever since our occupation of the city, and still stoutly confronts us.

Very respectfully,

E. S. OTIS,
Major-General, U. S. Volunteers.

[Note of explanation to accompany communication of September 13, 1898.]

MANILA, P. I., October 20, 1898.

In lengthy letter of September 8, a copy of which has been forwarded to the Adjutant-General of the Army, a final demand was made upon General Aguinaldo to withdraw his forces from the city of Manila, its suburbs and defenses, by the 15th of that month or stand responsible for consequences. On September 13 I was waited on by a number of representatives of Aguinaldo, who verbally requested that I make certain concessions, which I peremptorily declined to do, and called for full compliance with demands. Finally these gentlemen asked that I write a short note to Aguinaldo in the form of a request for the withdrawal of the insurgent troops, as Aguinaldo could not make known the contents of my letter of September 8 to his general officers and successfully control their movements, as they would not listen to reason; that if I would write a short note couched in friendly terms, which he could publish to his people, he would be able to withdraw the forces without bringing on any conflict. I declined the proposition, replying that the letter of September 8 would stand in every particular. The gentlemen replied that they fully understood that such would be the case, but they merely wished a short friendly expressed note containing a request which they could show to their people who were unable to understand conditions, as they fully believed that they had rendered more service in the capture of Manila than the United States troops and had, unaided, taken positions from which we sought to remove them; that they had been virtually promised a share of the victory, as they expressed it. I finally consented to draw up the following communication and delivered it, warning them at the time that if the demands of September 8 were not obeyed the United States forces would act as therein expressed. This short communication of September 13 Aguinaldo used successfully and withdrew his forces beyond the Manila suburbs as understood by him, with the exception of Paco, which he promised, as reported to me by his representatives, to relieve by detachments, as his general officer stationed there was refractory and needed discipline. This, I replied, would be satisfactory.

"The COMMANDING GENERAL OF THE PHILIPPINE FORCES.

"SIR: Referring to my communication of September 8, I have the honor to inform you that I have had a most agreeable conversation with certain gentlemen who are in the interest of your revolutionary government upon the matters therein contained. We have discussed at length the complications now existing, which will exist, and will doubtless increase while our troops continue to occupy jointly certain districts of the city of Manila. I have urged upon them the necessity of the withdrawal of your troops, in order that the friendly relations which have always been maintained by and between them and the forces of the United States Government may be perpetuated. I am sure that the gentlemen fully appreciate my sentiments and will clearly report them to you. May I ask you to patiently listen to their report of our conversation?

"It is my desire that our friendly intercourse and mutual amicable relations be continued; that they be not jeopardized, if we can by consistent action avoid it, and such, I am certain, is the desire of yourself and associates.

"May I ask, therefore, that you withdraw your troops from Manila?

"Permit me to add, in conclusion, that I have that confidence in your ability and patriotism which will lead you to accede to this request.

"I am, with great respect, your most obedient servant,

MANILA, P. I., October 20, 1898.

The following is a translation from the Spanish of letter of September 16, received from Aguinaldo. I am informed that he denied emphatically that he had ever received my communication of September 8, and that I ever made any demands upon him for the withdrawal of troops. This letter of September 16 is confirmatory of that report.

E. S. OTIS, Major-General Volunteers.

"MALOLOS, BULACAN, September 16, 1898.

"The COMMANDING GENERAL OF THE AMERICAN FORCES.

"MY DEAR SIR: Referring to your esteemed communication dated the 13th instant, I have the honor to inform you that I have given appropriate orders that my troops should abandon their most advanced positions within some of the suburbs, and that they should retire to points where contact with yours [your troops] would be more difficult, in order to avoid all occasion for conflict.

"I hope that by the present [i. e. this letter] you will be fully convinced of my constant desire to preserve amicable relations with the American forces, even at the risk of sacrificing a part of the confidence placed in my government by the Phillippine people.

"A consideration of my many occupations [or duties] will serve to excuse me for not having answered with the promptness desired.

"Your very respectful servant, EMILIO AGUINALDO."

[Note.]

MANILA, P. I., October 20, 1898.

I am creditably informed that Aguinaldo made endeavors to withdraw his refractory general from Paco district, and part of the forces were withdrawn, but affairs there remained unsatisfactory. It became evident that in order to avoid all future misunderstanding a line around the city of Manila must be described and Aguinaldo informed to retire beyond it. To secure such a line directions were given Lieutenant-Colonel Potter, chief engineer officer, to search the records of Manila for the true limits of the city and to lay the same out on a city map, which would include the suburbs and defenses. In his endeavors he met with great difficulty. It was ascertained that the city limits had not been fixed by any decree; that they were indefinite. While pursuing this labor affairs at Paco became more unsatisfactory, and as soon as the inclosed blue print could be secured, the letter of October 14, which follows, was forwarded to Aguinaldo on the 14th instant, and is explanatory.

E. S. OTIS, Major-General Volunteers.

"OFFICE OF THE U. S. MILITARY GOVERNOR,
"Manila, P. I., October 14, 1898.

"Gen. EMILIO AGUINALDO,

"Commanding Philippine Revolutionary Forces, Malolos, P. I.

"GENERAL: I have the honor to ackowledge the receipt of your favor of the 16th ultimo, and beg to apologize for the late official recognition of the same, presenting as a reason for my delay the necessity of obtaining certain information in order to arrive at conclusions in matters materially affecting the substance of our late correspondence—the securing of which has been attended with considerable difficulty.

"I fully appreciate the friendly spirit manifested toward my Government in your expressions of regard which your action in retiring your troops has confirmed; but I believe that there has existed and still exists some misunderstanding as to the limits of territory which that Government is compelled to occupy and administer under its international obligations with Spain, the responsibilty for which it can not escape.

"The articles of capitulation transferred the city of Manila with suburbs and all defenses, as I had the honor to inform you in my letter of September 8. It was found impossible to determine definitely on any existing map either the limits of the city or the lines of its defenses. The latter had been variously placed, at some points retired and at others thrust out beyond conceded city limits. I therefore directed my chief engineer, by a careful search of the municipal records and an actual survey, to ascertain the lines within which occupation by United States troops was obligatory by reason of the terms of the surrender. He has finally concluded these directed labors, and has presented a map, of which the inclosed blue print is a copy, on which is traced in white the lines determined upon. By reference to this print and a comparison of the same with all former existing maps of the city and suburbs, it will be perceived that the latter vary materially from it, especially as to the trend of the Pasig River and the location of the Spanish defenses. The lines of circumvallation on the print begin at the Bocana de Vitas; from thence they follow Maypajo Creek until they reach the line of the Lico road produced; thence proceed along said line and road to Lico; thence to the junction of the two roads in front of the Chinese hospital; thence along the road in front of said hospital to the north corner of the hospital wall; thence to blockhouse No. 4; thence by blockhouses Nos. 5, 6, and 7 to San Juan del Monte Creek at the Aqueduct Bridge; thence down said creek and up the Rio Pasig to the mouth of Concordia Creek; thence by Concordia and Tripa de Gallinas creeks to a point opposite the place where the road from Singalon to Piñeda (Pasai) turns sharply to the right; thence by road to Matubig, and thence to the mouth of Malate Creek.

"This map is believed to be correct, as the surveying and platting were executed with the greatest care and with a desire for accuracy. The lines do not include all of the territory which the late Spanish chief engineer of the city has described as lying within its suburbs, and a larger proportion of them are drawn within the lines of the city's defenses, but they are practical, and include all portions of the suburbs which my Government, under its promises to Spain, could be expected to hold possession of under any demands which Spain might present.

"In your withdrawal of troops I note that to the north they retired to the line described on the map furnished by my predecessor, General Merritt, while to the east and south his request was not observed. As far as Paco is concerned it was understood that the troops in that section would be withdrawn within a short period of time, and I have now the honor to represent that the retention of that mutually conceded suburb has been a source of great annoyance to the American authorities, and, as I fully believe, to yourself, while the revolutionary forces along the Singalon and connecting roads have been the cause of complaint from the inhabitants in that section.

"I am therefore compelled, by reason of my instructions which direct me to execute faithfully the articles of the Spanish capitulation, because of the interests of my Government, and, as I sincerely believe, the welfare of your own forces, to ask that you withdraw all your troops beyond the lines marked in the accompanying blue print, which are above described, and I must request such withdrawal on or before the 20th instant, else I shall be forced into some action looking to that end.

"Permit me in conclusion, General, to bring to your attention facts of which you are doubtless ignorant, and which all connected with the American authorities, especially that vast majority who have entertained a decided and pronounced friendly interest in the Philippine people, have viewed with more or less indignation.

"In a number of instances kidnaping and robbery have been committed recently within this city by parties who claim to be connected with your forces, some of whom stated that they were acting under your instructions. This I can not believe, but the high-handed offenses committed by these persons show how important it is for the interests of all concerned to withdraw your troops as herein requested.

"In numerous instances my officers have submitted complaints to me that they have been arrested and been compelled to turn back to the city, though journeying as unarmed and peaceful citizens merely with the intent to seek health and recreation; and on Sunday last, a funeral party of the British war ship Powerful, now lying within this harbor, was so delayed by the insurgent forces at Paco, when proceeding to its English cemetery, that it was obliged to return to its vessel and repeat the journey on the following day. I fail to see how such proceedings can be justified before enlightened public opinion, and it is a matter of profound surprise to me that a people seeking relief from control of a government, by which in the pronounced judgment of a large portion of the civilized world it has been oppressed for centuries, should permit its armed authorities to so conduct themselves as to arouse the indignation of friendly and assistant nations. The indignities which my Government has suffered from the revolutionary forces, still illegally maintained at Paco (few of them are cited herein), can not be tolerated in future. Resistance to the high-handed proceedings there committed is not merely considered a duty from which there is no escape, but would be esteemed a virtue by any civilized government cognizant of the facts. I do not for a moment permit myself to entertain the impression that either you, or the able advisers by whom you are surrounded, have authorized these insults to my Government, but I must bring them to the notice of the authorities which maintain these troops and upon which rests the legal responsibility for their conduct.

"There is another matter which I beg respectfully to present for your distinguished consideration. There is a great number of United States troops within this city, and a large accession, primarily intended and equipped by my Government for use against the armed forces of Spain, is en route for this port. The continued unhealthfulness of the city, notwithstanding the strenuous efforts we are making for a thorough police of the same, may make it necessary to temporarily encamp such troops as are suffering from diseases contracted here on some point of land near promising favorable sanitary conditions for restoration to health. Should the emergency become imminent the dictates of humanity and the overwhelming demands of my Government would oblige me to establish a convalescent camp in this locality to which troops could be sent for recuperation and to relieve the congested situation which must attend the presence of so large a body of armed men within a thickly populated city. I have in mind for this possible camp the grounds on the shore of the bay formally occupied by the United States troops and designated "Camp Dewey," or the high ground to the east of the city. It is my great desire to place it in a locality which would not inconvenience any organizations connected with your forces or the surrounding inhabitants, and to the emergency of this anticipated proceeding I respectfully invite your consideration and ask your assistance should execution become necessary. Should action of this character be decided upon I beg of you to rest firmly in my unqualified assurance that it will be undertaken in a spirit of the greatest friendliness and with the sincere desire to neither compromise nor affect in the slightest degree your interests and those of the people whom you represent, but, on the contrary, to enhance them.

"Permit me to subscribe myself, General, with highest respect,

"Your most obedient servant,

"E. S. OTIS,

Major-General, U. S. Volunteers, U. S. Military Governor in the Philippines."

[Note.]

MANILA, P. I., October 20, 1898.

On the 18th instant General Aguinaldo's representatives called in person and delivered a letter, of which the following is a translation:

E. S. OTIS, Major-General Volunteers.

"MANILA, October 18, 1898.

"His Excellency Major-General OTIS,

"Military Governor of the United States Forces in the Philippines.

"GENERAL: I have the honor to place in your hands this note, which I bring personally, in which I make known the object of the mission confided to me by President Aguinaldo, and which I will reiterate verbally.

"The letter dated the 15th (14th) of this month, which you directed to General Aguinaldo, reached his hands, and, desirous of complying with your desires, he called in council all of his generals and made known to them the desires which you expressed in your letter. Highly appreciating the spirit of friendship and good feeling which is continually noted in your honorable letters, and which reflects the sentiments of Americans and of their policy toward us, the generals of Mr. Aguinaldo cheerfully accede to that which you ask.

"But the idea of the possibility that Spain may return to this territory and occupy Manila as the result of the decision of the Americo-Spanish conference now in session in Paris has caused said generals to try and obtain a modification of the demands which you make in your letter of the 15th (14th).

"Having verbally explained for your consideration the reasons which influence the manner of thought of the Philippine generals, I shall make also the following propositions, made by President Aguinaldo:

"First. The Filipinos will retire beyond the line of demarcation indicated in the blue map, as you desire.

"Second. The Filipinos will retain Pandacan under their jurisdiction.

"Third. The Filipinos consider it of the greatest importance to occupy blockhouses with their forces of the line with view of the possible return of the Spanish, promising not to pass [never] with arms.

"Fourth. General Aguinaldo asks of you an extension of the time indicated for evacuation by his troops.

"I repeat, sir, with the greatest consideration and respect,

"T. H. PARDO DE TARVERA."

All concessions were refused, and finally a request was made to extend the time for the withdrawal of the troops until the 25th instant, which was granted, and promises were given that the troops would be withdrawn as indicated in my communication. I have every confidence that the desired results will follow. The officer at Paco who has made himself disagreeable has been removed, I am informed. His subordinate officers, who attempted kidnaping in the city, were arrested and are now serving sentences of confinement in the city prison, which were imposed by our provost court. Matters very quiet throughout the city and the condition of affairs is constantly improving.

OCTOBER 25, 1898.

The question of removal of insurgent troops from the outer defenses of the city appears to have agitated Aguinaldo, his advisers, and officials of his government more than was anticipated here. Excited discussions among them seem to have caused a division of party, one announcing the United States' demands unjust and advising noncompliance, the other counseling acquiescence. On or about the 20th instant a concentration of insurgent troops was partially effected to the north of the city, but under instructions to cease the concentration, most of the forces were removed. On the 23d instant I received a communication, of which the following is a copy:

[Translation.]

"REVOLUTIONARY GOVERNMENT OF PHILIPPINE PRESIDENCY,

"Malolos, October 22, 1898.

"Gen. E. S. OTIS,

"Commander in Chief of the American Forces, Manila, P. I.

"GENERAL: In view of your favor of the 14th instant, I consulted the opinion of my generals and advisory counsel, and I have appointed Dr. Pardo de Tarvera in order that he might place before you the wishes of all, as he did it on the 18th. Said commissioner, upon giving me an account of your wishes, told me that you had consented to postpone the ultimatum for the withdrawal of our troops until the 25th, and the retention by our forces of the blockhouses situated on the line shown on the blue map, which you sent me with said letter, but had not acceded to the desire of the Philippine people that my forces continue to occupy Pandacan. Relative to the latter point, I take the liberty of telling you that your predecessor, General Merritt, understood that the American forces only ought to occupy, according to the terms of capitulation of Manila, the city and its environs, i. e., Binondo, Tondo, Santa Cruz, Quiapo, Sampaloc, San Miguel, Concepcion, Ermita, Malate, and Paco or San Fernando de Dilao; and thus he clearly puts it in his letter of the 20th of August last. The town of Pandacan has always been considered outside of the old municipal limits of Manila, which the General himself mentions in said letter, and I hope your high sense of judgment will see it thus.

"Nevertheless, I understand that your forces are already occupying the Uli-uli, Nactahan, and Santa Mesa districts, which, although belonging to the jurisdiction of Pandacan, they can continue to do so, in order to prevent the continual encounters with mine, which cause disagreeable incidents.

"I take pleasure in manifesting to you that it is not lack of confidence, and much less animosity, that prompts me to write in this manner. To-day, more than ever, the Filipinos desire to live in peace and perfect harmony with the Americans, because they will take care that the Philippines do not return under the odious Spanish dominion.

"When it is possible for a formal convention to pacify and harmonize the interests of the two peoples, then the suspicions of my people, which I can not completely quiet with my prestige and authority, no matter what good desires move me, will disappear.

"I beg of you not to consider as an insult to your flag, a bad interpretation of my orders, which I will severely punish according to the gravity of the offense. You, with your keen perception, will understand that a people agitated by a revolution return gradually, not suddenly, to their normal life, no matter how educated they are supposed to be. It becomes necessary for me to act with much tact in order to give no cause for internal dissensions.

"And this consideration is what obliges me to ask you about the form and conditions with which you wish to establish a sanitarium within my lines, because I wish at all cost to prevent the possibility of your complaints being renewed concerning acts emanating from the continual contact of our forces. I understand that you have considered it necessary to demand the withdrawal of our forces, notwithstanding the friendship that binds us, in order to prevent friction. On this account, although I highly appreciate the humane sentiments that prompt you, I do not dare allow it without previous explanations, for the very reason that I wish to preserve the friendship that constitutes the welfare of both peoples.

"I hope you will pardon me, as the necessity of consulting various advisers has obliged me to delay my answer.

"I am, General, with the greatest consideration,

"Your most obedient servant,

'EMILIO AGUINALDO."

To this I briefly replied orally to Aguinaldo's representative that the subject had been discussed sufficiently, and the insurgent troops must retire on the specified day or suffer the consequences. Last evening I was authoritatively informed that all those troops would be retired to-day. The force to the east of the city has already been removed. I do not, therefore, anticipate any difficulty. The transport City of Para doubtless leaves to-morrow, and should any difficulty ensue a statement will be included in this report.

"The President desires that Admiral Dewey and General Otis shall have an early conference and advise him what force and equipment will be necessary in the Philippine Islands; whether high-power guns, mortars, carriages, etc., will be required for the purpose of fortifying the harbor or harbors; also whether torpedoes or submarine mines are desired to protect the harbors, or harbors which we may hereafter occupy. The President would be glad to have suggestions from these commanders as to the government of the islands, which of necessity must be by the Army and the Navy for some time to come. When these islands shall be ceded to us, it is his desire that peace and tranquillity shall be restored and as kind and beneficent a government as possible given to the people, that they may be encouraged in their industries, and made secure in life and property. The fullest suggestions are invited.

Condition improving and signs of revolutionary disintegration. Have conferred with number members of revolutionary government and think that majority will favor peaceful submission to United States authority. Aguinaldo holding out strenuously and is endeavoring to levy war contributions. Has excited public with cry for independence, but his influence waning. Bank project abandoned, and doubtful if he can obtain possession of arms for which he has contracted and sent nearly one-half million to Hongkong. Conference this evening of a number of leading men of revolutionary government who favor United States authority or annexation. I expect favorable report. Have conference with Admiral Dewey. He will cable fully regarding coast and harbor requirement. Army needs are as expressed in my dispatch of November 27. We think very necessary to occupy Iloilo and Cebu as soon as possible. Report of very active hostilities at Iloilo. Vessels and troops available and can be dispatched as soon as ordered. Later, Aparri, Vigan and Dagupan, in Luzon and Iligan, Mindanao, should be occupied; also other ports of islands, with quick occupancy in south; no serious difficulty apprehended there. Provincial governments should be established in Luzon under immediate charge of intelligent citizens and general supervision army and navy; they can be supervised from Manila; judicial system can be restored; courts to exercise both civil and criminal jurisdiction, with court of last resort at Manila. Can appoint as chief justice a distinguished Philippine lawyer of culture and integrity, universally respected by all classes. He has been of great aid to me in controlling insurgents. Competent lawyers can be found to fill other judicial positions. Composition of courts here simple and method of procedure not difficult. Believe establishment of judicial system imperative for peace and restoration of business; local civil government of primitive character in all outlying districts essential. They can be established in short space of time, under supervision of military government, and will answer every purpose while that government exists. Am now obtaining names of prominent and most trusted men for use, should it become necessary. These governments would be crude at first, but could be developed. The military governments which have always prevailed in the southern islands could, for temporary purpose, be restored. The natives there, except in Mindanao, are easily controlled, and by kind treatment some system of civil government could be worked out. I do not make any suggestions looking to permanence, but only in aid of efficient military government.

The SECRETARY OF WAR.

SIR: In my judgment, of the eight regiments of infantry recommended by your instructions of November 15, 1898, to hold themselves in readiness for a protracted period of tropical field service beyond the limits of the United States, the first six should be sent in the following order: Twentieth Infantry, Third Infantry, Twelfth Infantry, Seventeenth Infantry, Fourth Infantry and Twenty-second Infantry. This is based on the percentage, in reverse ratio, of the losses sustained by each regiment in the campaign in Cuba.

Referring to letter from this office of November 15, Secretary War directs that the Twentieth United States Infantry be relieved from duty in the Department of Missouri and proceed by rail to San Francisco in time to embark on transport Scandia, for the Philippine Islands, on her next trip; reporting upon arrival at Manila to the commanding general, Department of Pacific, for duty.

Report will be made of the name, rank, and length of service of men, who, in the surgeon's opinion, are too ill to make the journey, and of all married enlisted men, and other enlisted men who have less than three months to serve and who do not intend to reenlist, with a view to their transfer or discharge.

Officers and enlisted men will be permitted to take the full amount of baggage allowed on change of station.

Officers and noncommissioned staff officers will be permitted to take their families on transports. Mounted officers may take their horses.

Communicate with commanding general, Department of California, to arrange details of movement. Regiment will arrive in San Francisco so as not to be there longer than is absolutely necessary for loading on baggage and embarkation.

Every provision should be made in the way of clothing, food, and equipment to insure the comfort of the troops en route and after arrival.

It is impossible to state the duration of the tour of service of this character at the present time, but preparations should be made with a view to at least two or three years' service before returning to the United States.

Quartermaster's Department will furnish the necessary transportation, the Subsistence Department suitable travel rations, and the Medical Department ample provision for medical attendance and stores en route.

Maj. Gen. E. S. OTIS,
United States Volunteers, Commanding Department of the Pacific, and Military Governor of the Philippine Islands, Manila.

SIR: By direction of the Secretary of War, I have the honor to transmit herewith instructions of the President relative to the administration of affairs in the Philippine Islands.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, Washington, December 21, 1898.

"The SECRETARY OF WAR.

"SIR: The destruction of the Spanish fleet in the harbor of Manila by the United States naval squadron commanded by Rear-Admiral Dewey, followed by the reduction of the city and the surrender of the Spanish forces, practically effected the conquest of the Philippine Islands and the suspension of Spanish sovereignty therein.

"With the signature of the treaty of peace between the United States and Spain by their respective plenipotentiaries at Paris, on the 10th instant, and as the result of the victories of American arms, the future control, disposition, and government of the Philippine Islands are ceded to the United States. In the fulfillment of the rights of sovereignty thus acquired, and the responsible obligations of government thus assumed, the actual occupation and administration of the entire group of the Philippine Islands becomes immediately necessary, and the military government heretofore maintained by the United States in the city, harbor, and bay of Manila is to be extended with all possible dispatch to the whole of the ceded territory.

"In performing this duty the military commander of the United States is enjoined to make known to the inhabitants of the Philippine Islands that, in succeeding to the sovereignty of Spain, in severing the former political relations of the inhabitants, and in establishing a new political power, the authority of the United States is to be exerted for the security of the persons and property of the people of the islands, and for the confirmation of all their private rights and relations. It will be the duty of the commander of the forces of occupation to announce and proclaim in the most public manner that we come, not as invaders or conquerors, but as friends, to protect the natives in their homes, in their employments, and in their personal and religious rights. All persons who, either by active aid or by honest submission, cooperate with the government of the United States to give effect to these beneficent purposes, will receive the reward of its support and protection. All others will be brought within the lawful rule we have assumed, with firmness if need be, but without severity so far as may be possible.

"Within the absolute domain of military authority, which necessarily is and must remain supreme in the ceded territory until the legislation of the United States shall otherwise provide, the municipal laws of the territory in respect to private rights and property and the repression of crime are to be considered as continuing in force and to be administered by the ordinary tribunals so far as practicable. The operations of civil and municipal government are to be performed by such officers as may accept the supremacy of the United States by taking the oath of allegiance, or by officers chosen as far as may be practicable from the inhabitants of the islands.

"While the control of all the public property and the revenues of the State passes with the cession, and while the use and management of all public means of transportation are necessarily reserved to the authority of the United States, private property, whether belonging to individuals or corporations, is to be respected except for cause duly established. The taxes and duties heretofore payable by the inhabitants to the late Government become payable to the authorities of the United States, unless it be seen fit to substitute for them other reasonable rates or modes of contribution to the expenses of government, whether general or local. If private property be taken for military use, it shall be paid for when possible in cash, at a fair valuation, and when payment in cash it not practicable receipts are to be given.

"All ports and places in the Philippine Islands in the actual possession of the land and naval forces of the United States will be opened to the commerce of all friendly nations. All goods and wares, not prohibited for military reasons by due announcement of the military authority, will be admitted upon payment of such duties and other charges as shall be in force at the time of their importation.

"Finally, it should be the earnest and paramount aim of the military administration to win the confidence, respect, and affection of the inhabitants of the Philippines by assuring them in every possible way that full measure of individual rights and liberties which is the heritage of free peoples, and by proving to them that the mission of the United States is one of benevolent assimilation, substituting the mild sway of justice and right for arbitrary rule. In the fulfillment of this high mission, supporting the temperate administration of affairs for the greatest good of the governed, there must be sedulously maintained the strong arm of authority to repress disturbance, and to overcome all obstacles to the bestowal of the blessings of good and stable government upon the people of the Philippine Islands under the free flag of the United States.

"WILLIAM MCKINLEY."

Very respectfully,

MCCASKEY, Commanding.

MANILA, December 30, 1898.
(Received Washington, 12.30 p. m.)

SECRETARY WAR, Washington:

Have perfect knowledge of all strategic points in Philippine Islands. All military stations, outside Luzon, with exception of Zamboanga, turned over by Spaniards to inhabitants, who may be denominated insurgents, with more or less hostility to United States. Some points we can take without friction, and could have taken nearly all outside Luzon peaceably before 23d and 24th of month, when Spain withdrew her forces without our knowledge. Am waiting to hear results from Iloilo, and am meditating action in islands of Samar, Leyte, and Cebu, in all of which Luzon insurgents have been at work for several months.

Conditions here at Manila and character of invigorating secretly not understood in United States. Large numbers of insurgent troops still in the field, scattered throughout Luzon Province, and about 6,000 outside this city, which contains large numbers of sympathizers who have threatened uprising. Former insurgent cabinet disrupted, one formed consisting mostly of irresponsible men, who demand complete independence or war with United States. Situation requires delicate manipulation, and our troops here can not be widely scattered at present. Great majority of men of property desire annexation. Those without property seek personal advancement and plunder, promises of which hold insurgents together; but already much dissatisfaction in ranks and conflicts with inhabitants in middle provinces. Will report further in few days. Am in consultation with Admiral Dewey, now engaged in efforts to stop shipment of insurgent arms from China and Japan, through meditated seizure. We will probably send another force south within a short time.

His troops in harbor close to city and he awaiting instructions. His first instructions were to occupy city in case insurgents in possession through peaceful means, followed later by orders to seize city if he could do so without great loss of life and destruction of property. Excited condition of affairs in and surrounding Manila. Insurgents active. Can not weaken force here very much. Am prepared to send 1,100 men south. Cable of yesterday just received. ADJUTANT-GENERAL, Washington:

Situation unchanged. On 4th instant issued conservative proclamation stating declared intention of President to insure individual rights. Quoted last sentence President's proclamation. Declared it my belief that was intention of United States while directing affairs generally, to appoint representative men of Philippines to civil positions of trust and responsibility; to draw from people as much of necessary military force as consistent with constituted authority, and to establish most liberal form of government, in which people shall have full representation as conditions permit. Aguinaldo met this by counter proclamation, declaring the Philippines independent; had been allies until Manila taken; that Philippine flag had been recognized, and that Filipinos had conquered the Philippines. Our proclamation received favorably by all foreigners except Spanish, who say it is temporizing preparatory to force, and that American rule would be harsher than that of Spain. Spanish circulate inflammatory reports constantly, and number of Spanish soldiers now in insurgent ranks. Filipinos received our proclamation favorably, but ignorant masses under Aguinaldo's influence radical; insurgent leaders now in charge fear this has gone too far, and can not control army and masses. They sought conference; declined to recognize them as representing insurgent government, but conferred with them individually. They desire protection of United States and independence. Have no clear idea of meaning of these words, but think definite arrangements can be made which United States will hold supervisory control and they conduct government, United States to assist when necessary. Conference still in progress, but have told them that they must await action of Congress. This they fail to understand. Miller's conditions at Iloilo same. He begs to be permitted to take city, which would doubtless result in great destruction of property and lives of many natives. He issued President's proclamation, and in this I think made mistake. Has received no response. Reported that natives as early as December 21 advised by Spanish to resist all foreign nations, especially United States, most cruel of all, and natives believe they recognize and execute orders of Luzon insurgent congress. Spanish turned over to Aguinaldo's men military station in south, and Spanish priests and claims. Sedulously advise resistance to United States. Conflict at Iloilo or any southern port means war in all the islands. The leading insurgents here fear and beg that we temporize at Iloilo. Regiment on transports still in Manila Harbor. The abler Filipinos who wish annexation have withdrawn from Aguinaldo despondent. Many of them fear assassination. I believe that the more radical and intelligent insurgent leaders also fear for individual safety, as they can not control army and masses. That Aguinaldo too has apprehensive fear for personal safety; dominates masses, and they obey army and secret clubs which terrorize them. Peace maintained here and business active, though the underlying elements of society excited. Secret clubs endeavor to foment discord. Spanish prisoners of war and Spanish citizens are able to prejudice constantly capability of United States.

"Am most desirous that conflict be avoided. Your statement that a conflict 'at Iloilo or other southern port means war in all the islands' increases that desire. Such conflict most unfortunate, considering the present, and might have results unfavorable affecting the future. Glad you did not permit Miller to bring on a conflict. Time given the insurgents can not hurt us and must weaken and discourage them. They will come to see our benevolent purpose and recognize that before we can give their people good government our sovereignty must be complete and unquestioned. Tact and kindness most essential just now. Am sure you both having full knowledge of situation can be trusted to accomplish purposes of this Government with the least discord and friction. We accepted the Philippines from high duty in the interest of their inhabitants and for humanity and civilization. Our sacrifices were with this high motive. We want to improve the condition of the inhabitants, securing them peace, liberty, and the pursuit of their highest good. Glad you are conferring with them in their unofficial capacity. Will send commissioners if you think desirable, to cooperate with you both in your delicate task. They can not leave here for two weeks or reach Manila for two months. Will send them as above on hearing from you.

"If possible to hasten repatriation of Spanish soldiers before treaty ratified it will be done. You are masters of the situation there and must not relax your power or vigilance. Hope good counsels will prevail among the inhabitants and that you will find means to save bloodshed and restore tranquillity to that unhappy island.

"How is the health of Miller's command?

"Maj. Gen. E. S. OTIS,

"Commander in chief of the American forces of occupation in Manila:

"My government has promulgated the political constitution of the Philippine republic, which is to-day enthusiastically proclaimed by the people because of its conviction that its duty is to interpret faithfully the aspirations of that people, a people making superhuman efforts to revindicate their sovereignty and their nationality before the civilized powers. To this end, of the governments to-day recognized and observed among cultured nations, they have adopted the form of government most compatible with their aspirations, endeavoring to adjust their actions to the dictates of reason and of right, in order to demonstrate their aptitude for civil life; and taking the liberty to notify your excellency, I confidently hope that, doing justice to the Philippine people, you will be pleased to inform the Government of your nation that the desire of mine, upon being accorded official recognition, is to contribute to the best of its scanty ability to the establishment of a general peace.

"May God keep your excellency many years.

February 5. Insurgents in large force opened attack on our outer lines at 8.45 last evening. Renewed attack several times during night. At 4 o'clock this morning entire line engaged. All attacks repulsed. At daybreak advanced against insurgents and have driven them beyond the lines they formerly occupied, capturing several villages and their defense works. Insurgent loss in dead and wounded large. Our own casualties thus far intimated at 175, very few fatal. We are still driving enemy and think we shall punish him severely. Troops enthusiastic and acting fearlessly. Navy did splendid execution on flanks of enemy. City held in check and absolute quiet prevails. Believe that insurgent army attacked contrary wishes of their government. Insurgents have secured good many Mauser rifles, a few field pieces and quick firing guns, with ammunition, during last month.

Reconnoissance yesterday, to south several miles, to east to Laguna de Bay, to northeast 8 miles, driving straggling insurgent troops in various directions, encountering no decided opposition. Army disintegrated and natives returning to village displaying white flag. Near Caloocan, 6 miles north, enemy made stand behind intrenchments, charged by Kansas troops, led by Colonel Funston, close encounter resulting in rout of enemy with very heavy loss. Loss to Kansas, Lieutenant Alford, killed; 6 men wounded. Night of 4th, Aguinaldo issued flying proclamation charging Americans with initiative and declared war. Sunday issued another, calling all to resist foreign invasion. His influence throughout this section destroyed. Now applies for cessation of hostilities and conference. Have declined to answer. Insurgent expectation of rising in city on night of 4th unrealized. Provost marshal-general with admirable disposition of troops defeated every attempt. City quiet. Business resumed. Natives respectful and cheerful. The fighting qualities of American troops a revelation to all inhabitants.

Acknowledging your cable of yesterday, Secretary War, with approval of the President, suggests that you continue to hold your forces well in hand and not extend your lines of occupation, except as they may be made necessary by local conditions, of which you must be the judge. What ports and places should, in your judgment, be early occupied by our forces? We should not occupy any faster than is necessary to our safety and control. Health of men is also a most important element to be considered. The six infantry regiments heretofore mentioned are all under way, Sheridan having left New York to-day. Recruits to fill regular regiments with you leave San Francisco this week. Twentieth Infantry expected latter part of week; Twenty-second on 2d of March; transport Grant, March 4.

Our lines thin; no more extended than safety of entire city and waterworks system demand. Hold four regiments in city to suppress attempted interior violence. My long dispatch to Washington of November 27 last, in cipher, calling for regular troops, gives number of troops required to hold islands as 25,000; to conquer them 30,000 at least necessary, with continued assistance from Navy. Spanish abandonment of southern islands has rendered conditions there difficult. In Luzon, Manila, Dagupan, Aparri, and Legaspi should be occupied, and in the south, Iloilo, Cebu, Zamboanga, and Jolo as soon as practicable, with small garrisons at six other points. Volunteers can not be spared until conditions greatly changed. When United States able to furnish full protection, men of property and education will give adherence; now fear the assassin.

The ADJUTANT-GENERAL, U. S. ARMY,
Washington, D. C.

SIR: Some time since I forwarded by cable information that the conservative men of the revolutionary government of the Filipinos had withdrawn from its councils, stating that they were unable to exert any further beneficial influence. I am of the impression that they were also influenced by apprehensions of personal danger.

The cabinet of President Aguinaldo resigned in a body, as it was not able to come to an agreement upon the terms of the proposed constitution. Aguinaldo's chief adviser, a man of very radical views, undertook to form a new cabinet, but found it impossible to secure the services of representative men. He finally succeeded in forming a provisional cabinet, composed of men of limited importance, and Aguinaldo called his congress, to which call the conservative members failed to respond, and therefore it was controlled by its radical element. Although many of the members who put in an appearance greatly desire to avoid any difficulty with the United States, and so declare themselves in private conversation, they fear to give public expression to their views. There were, however, a number who were unremitting in their secret endeavors to maintain peace. They approached me asking that I assist them to secure a conference with the United States authorities in order that they might work upon their congress in the interests of harmony. I replied through a civilian (an American citizen) that I would gladly meet any of the representative men of the Filipinos, and Aguinaldo himself, in their individual capacities, but was powerless to recognize the "de facto" government of which they boasted, or to receive any of its members in an official capacity. I further informed them that I would appoint a committee to meet a similar committee appointed by General Aguinaldo, commanding the revolutionary army, if such was their desire. They appealed to me to make some concession which they could use with their people in the interests of peace. Conditions were very fully explained to them, and while I discovered that they had a very fair understanding of affairs, they urged the difficulty of making their ignorant people understand them. The people had gone wild on the words "protection" and "independence," whereas the words "sovereignty," "annexation," and "United States control" served to excite them greatly. These gentlemen worked faithfully with the Malolos people, and finally I received a letter from Aguinaldo, of which the inclosed, marked "Exhibit 1," is a translation, and to which I made reply, a copy of which is inclosed, marked "Exhibit 2." I appointed General Hughes, Colonel Smith, of the First California, and Lieutenant-Colonel Crowder, of the Judge-Advocate's Department, as members of the commission, and General Aguinaldo appointed two officers and a civilian of considerable judicial ability. A long conference ensued, in which the Filipino gentlemen failed to establish a single proposition for which they contended. The most amiable exchange of views was had and the result of the conference was beneficial. These Filipino gentlemen are still laboring for desired results and I think that another conference will be called. In the meantime affairs here are much strained. The insurgent army and city mobs view the quiet conduct of United States troops as a sign of weakness or fear and are very boastful of their prowess. In this lies the danger of the situation; and, should these insurgents, defying the orders of the Malolos government, bring on a conflict, a slaughter of their people will result. The troops are on the alert and well in hand.

I am of the opinion that some of our worst foes are those of our own household. I inclose an article cut from the Singapore Free Press of December 12 (Exhibit 3), which the insurgents declare was written by United States Consul Pratt, now on duty in that city. The better class of the insurgents have complained of this article, as it has had quite an exciting effect upon their people. The active intermeddling of other United States consuls has also given us considerable trouble. I inclose also copies of two proclamations issued by Aguinaldo. One was prepared and withdrawn by advice, I understand, and the second sent out—both of same date. A few copies of the one first prepared got into circulation after the second one was posted. I think that Aguinaldo was as pacific as he had the courage to be under the circumstances in which he found himself placed. He does not desire war, but finds it difficult to stem the dangerous current of excitement which he and his advisers have in motion.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

E. S. OTIS,
Major-General, U. S. Volunteers, Commanding.

MALOLOS, January 9, 1899.

Maj. Gen. E. S. OTIS,
General of the American Forces of Occupation in Manila.

SIR: I have been informed, after the interview between the commissioners of my government and Mr. Carman, that there will be no inconvenience on your part in naming, as commanding general, representatives that will confer with those whom I will name for the same object.

Although it not being explained to me the reason why you could not treat with the commissioners of my government, I have the faculty for doing the same with those of the commanding general "who can not be recognized." Nevertheless, for the sake of peace, I have considered it advisable to name as "commanding general" a commission composed of the following gentlemen: Mr. Florentino Flores, Eufrasio Flores, and Manuel Arguelles, that they may together represent me and arrive at an accord with those whom you will name, with the object of using such methods as will normalize the actual situation created by the attitude of your Government and troops.

If you will deign to attend to said commissioners, and through these methods come to some understanding, "if only temporary," that will insure the peace and harmony amongst ourselves, the Filipino public would reach a grateful glory.

I am, yours, General, with the highest consideration.

Your most respected servant, EMILIO AGUINALDO.

EXHIBIT 2.

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE PACIFIC AND EIGHTH ARMY CORPS,
Manila, P. I., January 9, 1899.

Gen. EMILIO AGUINALDO,
Commanding Revolutionary Force, Malolos, P. I.

GENERAL: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of to-day, and am much pleased at the action you have taken. I greatly regret that you have not a clear understanding of my position and motives, and trust that my explanation, assisted by the conference I have invited, will make them clear to you.

In my official capacity I am merely the agent of the United States Government to conduct its affairs under the limits which its Constitution, laws, precedents, and specific instructions prescribe. I have not the authority to recognize any national or civil power not already formally recognized by my Government, unless especially authorized so to do by the instructions of the Executive of the United States. For this reason I was unable to receive officially the representatives of the revolutionary government, and endeavored to make that inability clear to the distinguished gentlemen with whom I had the pleasure to converse a few evenings since. You will bear witness that my course throughout my entire official connection with affairs here has been consistent, and it has pained me that I have not been able to receive and answer communications of the cabinet officers of the government at Malolos, fearing that I might be erroneously charged with lack of courtesy. Permit me now briefly, General, to speak of the serious misunderstanding which exists between the Philippine people and the representatives of the United States Government, and which I hope that our commissioners, by thorough discussion, may be able to dispel. I sincerely believe that all desire peace and harmony, and yet by the machinations of evil-disposed persons we have been influenced to think that we occupy the position of adversaries. The Filipinos appear to be of the opinion that we meditate attack, while I am under the strict orders of the President of the United States to avoid conflict in every way possible. My troops, witnessing the earnestness, the comparatively disturbed and unfriendly attitude of the revolutionary troops and many of the citizens of Manila, conclude that active hostilities have been determined upon, although it must be clearly within the comprehension of unprejudiced and reflecting minds that the welfare and happiness of the Philippine people depend upon the friendly protection of the United States. The hand of Spain was forced, and she has acknowledged before the world that all her claimed rights in this country have departed by due process of law. This treaty acknowledgment, with the conditions which accompany it, awaits ratification of the Senate of the United States, and the action of its Congress must also be secured before the Executive of that Government can proclaim a definite policy. That policy must conform to the will of the people of the United States, expressed through its representatives in Congress. For that action the Philippine people should wait, at least before severing the existing friendly relations. I am governed by a desire to further the interests of the Philippine people and shall continue to labor with that end in view. There shall be no conflict of forces if I am able to avoid it, and still I shall endeavor to maintain a position to meet all emergencies that may arise.

Permit me to subscribe myself, General, with highest respect,

Your most obedient servant,

E. S. OTIS,
Major-General, U. S. Volunteers, Commanding.

The government of the Philippines has considered it its duty to set forth to the civilized powers the facts determining the rupture of its amicable relations with the Army of the United States of America in these islands to the end that they may thereby reach the conviction that I, for my part, have done everything possible to avoid it, although at the cost of many rights uselessly sacrificed.

After the naval combat which occurred on May 1 of last year, between the Spanish squadron and that of America, the commander of the latter consented to my return from Hongkong to this beloved soil, and he distributed among the Filipinos some rifles found in the arsenal at Cavite, doubtless with the intention of reestablishing the revolution, somewhat quieted by the convention of Biacnabato, in order to have the Filipinos on his side.

The people, influenced by the declaration of war between the United States and Spain, understood the necessity of fighting for its liberty, feeling sure that Spain would be destroyed and rendered incapable of leading it along the road to prosperity and progress. The Filipinos hailed my advent with joy, and I had the honor of being proclaimed leader on account of the services which I had rendered in the former revolution. Then all the Filipinos, without distinction of classes, took arms, and every province hastened to expel from its frontiers the Spanish forces. This is the explanation of the fact that after the lapse of so short a period of time my government rules the whole of Luzon, the Visaya Islands, and a part of Mindanao.

Although the North Americans took no part in these military operations, which cost no little blood and gold, my government does not disavow the fact that the destruction of the Spanish squadron and the gift of some rifles from the arsenal to my people influenced the progress of our arms to some extent. It was also taken for granted that the American forces would necessarily sympathize with the revolution which they had managed to encourage, and which had saved them much blood and great hardships; and above all we entertained absolute confidence in the history and traditions of a people which fought for its independence and for the abolition of slavery, which posed as the champion liberator of oppressed peoples. We felt ourselves under the safeguard of the faith of a free people.

The Americans, seeing the friendly disposition of the Filipino people, disembarked forces at the town of Parañaque and took up positions all along the line occupied by my troops as far as Matubig, taking possession of many trenches constructed by my people by the employment of astuteness, not unaccompanied by violence. They forced a capitulation on the garrison of Manila which, inasmuch as it was invested by my troops, was compelled to surrender at the first attack. In this I took a very active part, although I was not notified, my forces reaching as far as the suburbs of Malate, Ermita, Paco, Sampaloc, and Tondo.

Notwithstanding these services, and although the Spaniards would not have surrendered but for the fact that my troops had closed every avenue of escape to the towns of the interior, the American generals not only ignored me entirely in the stipulations for capitulation but also requested that my forces should retire from the port of Cavite and the suburbs of Manila.

I represented to the American generals the injustice done me and requested in friendly terms that they should at least expressly recognize my cooperation, but they utterly declined to do so. Nevertheless, being always desirous of showing friendliness and good feeling toward those who called themselves liberators of the Philippine people, I ordered my troops to evacuate the port of Cavite and the suburbs of Ermita, Malate, Sampaloc, and Tondo, retaining only a portion of the suburb of Paco.

In spite of these concessions, not many days passed before Admiral Dewey, without any reason whatever, arrested our steam launches which had been plying in the bay of Manila with his express consent. Almost at the same time I received a letter from General Otis, commander of the American army of occupation, demanding that I should withdraw my forces beyond the lines marked on a map which he also sent me, and which showed within the lines the town of Pandacan and the hamlet of Singalon, which never have belonged to the municipal area of Manila and its suburbs.

In view of this unjustifiable attitude of both American leaders I summoned a council of my generals and asked the advice of my cabinet, and in conformity with the opinion of both bodies, I named commissioners who placed themselves in communication with these Americans. Although Admiral Dewey received in a most insolent manner and with aggressive phrases my commissioners, whom he did not permit to speak, I yielded to the friendly suggestions of General Otis, withdrawing my forces to the desired line for the purpose of avoiding contact with his troops. This gave rise to many misunderstandings, but I hoped that once the Paris conference was at an end my people would obtain the independence promised them by the consul-general in Singapore, Mr. Pratt, and that the friendship formerly assured and proclaimed in manifestos and speeches would be established by the American generals who have reached these shores.

But it did not turn out thus; the said generals accepted my concessions in favor of peace and friendship as indications of weakness. Thus it is that, with rising ambition, they ordered forces to Iloilo on December 26, with the purpose of acquiring for themselves the title of conquerors of that portion of the Philippine Islands occupied by my government.

Such procedure, so foreign to the dictates of culture and the usages observed by civilized nations, give me the right to act without observing the usual rules of intercourse; nevertheless, in order to be correct to the end, I sent to General Otis commissioners charged to solicit him to desist from his rash enterprise, but they were not listened to.

My government can not remain indifferent in view of such a violent and aggressive seizure of a portion of its territory by a nation which has arrogated to itself the title, "champion of oppressed nations;" thus it is that my government is disposed to open hostilities, if the American troops attempt to take forcible possession of the Visaya Islands. I denounce these acts before the world, in order that the conscience of mankind may pronounce its infallible verdict as to who are the true oppressors of nations and the tormentors of human kind.

Upon their heads be all the blood which may be shed.

EMILIO AGUINALDO.

MALOLOS, January 5, 1899.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE HERALD OF THE REVOLUTION.

[Official.]

Proclamation from the president of the revolutionary government to my brothers, the Filipinos, all the honorable consuls, and other foreigners:

Maj. Gen. E. S. Otis's proclamation, published yesterday in the Manila papers, obliges me to circulate the present one in order that all who read and understand it may know of my most solemn protest against said proclamation, for I am moved by duty and my conscience before God, by my political obligations with my beloved people, by my official and private relations to the North American nations.

In the above-mentioned proclamation General Otis calls himself "Military governor in the Philippines," and I protest one and a thousand times with all the energy in my soul against such an authority.

I solemnly proclaim that I have never had, either at Singapore, or at Hongkong, or here in the Philippines, any verbal or written contract for the recognition of American sovereignty over this cherished soil.

On the contrary, I say that I returned to these islands, conveyed by an American man-of-war, on the 19th day of May of last year, with the firm and clear purpose of fighting the Spaniards in order to reconquer our liberty and independence, and so I expressed myself in the declaration made on the 24th of said month of May. Thus

I published it in a proclamation directed to the Philippine people on the 12th of last June, when in my natal town, Kawit, I for the first time unfurled our sacred national flag as a holy emblem of that sublime aspiration; and, lastly, the American general, Merritt, predecessor of Mr. E. S. Otis, has confirmed that same thing in a proclamation addressed to the Philippine people days before the surrender of the town of Manila was proposed to General Jaudenes, which proclamation clearly and decisively stated that the land and naval forces of the United States came to give us our freedom and to displace the bad Spanish Government.

In a word, our countrymen and foreigners are witnesses that the land and naval forces of the United States existing here have recognized by act the belligerency of the Filipinos, not only respecting but also doing public honor to the Philippine banner, which triumphantly traversed our seas in view of foreign nations, represented here by their respective consuls.

As in his proclamation General Otis alludes to some instructions issued by His Excellency, the President of the United States, relative to the administration of affairs in the Philippines, I solemnly protest, in the name of God, root and source of all justice and all right, who has visibly acceded me the power to direct my dear brethren in the difficult task of our regeneration, against this intrusion of the United States Government in the administration of these islands.

In the same manner, I protest in the name of the Filipino people against the referred-to intrusion; for when they gave me their votes in confidence, electing me, although unworthy to be so, president of the nation, they imposed upon me the duty of sustaining until death its liberty and independence.

And in conclusion, I protest against such an unexpected act which treats of American sovereignty in these islands in the face of all the antecedents that I have in my possession referring to my relations with the American authorities, which are unequivocal testimony that the United States did not take me out of Hongkong to make war against Spain for their own benefit, but for the benefit of our liberty and independence; to which end said authorities verbally promised me their active support and efficacious cooperation.

So that you all may understand it, my beloved brothers, it is the principle of liberty and absolute independence that has been our noble ambition for the purpose of obtaining the desired object, with a force given by the conviction, now very widespread, not to retrace the path of glory that we have passed over.

EMILIO AGUINALDO.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL, Washington:

Following issued by an important officer of insurgent government at Malolos, February 15, 1899, for execution during that evening and night in this city.

OTIS.

"First. You will so dispose that at 8 o'clock at night the individuals of the territorial militia at your order will be found united in all of the streets of San Pedro, armed with their bolos and revolvers, or guns and ammunition, if convenient.

"Second. Philippine families only will be respected; they should not be molested; but all other individuals, of what race they may be, will be exterminated without apprisement [or] compassion after the extermination of the army of occupation.

"Third. The defender of the Philippines in your command will attack the guard at Bilibid and liberate the prisoners and 'presidiarios,' and this accomplished they will be armed, saying to them: 'Brothers, we must avenge ourselves on the Americans and exterminate them, that we may take our revenge for the infamy and treachery which they have committed upon us; have no compassion upon them; attack with vigor; all Filipinos en masse will second you.' 'Long live Filipino independencia.'

"Fifth. The order which will be followed in the attack will be as follows: The sharpshooters of Tondo and Santa Ana will be the attack from without, and these shots will be the signal for the militia of Trozo, Binondo, Quiapo, and Sampaloc to go out into the street and do their duty. Those of Paco, Ermita and Malate, Santa Cruz, and San Miguel will not start out until 12 o'clock, unless they see that their companions need assistance.

"Sixth. The militia of Tondo will start out at 3 o'clock in the morning. If all do their duty our revenge will be complete. Brothers, Europe contemplates us. We know how to die as men shedding our blood in defense of the liberty of our country. Death to the tyrants! War without quarter to the false Americans who have deceived us! Either independence or death!"

General Miller reports, 19th instant, insurgent forces few miles out from Iloilo; believed to be disintegrating. Can maintain his position with present force. Business in city being resumed. He has sent up four representative men—officials from capital of island Negros—where American flag raised and American protection requested against small insurgent force in island. Affairs there and in Cebu very encouraging. Had regular troops arrived would have little difficulty in most important Visaya Islands. Shall endeavor to maintain and improve present promising conditions. Affairs here quiet; small insurgent force east of city driven away yesterday with considerable loss to enemy.

The COMMANDING OFFICER, SIXTH ARTILLERY, Fort McHenry, Md.

(Through commanding general, Department of the East.)

SIR: Referring to General Orders, No. 35, dated Adjutant-General's Office, March 3, 1899, which directs that your regiment be put in readiness for service in the Philippine Islands, the Secretary of War directs me to say that the families of officers and noncommissioned staff officers will be permitted to accompany the troops on the transports.

The Department also desires to be liberal in the matter of transportation of worthy families of other enlisted men who are married at the time order for movement issues, and will offer no objection to the transportation of such families as regimental and company commanders may believe worthy.

Members of families of officers and enlisted men will be required to pay for meals en route at the rate of $1 per capita per day for adults and children over 10 years of age; 50 cents per day for children between the ages of 5 and 10 years, and children under 5 years free.

Owing to the difficulty of transporting animals, officers' horses will not be taken. It is reported that suitable horses can be purchased in Hongkong at about $30 per head.

Mattresses are not used in the Philippines, and will not be taken.

The regiments designated will leave the United States in the following order: Ninth Infantry, Sixth Artillery, Twenty-first Infantry, Thirteenth Infantry, Sixth Infantry, Sixteenth Infantry. Specific orders for the movement will be communicated later, and preparation should be made with the view to sending the heavy baggage, under charge of an officer and detachment, to the port of embarkation in advance of the troops.

Very respectfully, H. C. CORBIN, Adjutant-General.

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE PACIFIC AND EIGHTH ARMY CORPS,
Manila, P. I., January 23, 1899. (Received March 9, 1899.

The ADJUTANT-GENERAL, U. S. ARMY,
Washington, D. C.

SIR: I have the honor to inclose a pamphlet which has been circulated in the Philippines, prepared by Mr. Howard W. Bray, an American citizen, and issued last month. I respectfully call attention to the dedicatory page; also to pages 34, 35, and 36. The paragraph on page 35 sets out the false position which the insurgent government assumes. I am of the opinion that nearly all of our difficulties have arisen from the intermeddling of American citizens of the type of this Mr. Bray, some of whom have been holding places under the Government.

With regard to the occupation of Iloilo and Cebu, those ports might have been occupied easily on December 14, when I cabled for permission to send troops there. Had that been done promptly, the influence of Aguinaldo in those islands would have been met and destroyed. So firmly was I impressed with the necessity for quick action that I had determined to send troops there without waiting instructions, and requested the protection and assistance of the Navy, contending that the petition of the citizens for our interference and the invitation of General Rios to send down troops were sufficient to authorize immediate action. As I had cabled for authority, Admiral Dewey thought it best to await it and not take the responsibility, believing that the Spaniards would hold out a little longer, and in this belief I also shared. The reply to my cabled request was not received till eight days had passed. Had the movement taken place three days sooner, it would have given us a firm foothold in the southern islands without conflict. We may still be successful in peaceably securing it, but I am unable to give assurance in the matter.

At this moment and since writing the above I have received a report from Iloilo, of which the inclosed is a copy. It is self-explanatory. Major Mallory, the writer, was sent there by me to assist General Miller in his delicate duties.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

E. S. OTIS,
Major-General, U. S. Volunteers, Commanding.

[Inclosure No. L.]

U. S. TRANSPORT NEWPORT,
Iloilo Bay, Panay, January 20, 1899—12 m.

GENERAL: I arrived here Wednesday, the 18th, and reported to General Miller immediately, turning over to him your two letters of instructions and copies of my orders, and explaining why I was sent here. I also acquainted him fully with the situation at Manila, and the necessity of avoiding a conflict with the insurgents and of correcting any false impressions the insurgents may have received as to the policy our Government proposes to pursue toward the people of these islands. He fully understands the situation now and will act in accordance with your instructions, based upon the expressed wishes of the President.

From all accounts, no harm was done by the publication here of the President's letter of instructions to you, as the insurgent authorities, General Miller informs me, have remarked to him that they found no material difference between the President's letter and your proclamation, which latter he furnished them as soon as it was received.

The situation here is highly satisfactory. The insurgents understand that we do not propose to attack them, but desire to win their confidence and to maintain the friendly relations now existing.

General Miller and Captain Dyer, of the Baltimore, were invited a few days ago by the "President of the Biscayan Republic" to visit Iloilo and the neighboring towns of Jaro and Molo as his guests, and the invitation was accepted unofficially, and General Miller has invited me to accompany him. We are to go this afternoon, and this visit should serve to confirm the expressions of friendly feeling already communicated to them.

There was a general exodus of Europeans and natives from Iloilo shortly after the arrival of our troops, most of them taking refuge on the opposite island of Guimaras, where they hired native huts at a high rate or else remained in sailing boats near the shore. Now that confidence has been restored, these refugees have returned to Iloilo, reestablished themselves in their homes, opened their shops and gone about their usual avocations. Most of the Europeans have also returned, and at least one bank is open and business generally has been resumed.

According to all accounts, only a small insurgent force, probably several hundred, is now under arms at Iloilo, and the hill men (bolo men), who had come down to loot the town, if not to resist the threatened attack, have returned to their hills. It is said that in their disappointment they burned two large villages in the vicinity of Iloilo before they left. The Iloilo paper of the 17th says the bolo men deposited their weapons here before leaving, and express satisfaction at this and at their departure.

I will remark here that General Miller had established friendly relations with the insurgents before I arrived, and had assured them that should it ever become necessary to attack the town he would give them three days' notice.

In my opinion there is less danger of a conflict here as long as our troops do not attempt a landing than there is at Manila, where the opposing lines confront each other, and the friction in the city itself is almost constant.

General Miller appears to be showing all due forbearance, patience, and judgment, and I think you need feel no special uneasiness about the situation in this quarter.

General Miller has probably informed you that a new man, a lawyer named Malisa, has been in the last few days elected "President of the Biscayan Republic," the former president, Lopez, becoming general of the army. This Malisa is the Mabini of the Biscayas, I understand—a smart, tricky fellow, who furnishes the brains and who detests Americans. This is the account I hear of him. I do not know the truth of it.

I write in haste, as the Rattler, carrying the mail, leaves presently.

Very respectfully,

JOHN S. MALLORY,
Major and Inspector-General.

Military Governor.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 56.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY, ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE, Washington, March 27, 1899.

By direction of the Secretary of War the following batteries will be relieved from duty at their present stations and put in readiness to proceed to the Philippine Islands via San Francisco:

Light Batteries E, First; F, Fourth, and F, Fifth Artillery.

Each battery will take twenty-four selected horses. The remainder will be turned over to the Quartermaster's Department for such disposition as may hereafter be determined upon.

The Quartermaster's Department will arrange for transportation; the Subsistence Department for the necessary subsistence, and the Medical Department for medical attendance and supplies for these batteries.

Departure from present stations will be arranged by department commanders so that the batteries will arrive in San Francisco in time to take the steamer to be hereafter designated to convey them to Manila.

Maj. John L. Tiernon, First Artillery, is assigned to command the Light Artillery Battalion, and will proceed to Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, Mo., in time to move with Light Battery E, First Artillery, to San Francisco.

By command of Major-General Miles:

H. C. CORBIN, Adjutant-General.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL, Washington:

MacArthur, with two brigades, commenced advance on Novaliches, northeast Caloocan, and center of insurgent line at daylight this morning; advancing rapidly and successfully, suffering little. From Novaliches MacArthur will swing to left and strike north of Polo. Wheaton's brigade fronting Caloocan will press forward proper time. Hall's brigade on old line north of Pasig demonstrating west of pumping station. Enemy 12,000 strong on line. Am endeavoring to take large fraction in reverse.

Projected northern movement not yet completed; Otis's and Hale's brigades, with mounted troops Fourth Cavalry, the turning column met heavy resistance over difficult country, and are camped to-night 6 miles east of Polo and 6 miles north of line from which advance was taken up. Wheaton's brigade, Caloocan, drove enemy 1½ miles north across river. Hall on extreme right encountered considerable force and routed it. Fighting heavy near Caloocan. Movement continues in morning. Our casualties about 160, 25 killed; enemy lost in killed alone 200.

AGWAR, Washington:

Attacks on Hall and pumping station last night easily repulsed. MacArthur, with moving column, has driven enemy but can not gain point north of Polo on account of roughness of country; must strike railway south that point. This will enable most of Aguinaldo's troops to escape north; still he may oppose as best of his army, consisting of released prisoners of war, former native Spanish troops, concentrated there. This northern army will be pressed south of city. Three thousand insurgent troops from southern Luzon provinces have concentrated. Lawton will take care of them. Affair satisfactory.

MacArthur had severe fighting yesterday afternoon beyond Marilao; brilliant charge by South Dakota led by Frost, against famed troops of Aguinaldo brought from Malolos; repulsed enemy with slaughter; Adjutant Lien and Lieutenants Adams and Morrison and four enlisted men, that regiment, killed; Lieutenant McClelland and 22 enlisted men wounded; loss yesterday mostly confined to this regiment. Partial destruction of railroad, which is being rapidly repaired, impedes MacArthur's progress; supply railway trains have now reached Marilao and MacArthur is pushing on. Our small gunboats are in Bulacan River, where great execution done yesterday; they will relieve pressure on MacArthur's front materially. Troops in excellent condition and spirits. Yesterday, in the lake region, Lawton pursued insurgents eastward from Santa Cruz, dispersing them; captured all the larger vessel used in the lake trade and Spanish gunboat. He is now endeavoring to pass them from river, where concealed, into lake. He moves to-night by water to another point where considerable insurgent force has assembled. This morning Wheaton drove enemy 10 miles to eastward of railway line of communication with Malolos; Lawton's and Wheaton's casualties few and light, as enemy made no stand. Notified by Spain that she will evacuate Mindoro and Polo soon. Two thousand troops required in those waters; will send them as soon as possible.

OTIS, Manila:

We are getting inquiries from State authorities as to muster out of the Nebraska, Washington, and Minnesota regiments in your command. Have understood from your dispatches that it is their desire to remain as long as they are needed, which under the law can not exceed six months. The President is solicitous that there shall be no misunderstanding among the volunteers, and that their preference shall be regarded.

If it is their wish to be mustered out, that should be done at the very earliest time practicable. If you need them, their retention must be voluntary. These volunteers have done noble service, which the President appreciates. He wants them to choose whether they will come home or remain temporarily in case the exigencies of public service require it.

CORBIN.

NEW YORK, N. Y. (Received April 14, 1899.)

Hon. GEORGE D. MEIKLEJOHN,
Acting Secretary of War, Washington, D. C.

SIR: On March 4, 1899, the honorable Secretary of War entered into a contract for the transportation of the Spanish prisoners from Manila to Spain. The contractors, Messrs. J. M. Ceballos & Co., agreed to provide a sufficient number of steamships in the harbor of Manila to perform the entire service as stipulated in said contract, so that the embarkation of the last Spanish prisoners of war and other persons should be made not later than May 1, 1899. The ships to be used for that purpose are also named and described in the detailed list which was annexed to the contract.

The contractors have called my attention on several occasions to the fact that they are holding two steamships in the harbor of Manila to comply with the terms of the agreement, and they are desirous of knowing if the Government would permit them to use these steamers in the regular course of business, in which event the contract should be so modified that, should the Government be ready to transport more prisoners of war before May 1, sufficient time should be allowed them to send their steamers to Manila. Their demands are, of course, perfectly just, and if there are no more prisoners to be shipped, or the Spanish prisoners in the hands of the Philippine insurgents are not likely to be surrendered before May 1, it would seem wise and proper to allow them to use their ships, for if you ask them to hold their ships then the question of demurrage will arise, and this is one of the questions that I have been most anxious to avoid, and so far no demurrage that I know of has been incurred.

The only solution that I can suggest is for you to indicate to me or assure me that, in the event of their using the steamers which they now have in Manila for their regular business between Manila and Spain for the transshipment of passengers and freight, due notice will be given to the contractors when the Government is ready for any additional transportation of Spanish prisoners under the terms of the contract and that time will be allowed to send the steamers from Spain to Manila, calculating, say thirty days, for the transmission of orders and for the passage of the steamers from Spain to Manila. With this assurance from you, I will advise them to dispatch their steamers back to Spain with passengers who are now anxious to return and such of the Spanish officers—prisoners of war—who, I am informed, are awaiting transportation, but who were, on account of the smallness of their number and by arrangement with General Otis, held back awaiting a full load.

Your usual prompt consideration of this matter will be greatly appreciated by me, in order that I may be able to advise the contractors as to the proper course to pursue.

Very respectfully, yours,

R. A. C. SMITH.

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, April 14, 1899.

MY DEAR SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 8th instant, asking on behalf of Messrs. J. M. Ceballos & Co., contractors for the transportation of Spanish prisoners from the Philippines to Spain, that the Government permit them to use their vessels in their regular business, and that their contract be modified so that, should the Government require prisoners to be transported before May 1 proximo, sufficient time be allowed them to send their ships to Manila, say thirty days' notice.

Replying thereto, I beg to inform you that I have this day, with a view to meeting your request, directed that General Otis be cabled for report as to whether there are any more Spanish prisoners ready to send to Spain, and if not that he be instructed to release the ships of Messrs. Ceballos & Co., now at Manila, in order that they may resume their regular business.

Very respectfully,

Prudence will not permit reduction November estimate of 30,000. Anticipate difficulty in Luzon and extreme southern islands. Can now capture any place on coast or in interior, but permanent occupancy in many instances necessary, as withdrawal of troops always followed by reappearance of enemy who terrorize inhabitants whatever their desires. Majority people, better classes, wish peace and stable government, but armed insurgents, drawn from lower classes, prefer to riot rather by looting than honest labor. Hope to report greatly improved conditions within month, but dislike to anticipate facts by submitting present opinion. In Negros at present native organizations, paid by quartermaster, efficient police, and most of troops can be withdrawn soon. Attorney-General advises furniture, hanging pictures, and like property belonging to Spanish Peninsular government, for example, in captain-general's palace, deliverable to owners. Property in public buildings, used by colonial, island, city governments, in public schools, courts, libraries, art buildings, remain for same or like use. Archives and records useful for government and history of Philippines remain, including church patronage archives. Deposits in treasury belonging private individuals remain for them. Explain question about Spanish bonds, how owned. Records relating to credits, taxes, rents, remain for use. Deliver records, exclusively concerning Philippine loan, including bonds never issued. Spain probably entitled some moneys in treasury and uncollected. Cause expert or legal examination concerning moneys collected and collectible, how, when, and for what objects and periods, and report fully; also how said objects accomplished during period for which uncollected tax levied, also whether there are unpaid salaries of local officials to come out of such moneys,

In purchasing from private parties all Spanish gunboats in Philippine waters held at southern station advertised for sale at public auction, some of which insurgents were endeavoring to secure, I agreed to take them at fair figure, private parties to deliver all property in Manila Bay and navy to furnish protection en route. By some mistake navy did not protect boats; seized by insurgents near Zamboanga and greater portion of armament and ammunition taken by them. Think Spanish authorities, if not conniving, knew insurgent intention to capture. Spanish troops on most friendly terms with insurgents south, and desire to evacuate Zamboanga and Jolo before United States troops arrive, that may not be caught by hostilities, which will follow. Fearing another Iloilo experience at southern port, I have engaged two of the transports which return Spanish troops to Spain to take our troops south, thus holding Spanish garrisons until we arrive and secure peaceable possession of point to be garrisoned. He scattered the strongly intrenched enemy to the north and northwestward, capturing large amounts food supplies, and has his detachments to north and eastward. His successful movement attended with great difficulty, because of character of country, rain, and heat. He now covers our railroad communication and will be supplied from Malolos. MacArthur's column, concentrated, took up advance on San Fernando at 6.30 this morning. Do not apprehend stout resistance on part of enemy, who will probably leave railroad and retire in northeasterly direction to north of Lawton. Destruction of railroad near Calumpit necessitates dependence on wagon transportation. Enemy to south and east of Manila about 9,000, opposed by sufficient force under Ovenshine and Hall; his demonstrations thus far promptly met by these officers with slight losses. WAR DEPARTMENT, QUARTERMASTER-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

Washington, May 13, 1899.

The ADJUTANT-GENERAL OF THE ARMY.

SIR: Messrs. J. M. Ceballos & Co., contractors for the transportation of Spanish prisoners from the Philippine Islands to Spain, have presented an account for the services rendered under their contract, amounting in the aggregate to $1,104,974.39.

The contract entered into between the Secretary of War and J. M. Ceballos & Co. provides for the payment of $215 for each commissioned officer and $73.75 for each enlisted man or other person designated by the Secretary of War for transportation from the Philippine Islands to Spain, an account of the number of officers, enlisted men, or other persons to be taken at the time of embarkation by a representative of the Government and a representative of J. M. Ceballos & Co., and pay to said company to be made upon the basis of the number of officers, enlisted men, and persons counted on each ship.

The bills of Messrs. Ceballos & Co. include charge for officers' wives and children at the same rate per capita as charged for officers, $215 each, charging one fare only for two minor children, and for wives and children of enlisted men at same rate as charged for enlisted men, $73.75, counting one fare for two minor children.

This office has no report of the number of prisoners counted on the ships, and it is repectfully requested that Major-General Otis be requested by cable to report the number of officers, enlisted men, and other persons counted upon each of the ships, giving names of the ships and dates of sailing.

The account presented shows that eleven vessels were employed in transporting the prisoners, and that two of them made a second trip.

Very respectfully,

JAMES M. MOORE,
Assistant Quartermaster-General, U. S. Army,
Acting Quartermaster-General.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

Reported that Zamboanga insurgents attacked Spanish troops 11th instant, using quick-firing guns and arms captured from Spanish gunboats. Spanish general, two other officers wounded; few casualties among troops. Spanish garrisons now besieged, water supply cut off, and troops calling for relief. This attack surprising, as I hold proof that Spanish and insurgent troops on most friendly terms, united in sentiment on necessity of opposing Americans. Can not now send sufficient troops to take and hold securely city and evironments, including water supply, because of extended field of campaign in Luzon. Can permit Spanish troops to withdraw and take town hereafter, though with probable destruction to considerable property. Meditate sending, present week, troops to Jolo to relieve Spanish garrison there.

It would be entirely prudent to inquire of General Otis whether the suggestion of your dispatch is practicable, and if he and Admiral Dewey concur. It could then be done."

At medium range Springfield preferred to Krag; volunteers have done great execution with it. All volunteer expert shots have Krag; have not sufficient Krags for entire command. Situation as follows: Lawton, with tact and ability, has covered Bulacan Province with his column and driven insurgent troops northward into San Isidro, second insurgent capital, which he captured this morning. Is now driving enemy northward into mountains. He has constant fighting, inflicting heavy losses and suffering few casualties. Appearance of his troops on flanks of enemy, behind entrenchments thrown up at every strategic point and town, very demoralizing to insurgents, and has given them no opportunity to reconcentrate scattered troops. Kobbé's column, with gunboats, proceeding up Rio Grande. Will encounter strong resistance; enemy can not withstand. It will unite with Lawton's columns soon. Referring dispatch, 17th instant, reporting Spanish prisoners war transported to Spain, transportation company reported all Spanish troops carried, whether prisoners of war or those drawn from Zamboanga and other southern Spanish stations; our count only covers prisoners of war sent from this port. Company reported 1,123 wives and children of prisoners of war transported; also separately wives and children of troops not Spanish prisoners of war, and civilian employees, not knowing whether United States or Spain would pay transportation of families of prisoners of war. Discrepancies in our count of prisoners and those reported by company not very material.

COMMANDING GENERAL, DEPARTMENT CALIFORNIA,
San Francisco, Cal.:

Nineteenth Infantry has not yet been able to get away from Porto Rico, so that the regiment will hardly be ready to sail on the Sheridan. The Secretary of War feels that the better way would be to send recruits to the capacity of the Sheridan as soon as she can leave, as it is desirable to have this transport at Manila for the return of volunteers. In this connection it is desired to know if there are any field officers going to Manila now in San Francisco. We will be able to get a number of young officers to go, but you can understand the importance of having a number of officers of experience and high rank. If you have not sufficient the Department will make an effort to get officers, now on leave, in time to sail on the Sheridan.

OTIS, Manila:

The President is considering the necessity of enlisting regiments under volunteer act, March 2, 1899. He prefers not to do it if the military situation will permit. The following are the facts upon which he invites your judgment:

You have, and en route, 24,000 regulars, to which we can add 3,100 recruits, thus increasing the size of your companies. In addition, can send one regiment of regulars. If you can organize in the Philippines two or three skeleton regiments, to fill which we will send you volunteer recruits, it will give you more than 30,000. The President desires to know whether you can reenlist 1,000 or more of your volunteers to constitute the nucleus for three regiments, which we can readily fill to full quota by volunteer recruits from here. If this can be done he would want you to select from your best men, volunteers or regulars, as a reward for their gallantry and efficiency, the field officers and captains and as many lieutenants as the number of enlistments with you would entitle them to have. The remaining lieutenants to be sent from here with the recruits. A volunteer army of any size can be enlisted here for service in the Philippines, but it is the President's desire to keep the force within actual military needs.

Terrific heat yesterday did not permit troops to reach positions at hours designated. Enabled majority of insurgents to escape in scattered organizations south and westward, which they effected during the evening and night. Movement great success however; enemy disorganized and routed, suffering heavy loss. Troops resting to-day at Las Piñas and Parañaque. Navy did excellent execution along shore of bay, but many insurgent detachments retired in that direction, protected by presence of women and children who they drove along with them. Our loss, 4 killed and some 30 wounded. Report of casualties later. Conservative estimate of enemy's loss about 400.

By direction of the Acting Secretary of War the following changes of station of troops are ordered:

The Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Infantry, excepting 1 major and 4 companies of each regiment, will be assembled at San Francisco, Cal., and there put in readiness for duty in the Philippine Islands.

The following companies of each regiment will compose the battalion to be assembled at San Francisco, and those not already there will be put en route to that point without delay:

A, C, E, F, G, H, I, and K, Twenty-fourth Infantry; B, E, F, H, I, K, L, and M, Twenty-fifth Infantry.

The remaining companies of the Twenty-fourth Infantry will be distributed as follows:

B, Vancouver Barracks, Wash., with detachments at Fort Walla Walla, Wash., and Boise Barracks, Idaho.

D, at Fort Harrison, Mont., with detachments at Fort Missoula, Mont., and Fort Assinniboine, Mont.

M, New Fort Spokane, Wash., with detachment at Fort Sherman, Idaho.

The major will be assigned to station by the commanding general, Department of the Columbia.

The remaining companies of the Twenty-fifth Infantry will retain their present stations, and the major will be assigned to station by the commanding officer, Department of Texas.

The commanding general, Department of the Colorado, will direct the following changes of troops in his department:

One troop of the Ninth Cavalry from Fort Huachuca, Ariz., to Fort Bayard, N. Mex.

A detachment of 1 officer and 25 men from Fort Duchesne, Utah, to Fort Douglas, Utah.

The commanding general, Department of the Missouri, will direct the following changes of station:

One troop of the First Cavalry from Fort Robinson, Nebr., to Fort Russell, Wyo.

One troop of the Sixth Cavalry from Fort Leavenworth, Kans., to Fort Logan, Colo.

One light battery of the Third Artillery from Fort Riley, Kans., to the Presidio, San Francisco.

The Quartermaster's Department will make the necessary arrangements for the transportation. The Subsistence Department will make the necessary arrangements for subsistence, and the Surgeon-General will make provision for medical supplies and attendance.

Their intrigues with Sultan archipelago defeated in part by unexpected arrival American troops at Jolo. Considerable number Spaniards in insurgent army, and disposition on part large class that population to make all trouble possible. Influential friendly Filipinos openly charge Spaniards with fomenting discord, and ask none be appointed to office. Insurgent attack on Zamboanga Spanish forces the result of Spanish officer permitting insurgents, if not conniving with them, to take arms and ammunition from gunboats purchased by us. Property landed near city without interference on insurgents' promise that they would use it wholly against Americans. Insurgents sought possession of city before United States troops could arrive; hence turned on Spaniards. Insurgents now ask that our forces occupy city. Referring to my dispatch of 15th, indicating proposed assignment of troops to sail on the Zealandia, Pennsylvania, Sheridan, and Valencia, the Zealandia has sailed with troops as indicated, except headquarters Twenty-fourth Infantry, which I retained here, and the Sheridan will sail to-morrow with the troops indicated in my dispatch; but owing to increase in size of the companies to 128 and necessary changes in the Valencia, which reduced her capacity, the Pennsylvania and Valencia will not carry as many organizations as mentioned in my dispatch of 15th. I therefore intend to take the City of Para, to sail about July 12, which, in dispatch of 17th, I recommended for the Nineteenth Infantry, and fill her with the overflow from the two ships just mentioned; also the four troops Fourth Cavalry, two here and two to arrive from Yellowstone, and the headquarters Fourth Cavalry; also Engineer company at Willets Point, which it is understood is to go, if you will send it in time, filling the balance of the ship with recruits. This will clear up the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Infantry, raised to 128 each company, the whole of the Fourth Cavalry, and leave the Nineteenth Infantry for some later ship, which would be a better arrangement in any event, as only a portion of the Nineteenth could go on the Para.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL, Washington:

Rainy season. Little island campaigning possible in Luzon. We occupy large portion Tagalog country, lines stretching from Imus south to San Fernando; north, nearly sixty miles, and to eastward into Laguna province. Insurgent armies have suffered great losses and are scattered; only large force held together about 4,000 in Tarlac province and northern Pampanga. Their scattered forces in bands of fifty to five hundred in other portions Luzon; in Cavite and Batangas provinces could assemble possibly 2,000, though demoralized from recent defeat; mass of people terrorized by insurgent soldiers, desire peace and American protection; no longer flee on approach our troops unless forced by insurgents, but gladly welcome them; no recent burning of towns; population within our lines becoming dense, taking up land cultivation extensively; kept out Manila much as possible, as city population becoming too great to be cared for. Natives southeast Luzon combining to drive out insurgents; only hope insurgent leaders is United States aid. They proclaim near overthrow present administration, to be followed by their independence and recognition by United States. This is the influence which enables them hold out; much contention prevails among them and no civil government remains; trade with ports not in our possession, former source insurgent revenue now interdicted; not certain of wisdom of this policy, as people in those ports are without supply of food and merchants suffering losses; meditate restoring trade privileges, although insurgents reap benefits. Courts here in successful operation under direction of able Filipinos. Affairs in other islands comparatively quiet, awaiting results in Luzon. All anxious for trade and repeated calls for American troops received. Am giving attention to Jolo Archipelago and Palauan Islands. Our troops have worked to limit of endurance. Volunteer organizations have been called in; replaced by regulars, who now occupy salient positions. Nebraska, Pennsylvania, and Utah now taking transports, and Sixth Infantry sent to Negros to relieve California. These troops leave in good physical condition; sickness among troops has increased lately, due mostly to arduous service and climatic influences. Nothing alarming. Of the 12 per cent of the command reported sick, nearly 6 in general hospitals, of whom 3 per cent have typhoid and 17 malarial fevers; 25 per cent have intestinal trouble; remaining 55 per cent have various ailments, 14 of which due to wound injuries. Many officers and men who served in Cuba break under recurrence Cuban fever, and regular regiments lately received are inadequately officered.

Reported situation just cabled. Will probably raise nucleus two volunteer regiments. Volunteers suffering from nostalgia. Will be too weak for a time to make extensive offensive movement in force, and, indeed, wet weather forbids it, except on isolated (?) towns. The insurgent cause may collapse at any time, and the ablest Philippine citizens expect it soon. I am not sanguine. Troops should be sent until 30,000 are on hand effective for the field, not counting staff corps. This requires from 35,000 to 40,000 troops of the line. That number is sufficient and is based on calculations of last November.

The Valencia and Pennsylvania will be gotten off just as soon as possible. Both are awaiting arrival of troops. Two companies Twenty-fifth Infantry now here and two more expected to-night.

Valencia can certainly get off by 30th and possibly by 29th. On account of companies being increased by assignment of recruits to 128 a little delay here is unavoidable. The Pennsylvania will be delayed a few days longer waiting arrival of companies of Twenty-fourth, one company of which regiment left Assinniboine to-day.

General Merriam telegraphs to-day companies Twenty-fourth at Douglas and Russell have just arrived at posts from riot duty in Idaho. I believe the Pennsylvania can be gotten away by the 3d or 4th.

By sending companies of the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Infantry and Fourth Cavalry, now here, without regard to regimental or battalion organizations, and completing loading with about 500 recruits, of which there are at Presidio to-day 2,700, the Valencia can go to-morrow and the Pennsylvania two days later. I do not think that the troops sent this way will be as efficient on arrival as if sent in battalion organizations, but the early departure of the transports appearing to be the important consideration, I will send them as I have stated, headquarters, band and 2 troops of Fourth Cavalry, and 2 companies of the Twenty-fifth Infantry on the Valencia, band and 1 company of the Twenty-fourth Infantry, 2 companies of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, and about 500 recruits on the Pennsylvania.

Greatly appreciate expressed confidence. Have no individual desires nor personal ambition other than to promote interest of Government. Every movement so far-reaching in consequence and the best Filipinos so unappreciative of republican institutions are having so little confidence in humanity that extreme caution must be combined with boldness and celerity of execution. Every stroke of the Army given to secure political effect. In Visayan Islands troops hold comparatively quiet, exercising general supervision and faction will war with each other and Tagalos will be driven out. In Manila the families of the most distinguished insurgent officers now living, others coming in. Still some hard fighting necessary in Luzon soon as conditions permit. Weather and exchange of one army for another would neutralize attempted efforts at present. Army, Navy, and remaining members of commission in hearty accord and best of feeling prevails. GENERAL ORDERS, No. 135.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, July 22, 1899.

By direction of the Secretary of War, the following changes in stations of troops are hereby ordered:

The headquarters and troops A, C, D, E, F, K, L, and M, Third U. S. Cavalry, are relieved from duty at their present stations, and will proceed by rail, properly equipped for field service, with their horses, baggage, and equipment, to Seattle, Wash., for transportation to the Philippine Islands, to be reported upon arrival to the commanding general, Department of the Pacific.

The band of the regiment will remain on duty at Fort Myer, Va.

Troops B, G, and I are relieved from duty at their present stations, and will proceed with their equipment and such horses as may be left with them to the Department of the East, for assignment at Fort Myer, Va.

Department commanders where troops affected by this order are now stationed will, from the forces remaining at their disposal, arrange for such detachments as may be necessary to guard and protect the public property and buildings left vacant, and will, by concert of action, arrange with the commanding general, Department of California, for the details of the movement.

Those troops designated for service in the Philippine Islands will be filled to the maximum strength of 120 men by transfer of recruits from the San Francisco depot, and the Quartermaster's Department will provide by transfer and purchase sufficient horses to mount the command.

Commanding officers will report their departure from present stations, stating strength of commands and hour of arrival at destination by telegraph to the War Department.

The Quartermaster's Department will provide the necessary transportation and forage, the Subsistence Department suitable travel rations, and the Medical Department medicines and medical attendance en route.

Settlement regarding shipping Spanish civil prisoners subject of correspondence; Spanish officials here claim that under sixth article treaty, United States obligated to transport to Spain all prisoners who escaped through aid United States troops, but not Spanish prisoners of war nor civil prisoners whose release effected through Spain's negotiations with insurgents. Hence, all prisoners who have escaped and entered our lines, and all who shall escape, United States must repatriate. To this argument shall reply that article 6 obligates United States to release prisoners through friendly intercession with insurgents, but not to fight for them, as when treaty signed insurgents friendly to us; therefore obligations at an end when friendly intercession tried and failed, but that under discretion conferred will furnish transportation to all prisoners who have thus far escaped from insurgents because of our advance inland; this not because of legal obligation, but through spirit of comity. This action not to be precedent for future action. Shall this position be taken?

There also will be sent in the same ship 800,000 feet of the 1,200,000 feet lumber, requests by Pope, and a proportionate quantity of corrugated iron roofing. Arrangements completed to load in the same vessel carrying animals sufficient forage feed en route and last them about three months after arrival Manila. About 580 paulins, large size, will be sent in the same ship, in order to assist protecting forage. Will this be sufficient for present requirements? Fifty wagons and harness, 200 team mules, 126 pack mules, with equipment of aparejos and packers, 15 citizen farriers, and remainder of 2,000 horses will be sent from San Francisco, from time to time, probably within next forty days, with two or three months' forage supply. We propose sending in the same vessel carrying these animals 500 additional paulins, in order to protect forage. The problem of forage supply for a large number of animals going over is of the utmost importance, and until other arrangements can be made considerable supply will be sent at one time on animal vessels in order to complete their loading. MANILA. (Received August 10, 1899—10.53 a. m.)

SECRETARY OF WAR, Washington:

Reported that insurgents hold 2,000 Spanish prisoners, Abra province, northern Luzon; about 2,000 others scattered over Luzon. Can send troops north to relieve, latter part September. Minister Storer's dispatch misleading as to Madrid action taken. Madrid instructs Commission here to secure permission to take vessel, Spanish flag, to northern Luzon and ransom prisoners individually, promising insurgents full, final compliance with their demands; thus propose to allay suspicion Americans, and, as said, throw them off track. Vessel flying other than American flag will not be permitted to enter other than open ports, and Spanish application, now before me, will be denied. Delay in negotiations between Spain and insurgents, inspired latter with belief that their recognition seriously considered in Europe and they have issued decree closing Philippine port to American vessels, inviting those of foreign nations. This gratifying as enable us to resist importunities of resident merchants, and Luzon ports will be closed at once. Good condition to do so, as large stock of hemp and tobacco recently brought in, and tobacco house, Manila, employing large native force, can continue business. Policy adopted by insurgents mounted to ——— interests and gives us advantage. They have destroyed one merchant vessel north and may destroy others, but nearly all vessels in. Movements of our troops north will interfere with their international speculations.

Secretary of War specially desires to know what, with all the light you now have, you consider an undoubtedly adequate force for complete suppression of insurrection during the coming dry season. In view of the impatience of the public, which may effect legislative provision for conduct of war, rapid and thorough action is important. The Secretary would rather err on the safe side in sending too many troops than too few. He desires to know what conclusion you reach after full consultation with your general officers as to forces required, especially of cavalry.

Estimating necessary force, question enter, which depends for solution upon success negotiations, being conducted by J. C. Bates, Jolo. Should natives of Jolo Archipelago and Mindanao become actively hostile, 15,000 men would be required in extreme southern waters. Have reason to believe that negotiations will be successful. Have consulted general officers repeatedly on force required in Philippines; none place it higher than 50,000 effectives. I estimate force here and being organized at 40,000 effectives for the field, after deducting probable ratios of sick and disabled. The force fully adequate for Luzon, central islands, and light garrisons of extreme south. With present force could send column through Luzon successfully, but inhabitants, when cities taken, appeal for permanent protection against returning insurgents. This scatters troops over large extent territory. To meet possible contingencies and demands of people United States that larger force be sent here, request that fifteen volunteer regiments, in addition to those now being organized, be raised and sent to Philippines for garrison purposes. We are now exchanging armies and shipping troops as fast as received; necessarily great labor, with facilities at hand and primitive condition of harbors. The Third, Fourth, and Lockett's regiment (cavalry), will give sufficient mounted troops, as when country opens can secure ponies and mount infantry when necessary. American horses require American forage. United States overestimates insurgents' armed strength and cohesion. When Tagalos overpowered organized armed opposition will cease. Length of war depends upon celerity with which troops sent here. Active operations will not await return dry season, as that three months in future.

Declined, 10th instant, to permit Spanish vessel to overload northern Luzon. Request resubmitted 12th instant, based on dictates humanity, still withheld, and meantime Madrid cabled that Spanish authorities here must not attempt anything not approved by home Government. To which Commission replied that Government should state wishes, otherwise voyage north useless and insurgents will charge their proposition not responded to. Government should state if willing to offer three million and promise payment certain bonds; that if commissioner obliged to return to Manila for information will excite suspicion Americans. To which Madrid replied that Commission must not make final agreement, but present to Madrid desire of insurgents; that in this affair it wishes to act in accord with and with frankness toward American Government. Now believe that request to send out Spanish vessel will be withdrawn.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 151.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY, ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE, Washington, August 19, 1899.

By direction of the Secretary of War, the following changes in station of troops are hereby announced:

The Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, Thirty-first, and Thirty-fourth Regiments Infantry, U. S. Volunteers, are hereby relieved from duty at their present stations and will proceed by rail to San Francisco, Cal., for embarkation at that point for the Philippine Islands, to be reported upon arrival to the commanding general, Department of the Pacific. Mounted officers may take their horses. The regiments will be fully armed and equipped and supplied with 200 rounds of ammunition per man and proper tentage. Personal baggage will be limited to clothing actually necessary for immediate field service.

Department commanders where troops affected by this order are now stationed will by concert of action arrange with commanding general, Department of California, for details of movement, and report hour of departure and strength of commands by telegraph to the War Department.

The quartermaster's department will provide the necessary transportation, the subsistence department suitable travel rations, and the medical department proper medical attendance and supplies.

Chinese minister requests that 700 Chinese on steamer Esmerelda, with certificates of Amoy Taotoy, viséed by American consul, be allowed to land as exception to rule of exclusion based on military authority. This would relieve somewhat strained diplomatic situation, at the same time commit Chinese Government to recognition of the rule. Secretary of State considers permission very desirable. Secretary of War directs give permission unless the exception would cause substantial injury.

Three insurgent officers permitted to enter our lines at Angeles with 12 of our soldiers and 2 citizens, whom they wished to present as released prisoners yesterday; in conference endeavored to present communication from insurgent government, which was declined; then presented paper signed by ten of the soldiers, in which soldiers gave parole; this received and held in abeyance; insurgent officers then said that Aguinaldo desired to end war and send in civil commission for conference, and were informed that it would not be received. They will be sent beyond lines to-morrow; the whole affair believed to be a ruse to obtain some acknowledgment by United States authorities. All soldiers returned were stragglers from within our lines, captured by robbers; they say they were obliged to sign parole to secure release, though two refused to sign; the whole affair of no significance; viewed as attempt at masquerading.

Gen. H. C. CORBIN, War Department, Washington, D. C.:

The arrival at this port yesterday on the transport Puebla from Manila of 100 discharged soldiers, nearly all of them without money, leads me to invite your attention again to the recommendation hitherto made that in future all soldiers be sent to San Francisco to be discharged and no more discharged in Manila. I would suggest that all men whose term of service expires in December be started for San Francisco early in November, thus bringing them here about the time their service expires, and that this plan of shipment be carried out in future in cases of all discharged soldiers in Manila. The adoption of this plan will insure the men having at least money enough to carry them to their respective homes after reaching San Francisco. As it is now many discharged soldiers are only able to reach home by reason of the charitable assistance of the good women of the Red Cross Society of this State. These discharged men of course receive their pay at Manila, but the pitfalls of Manila, Nagasaki, and Yokohama are too much for them and they consequently reach San Francisco in a destitute condition.

Wheaton's expedition, 2,500 strong, transports Sheridan and Aztec and two coasting steamers, convoyed by three war vessels, left for Lingayen Gulf this morning. MacArthur's troops advanced to Magalang yesterday, clearing country between Angeles and Arayat, encountered about 1,000 of enemy at different points. O'Brien with battalion Seventeenth Infantry, two troops Fourth Cavalry, and Slaven's scouts, moving on roads from Calulut, east of Angeles, encountered and drove enemy direction of Magalang, who left 49 dead on field. O'Brien captured 28 prisoners, 14 rifles. Colonel Smith with other two battalions Seventeenth, Hamilton's battery First Artillery, and Engineers and Signal Detachments, moved on direct road from Angeles to Magalang, capturing latter place, inflicting loss on enemy in killed and wounded of about 100, capturing 50 prisoners, large amount insurgent transportation; our casualties reported at 12 wounded in part. Severe heavy rains last three days have rendered decisive movements by Lawton's troops impossible; he now has abundant supplies at San Isidro and farther north, and will operate to the north and westward when the country now submerged permits.

Spanish commission sent to Tarlac to make arrangements for release Spanish prisoners; returned few days ago. Aguinaldo would not treat with them as Spain had not formally recognized insurgent government. General MacArthur telegraphs to-day that he has just received at Mabalacat, under flag truce, communication from insurgent secretary war, dated 5th instant, asking that if I am powerless to formally receive Spanish prisoners from insurgent government, I cable Washington for permission to do so, as this in interests of humanity. Letter states if insurgent application not granted, insurgent government will regard its humane offer withdrawn, and remarks that their national pride imposes duty of not delivering prisoners except to a nation; that Spain can not receive them because Otis opposes, and Otis does not desire to receive them. Communication concludes by stating that in view of difficulties this affair will have to be completely terminated to the prejudice of the unfortunate prisoners, much to the regret and without any responsibility on the part of the insurgent government. In response to former insurgent application I have informed Aguinaldo that we would be glad to receive and take care of all the prisoners if he would simply send them in. The insurgents never intended to give prisoners up unless they could force money payments and recognition in exchange. They have not brought them in from the mountains. Aguinaldo now reported to be in full retreat for Bayombong; his government believed to be much scattered.

General Lawton experiences some difficulties on account of continued unprecedented rains in that section of country; his advance at San José yesterday; at Carranglan to-day; strong force put through on Aliaga route. Young captured yesterday considerable additional Cabanatuan Arsenal property in transit north, among which 144 two-inch, and 22 boxes of 1.65 inch ammunition for Hotchkiss guns; 50 projectiles for 5 and 8 inch breech-loading rifle cannon; 2 boxes of grenades; considerable other ordnance property; 2 tons casting and arsenal machinery, in parts. He is meeting with opposition, but advance not much impeded thereby. MacArthur reconnoitering north of Mabalacat yesterday, Bell to left; Slavens's scouts directed to front, and Smith, Seventeenth Infantry, on Magalang and Concepcion road. Bell, Thirty-sixth, with 5 of his officers and 2 privates of his regiment, mounted, 1 officer and 10 men Fourth Cavalry, struck 100 insurgents in mountains west of Mabalacat, charged, killing and wounding 19, captured 6, and 30 Mauser rifles. Railroad from Angeles to Bamban destroyed. MacArthur will have 40,000 rations to front to-day, and will take up advance to Tarlac to-morrow. Wheaton reports 28 Spanish prisoners secured; 300 insurgent recruits escaped to mountains from enemy during battle San Fabian; these recruits were en route to Dagupan. Wheaton says everything favorable to carrying out successfully his instructions and that cooperation of navy complete.

Among the dispatches the following appears:

"TARLAC, November 5, 1899.

"Otis did not accept proposition to-day; enemy attacked our outposts because Otis promised McKinley to take Tarlac to-day; think they can not break through; take care of prisoners, as therein lies our great hopes, especially our wives. There is no use miscruit either by the government or by Miong. Spanish commissioners tried to deceive us, dealing with us as insurgents; our government sent them away and they withdrew greatly displeased; quadruple alliance between Germany, France, Russia, and Spain is a fact; before December we will know our fate; throughout Europe there is sympathy for our cause; American Democrats clearly in our favor; they are sure of Bryan's triumph next election; pay no attention to your affairs and never mind the rest."

Meanwhile Sandakan vessels clearing for Jolo, which declared free port, from there seek other Philippine ports with merchandise. One merchant vessel seized, brought here and fined; another reported here with merchandise and made to discharge——— as manifested; have permitted some Sulu trade by Manila merchants in vessels chartered by government, supplying Sulu military station, which is constantly kept under guard. If protocol 1877 and 1885 granting free trade in archipelago, fall under Paris treaty, affair greatly simplified. MacArthur's advance, Thirty-sixth Volunteers and cavalry troop under Bell, entered Tarlac 7.10 p. m. yesterday; enemy fled; by great labor MacArthur succeeded in getting forward to Capas yesterday all artillery and quartermaster's transportation, and will have command in Tarlac to-day; his advance pushing forward to save as much of railroad as possible, which enemy trying to destroy on retreat. Many deserters from enemy, who passed into MacArthur some 30 rifles yesterday. Insurgents in that section reported to be short of provisions. Lawton pushing forward with great energy; his advance obliged to leave behind all transportation and depend to great extent upon country for subsistence. Hayes, Fourth Cavalry, in vicinity of Carranglan, has captured large amount insurgents' property and nearly half battalion of 400 bolomen transporting Aguinaldo's property north over mountains, together with his private secretary and seven of his officers. Young, with Third Cavalry, and Batson's Macabebe scouts, followed by Ballance's battalion Twenty-second Infantry, leaving behind all transportation, pushed out on San Jose. Lupao, San Quintin, and Tayug road, and scattered enemy stationed at these points, most of whom driven southwestward. Wessels, with squadron Third Cavalry, hastened forward to Tayug, where insurgents' supply depot captured, securing several hundred thousand pounds of rice, 3,500 pounds flour, 7,500 pounds salt, other provisions, 1,300 uniform coats, new, many blankets and other articles of clothing, also number of insurgent officers, and 69 Spanish and 2 American prisoners. Detachment sent north to San Nicolas, and is believed that Young established communication with Wheaton's troops last evening. Indications are that insurgents will not escape to mountain capital at Bayombong without great difficulty and loss, if at all. Our troops at Tarlac, Aliaga, Talavera, San José, Lupao, Humingan, San Quintin, Tayug, San Nicolas, on through to Lingayen Gulf, with strong stations at Arayat, San Isidro, and Cabanatuan, should cause insurgents some annoyance. ADJUTANT-GENERAL, Washington:

One of the contending insurgent factions at Zamboanga secured the city and turned same over to Captain Very, of United States war vessel in harbor; other insurgent faction made demonstration against city and Very called on Jolo for troops; one company sent; the commanding officer asked permission to send three additional, leaving two there; two companies will be dispatched from Jolo. Both Jolo and Zamboanga must be reenforced as soon as practicable; it will require several days. It was not intended to take possession of Zamboanga until later; no provision made. Latter part September members insurgent government in Cotabato district, southern Mindanao, beheaded. New government formed, which calls for United States troops; cities Cotabato, Davao, Surigao, northeast point Mindanao, of importance; troops will be sent to these points when available. Hughes moving in Panay with two columns; insurgents have retreated from southeastern portion of island.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL, Washington:

Dispatch 21st from Lawton at Tayug reports Young with cavalry and Macabebe scouts at Aringay, with advance north to Baoang, near San Fernando; about to move on trail east to Trinidad. Young reports considerable insurgent force moving in that direction; that Aguinaldo in charge seeking to cross over to Bayombong; portion of Lawton's troops now being pushed through to Tayug with rations; battalion Twenty-fourth will join Lawton to-morrow. Nothing from Wheaton for several days. Intend to direct him first opportunity to occupy San Fernando and Vigan. MacArthur operating west of railroad and north of Tarlac; wire from Tarlac north not working. Troops on entire railroad line rationed without difficulty. Iloilo reports seven companies, Sixth and Twenty-sixth Volunteers, under Dickman, struck insurgents northeast Jaro; casualties 6 wounded; enemy left on field 18 killed. Dickman captured 7 prisoners, 4 one-pound brass field pieces, several thousand rounds ammunition. Eighteenth Infantry yesterday drove insurgents north of Santa Barbara. Hughes with column north and west of Santa Barbara. Reports of results not yet received.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL, Washington:

Claim to government by insurgents can be made no longer under any fiction; its treasurer, secretary interior, and president of congress in our hands; its president and remaining cabinet officers in hiding, evidently in different central Luzon provinces; its generals and troops in small bands scattered through these provinces, acting as banditti, or dispersed, playing the rôle of amigos with arms concealed; indications are that Aguinaldo did not escape through the lines of Lawton or Wheaton, but fled westward from Bayambang railroad station. Telegraphic communication to Dagupan established probably to San Fabian to-day. By relaying 9 miles of track with material at hand railway communication to that point reestablished. Labor of troops must attend maintenance. To the south and east of Manila 4,000 armed insurgents concentrated in three bodies; they will receive attention soon.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL, Washington:

In Panay, 21st instant, when Dickman drove enemy vicinity Jaro, Carpenter with two battalions, Eighteenth Infantry and Bridgeman's Battery, had severe engagement at Pavia, north Iloilo; his casualties, 5 killed, 20 wounded, now in Iloilo hospital; others slightly wounded with command. Enemy driven north with reported very heavy loss; particulars not received. Carpenter passed on to insurgent's stronghold, Santa Barbara, which he captured 22d instant without loss. Nothing received from column under immediate command Hughes, which is moving rapidly and operating north and west of Santa Barbara. Apparently Visayans friendly, not taking active part; enemy consists of 2,000 Tagalos.

Vessel from Lingayen Gulf, with dispatches from Wheaton to 23d instant, brought in Buencamino, insurgent secretary state, captured 21st instant; he was with Aguinaldo, and party left Tarlac night 13th, to be escorted north by 2,000 troops from Bayambang and Dagupan; these troops Wheaton struck at San Jacinto, and Young eastward. Aguinaldo, with part of family, escaped north with 200 men, passing between Young and Wheaton; Young still in pursuit last accounts, and has been rationed at San Fernando. Aguinaldo's mother and oldest child, with Buencamino, separated from rest of party; mother lost in woods, and child, 4 years old, with Wheaton's troops; $2,000 gold belonging to mother captured and now in Manila treasury. Heavy storm in Lingayen has prevented loading of troops there for the north. MacArthur has captured insurgent director of railroad, who endeavored destroy railroad to Dagupan; also Captain Lawrence, Englishman, who served Aguinaldo's artillery. Telegraph not working north of Tarlac to-day. Lawton believed to be on military road to Bayambang. Roads now practicable for wagons, and supplies for him being forwarded.

Steamer from San Fabian yesterday brought 115 Spanish prisoners, $75,000 insurgent government money, and other property, captured by Lawton's troops near Tayug on 25th. Wheaton's troops, Fowler's company, Thirty-third, drove enemy westward from Mangataren, few miles southwest Dagupan; captured 5 3-inch muzzle-loading guns, 12 rifles, 12,000 rounds Maxim cartridges, 1,000 shrapnel, 800 pounds powder, and other property; also 94 Spanish and 7 American prisoners. Bell, with Thirty-sixth Infantry, in pursuit and will march down western Luzon coast. Indications are two or three bodies insurgent troops, numbering probably 500 or more men each, in mountains west of railroad; can be readily handled by MacArthur. They have the bulk of the insurgent artillery, all of which will be captured unless buried. Young still in pursuit of Aguinaldo, who is heading for Bangued, few miles east Vigan. Young, with cavalry and scouts, is followed by battalion Thirty-third and by Ballance's battalion Twenty-second; two battalions Thirty-third en route for Vigan by military post road. Young's reception by inhabitants enthusiastic; they give all aid possible. Aguinaldo has collected more than 1,000 of his troops at the north; probably most will desert him. Number small detachments insurgent troops throughout country north of Manila have been captured and inhabitants manifest gratitude for deliverance. Indications are that insurgent force south of Manila disintegrating and troops going to their homes. Reports from southern islands favorable. Zamboanga insurgents surrendered to our troops and no trouble anticipated there.

Hughes reports from central Panay that Iloilo Province one-third island cleared of insurgents; by forced marches with two battalions from Lambunao, by way of Calinog, he obliged enemy to fight at Pavia on 26th instant, and drove him, with loss, to the mountains in detached bodies, capturing 10 fieldpieces, of which 2 breechloaders, also 9 rifles, and several thousand rounds small ammunition. Hughes' casualties, Captain Warwick, Eighteenth Infantry, and Private Daniel W. Humphreys, K, Eighteenth Infantry, killed; he reports his troops in excellent health; is now converting wheel into pack transportation for purpose of entering mountains; expected that he will pass on to Capiz, northern coast of island. Dispatches from Lawton indicate Bayombong captured, 28th instant; both trails over mountains impracticable for wheel transportation of any kind; troops have subsisted on rice, and scant supply of that. MacArthur's troops have had several minor engagements, capturing men and rifles. Bell's capture in mountains includes 14 modern guns, all in good condition. Over 50 pieces of artillery captured by troops of corps in last three weeks. Oregon brought in 106 Spanish prisoners from Vigan yesterday; 94 received by rail previous evening. General Young, with thirteen companies infantry and nine troops cavalry, not heard from since 29th ultimo. He was then about 20 miles south Vigan, and most of troops marching to his support, but then had with him three troops cavalry, battalion Thirty-third Infantry, and Macabebe scouts. One company Thirty-third Infantry sent by boat to Vigan to reenforce navy there. Lieutenant-Colonel Parker, Forty-fifth, reports from Vigan 5th instant that he has not heard from Young for a week. Insurgents, 800 strong, made attack on his force, consisting B Company and 153 sick and foot-sore men Thirty-third Infantry 4 o'clock morning 4th, entering city in darkness; severe street fighting ensued; continued four hours; enemy driven out, leaving behind 40 dead, 32 prisoners, including many officers, and 84 rifles. Now on outskirts intrenching. Parker says can hold out indefinitely; plenty rations and ammunition; his loss, 8 enlisted men killed, 3 wounded; 160 men now being transported from San Fabian to his relief. Young must be in vicinity with large force.

OFFICE OF THE MILITARY GOVERNOR IN THE PHILIPPINES,
Manila, P. I., December 10, 1899.

The SECRETARY OF WAR,
Washington, D. C.

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of War Department communication of October 27, 1899, containing information of the conditional approval of the agreement of August 20 last between General Bates and the Sultan of Sulu by His Excellency the President of the United States, and to inclose instructions on the subject which have been given to General Bates, who is now present in command of that section of the Philippines.

Very respectfully,

E. S. OTIS,
Major-General, U. S. V.,
U. S. Military Governor in the Philippines.

OFFICE OF THE U. S. MILITARY GOVERNOR IN THE PHILIPPINES,
Manila, P. I., December 10, 1899.

Brig. Gen. J. C. BATES, U. S. V.,
Commanding District of Mindanao and Jolo, Zamboanga, Mindanao.

SIR: I am directed to inclose for your information, action, and guidance a copy of a confidential War Department communication dated October 27 last, which contains notice of the approval of His Excellency the President of the United States of the agreement of August 20, 1899, between yourself, as agent of the Government, and the Sultan and several dattos of the Jolo Archipelago, subject, however, to the conditions stipulated in the last clause of Article XI of the late Paris treaty, and which reads as follows:

"The civil rights and political status of the native inhabitants of the territory hereby ceded to the United States shall be determined by Congress."

This conditional approval, it will be seen by reference to the War Department communication, is given with the distinct understanding that the existence of slavery or involuntary servitude in any portion of the Philippines is in no wise authorized, as under the thirteenth amendment of the United States Constitution the authorization or recognition of the continued slavery status by the Executive of the Government is impossible.

You will carefully note the instructions in the communication which directs that when the Sultan is informed of the President's conditional approval of the agreement, that inquiry be made as to the extent which slavery is practiced in the archipelago, the number of people held as slaves, and what practical course of action looking to their emancipation can be adopted.

By reference to notes of your interviews and conferences with the Sultan and his representatives, which accompanied the agreement when submitted to this office, and from information obtained from other sources, it is believed that the market price of slaves in the archipelago is insignificant, ranging from $30 to $90 Mexican, and that in some instances owners will be pleased to grant freedom to their slaves if they can escape the burden of supporting them.

It is understood, too, that the character of domestic slavery existing in the archipelago differs greatly from the former slavery institutions of the United States in this that the Moro slave, so called, becomes a member of the owner's family, enjoying certain privileges, and that he often voluntarily sells himself to better his condition and to secure some slight temporary individual benefit. Hence it is desired that you report upon the character of this Moro slavery, in order that the institution as existing may be fully appreciated. The number of slaves secured by the Moros through capture or by purchase from other bands, tribes, or races, and now held by them, and the number of them in use who have voluntarily or involuntarily entered the condition of slavery, might be approximately stated.

You will conduct your inquiries with a caution prescribed in the inclosed War Department communication, making full report of the results of the same to this office as soon as practicable. You will also extend your investigation, with a report thereon, to other Philippine islands inhabited by Moros and where they have planted their domestic institutions.

Very respectfully, C. H. MURRAY,
Major and Inspector-General, U. S. V., Military Secretary.

[Inclosure.]

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, October 27, 1899.

Maj. Gen. E. S. OTIS,
Commanding United States Forces in the Philippines, Manila, P. I.

SIR: The President instructs me to advise you that the agreement signed August 20, 1899, between Brig. Gen. John C. Bates, representing the United States, of the one part, the Sultan of Jolo, the Datto Rajah Muda, the Datto Attik, the Datto Calbi, and the Datto Joakanain, of the other part, is confirmed and approved, subject to the action of Congress provided for in that clause of the treaty of peace between the United States and Spain which provides "the civil rights and the political status of the native inhabitants of the territory hereby ceded to the United States shall be determined by Congress," and with the understanding and reservation, which should be distinctly communicated to the Sultan of Jolo, that this agreement is not to be deemed in any way to authorize or give the consent of the United States to the existence of slavery in the Sulu Archipelago, a thing which is made impossible by the thirteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

At the same time, when you communicate to the Sultan the above-mentioned understanding, the President desires that you should make inquiry as to the number of persons held in slavery in the archipelago, and what arrangement it may be practicable to make for their emancipation. It is assumed that the market price referred to in the agreement of August 20, 1899, is not very high at present, and it may be that a comparatively moderate sum, which Congress might be willing to appropriate for that purpose, would suffice to secure freedom for the whole number.

It is needless to suggest that the inquiry should be prosecuted in such a way as not to create the impression that we now have authority to make such an arrangement, and in such a manner as not to create extravagant expectations.

Very truly, yours,

ELIHU ROOT,
Secretary of War.

Schwan concentrated Thirtieth, battalion Thirty-seventh, and Thirty-ninth Infantry at and near San Pablo, Laguna Province, afternoon, 20th; Hayes with cavalry striking for Tayabas by lower road; enemy had advanced from Santa Cruz to very strongly fortified positions, San Diego, Majayjay, and adjacent points; country very broken and mountainous. Schwan struck enemy at San Diego in engagement lasting two hours; killed 82, wounded large number; our casualties, 1 enlisted man killed, 14 wounded, including 3 native scouts; captured several rifles, ammunition, bolos, and stock of uniform clothing. On 22d Schwan pushed on through to Lilio, driving enemy back on Majayjay, where force, as reported by escaped Spanish prisoners, numbering between 1,500 and 3,000, well equipped and supplied, had concentrated, waiting approach of troops; this position impregnable via roads or trails; troops working round on either flank of enemy; retreated rapidly; Thirtieth Infantry and cavalry in pursuit; believed that insurgents widely dispersed; country now covered by troops, and force occupies Santa Cruz; few minor engagements at other points, resulting considerable loss to enemy. MacArthur telegraphs that McRae struck insurgent post in mountains, northwest Porac, capturing arsenal, barracks, 10 cartloads powder, and ammunition, 3 insurgents with rifles; barracks and arsenal destroyed.

Secretary of War interested to know quite fully present condition of relations between religious orders native church Tagalog people and present military government.

CORBIN.

MANILA. (Received February 19, 1900—6.32 p. m.)

ADJUTANT-GENERAL, Washington:

Archbishop Chapelle desires religious orders reinstated; says only means pacification. This announcement created excitement which military authorities allayed, assuring people they should enjoy religious liberty; that friars would not be forced upon them. Chapelle responded that he would not send friars where not wanted. Archbishop claims that United States has no supervision over landed and other properties religious orders; that church patronage exercised by Spain was conferred by Vatican and lapsed when Spain withdrew from islands; that Paris treaty guarantees religious orders all vested or acquired rights. Military authority responds that although United States can not exercise supervision ecclesiastical nature, has acquired from Spain her formerly exercised jurisdiction of civil character, or that which naturally existed in Spanish sovereignty; and even independent of right derived through conquest, United States, from nature of institutions, must exercise some measure of civil control. Correspondence by mail. People will not receive members of four of the eight religious orders, or those long domiciled here and possessing large estates. Tagalos will kill them, and will not be safe in other islands. Northern Panay now petitions that they be not sent there. Archbishop states can not supply place; that return to their parishes necessary for preservation religion and pacification people. In my opinion attempt to reestablish friars would unite people in many islands in hostility against United States. Recently ascertained that friars have transferred 160,000 acres Luzon estates to English syndicate, which now demand to be placed in possession. This complicates matters. Friar question will give great annoyance.

All troops here needed to protect inhabitants and in some sections country too few to meet requests. Guerrilla and robber bands still quite active in various sections of islands and considerable element natives untrustworthy. Developments of ensuing six weeks will alone permit intelligent answer to question concerning additional troops. Pronounced insurgents think they can tire out United States by keeping people in active state of unrest. However, conditions improving. Bates's movements in Camarines not yet known. Hamburg shipments reported from Washington January 18th have reached Hongkong and Shanghai. Hongkong junta active; said to have directed continued guerrilla warfare, expecting to secure thereby better conditions for insurgent cause. Encouraged by recent reports of attitude of Congress, which insurgents believe. Trade in all islands increasing; Manila never more bustling; but Insurgent junta working in our midst, requiring continual watching.

CORBIN.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 38.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, March 29, 1900.

The following order has been received from the War Department, and is published to the Army for the information and guidance of all concerned:

"WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, March 27, 1900.

"By direction of the President the Department of the Pacific is discontinued and a military division, to be known as the Division of the Philippines, comprising all the islands ceded to the United States by Spain by the treaty of Paris ratified April 11, 1899, is created, under command of Maj. Gen. Elwell S. Otis, U. S. Volunteers, with headquarters in the city of Manila, who, in addition to command of the troops in the division, will continue to exercise the authority of military governor of the Philippine Islands, the division to be composed of the following departments:

"Department of Northern Luzon, to include all that part of the island of Luzon north of the provinces of Manila, Morong, and Infanta, the same being the provinces of Abra, Bontoc, Benguet, Bataan, Bulacan, Cagayan, Ilocos Norte, Ilocos Sur, La Isabela de Luzon, Lepanto, La Union, Nueva Vizcaya, Nueva Ecija, Principe, Pangasinan, Pampanga, Tarlac, and Zambales, and all the islands in the Philippine Archipelago north of Manila Bay and the provinces above named.

"Maj. Gen. Arthur MacArthur, U. S. Volunteers, is assigned to the command of this department.

"Department of Southern Luzon, to include all the remaining part of the island of Luzon the same including the following provinces: Albay, Batangas, Camarines Norte, Camarines Sur, Cavite, Infanta, La Laguna, Manila, Morong, and Tayabas, and all islands of the Philippine Archipelago which lie south of the south line of the Department of Northern Luzon, as above described, including the island of Polillo, and north of a line passing southeastwardly through West Pass of Apo to the twelfth parallel of north latitude; thence easterly along said parallel to 124° 10′ east of Greenwich, but including the entire island of Masbate; thence northerly through San Bernardino Straits.

"Maj. Gen. John C. Bates, U. S. Volunteers, is assigned to the command of this department.

"Department of the Visayas, to include all islands south of the southern line of the Department of Southern Luzon and east of longitude 121° 45′ east of Greenwich and north of the ninth parallel of latitude, excepting the island of Mindanao and all islands east of the Straits of Surigao.

"Brig. Gen. Robert P. Hughes, U. S. Volunteers, is assigned to the command of this department.

"Department of Mindanao and Jolo, to include all the remaining islands of the Philippine Archipelago.

"Brig. Gen. William A. Kobbé, U. S. Volunteers, is assigned to the command of this department.

"The division commander will designate the places for the several department headquarters, and will also assign the necessary staff officers and make such distribution of troops as in his judgment will best meet the requirements of the service in the division.

"ELIHU ROOT, Secretary of War."

Associated Press report from Manila as follows: "General Young, commanding in north Luzon, has made several requests for reenforcements, representing that his force is inadequate; that the men are exhausted by the necessity of constant vigilance; that he is unable to garrison the towns in his jurisdiction; that the insurgents are returning to the district and killing the amigos, and that it is necessary for him to inflict punishment in several sections before the rainy season begins. Gen. James Bell, who is commanding in Southern Luzon, has made similar representations. He says his forces are inadequate and that he merely holds a few towns, without controlling the territory. The president of the town of Samal, province of Bataan, Luzon, and another prominent native have been assassinated because they were known to be friendly to the Americans. The president of another town has joined the insurgents because they had threatened to kill him if he did not." What truth is there in these statements?

SECRETARY OF WAR, Washington:

Insurgent force retreated to northern Luzon in November; greater number returned, but probably 600 remaining, much scattered, and operating with ladrones and mountain tribes; Aguinaldo believed to be in that section; part of this force passed to Cagayan Valley and attacked town there; small detachments then went to western coast; both Young and Hood called for troops; each furnished 2 battalions, and Young's scouts increased to 250; another battalion will probably be sent to Aringay, western coast, soon; Bell has now 2,600 men in Camarines and Albay; he reported that he needed more to police towns; both Bates and Kobbé, who have been there, think he has sufficient. Number of most prominent insurgent officers have surrendered. Murray, in Leyte, called for more troops; General Hughes supplying them, and believed to be there in person. Robberies and murders are committed, and have always been committed, throughout these islands; now guerrillas and ladrones murder each other, and occasionally rob and murder peaceable citizens; all the more important and many smaller towns are protected between Manila and Dagupan; 116 stations are maintained; similar disposition of troops south; neither guerrillas nor ladrones attack our troops unless in brush country in very small detachments, and then most always worsted; unfortunately, about one-half of 35,000 rifles possessed by insurgents still in possession of guerrilla bands and ladrones, or hidden by insurgents who have returned to cities, but our troops securing them daily; inhabitants now giving information—which until recently they feared to do—and better classes much encouraged; ignorance and character greater mass of natives will render secure; governments in these islands matter of time. The military organizations here if kept full are sufficient to meet any anticipated emergencies; three additional regiments could be used at once in some of the smaller islands not yet occupied, but immediate occupancy not material; we no longer deal with organized insurrection, but brigandage; to render every town secure against latter would require quarter million men; the war has increased brigandage in Luzon, though it has always prevailed in mountain sections, and in some of the islands much more than it does to-day; the above remarks considered by officers here rather pessimistic.

MANILA, May 1, 1900.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL, Washington:

Judge Torres, citizen and resident of Manila, who had served as member insurgent commission, reported evening February 5, asking if something could not be done to stop the fighting, such as establishment of neutral zone. I replied, Aguinaldo had commenced the fighting and must apply for cessation; I had nothing to request from insurgent government; he asked permission to send Colonel Arguellez to Malolos, and Arguellez was passed through lines, near Caloocan; next morning he went direct to Malolos, told General Aguinald and Mabini that General Otis would permit suspension of hostilities upon their request; they replied declaration of war had been made, a copy of which they furnished him; they said they had no objection to suspension of hostilities; but beyond this general remark made no response, but directed him to return with that message; Arguellez reported that he conveyed my statement that they had commenced the war and it must go on, since they had chosen that course of action, but did not attempt to induce them to make any proposition, as he feared accusation of cowardice; the insurgent chief authorities made no proposition and did not intend to make any, nor did they attempt to do so until driven out of Malolos; my hasty dispatch of about that date misleading; took in writing statement of Arguellez several days ago in order to fully understand temper of insurgents at early period of war.

With reference to your telegram of 14th. The rumored engagement in Samar, reported cablegram of General Otis May 4, has been confirmed by reports recently received from Henry T. Allen, Forty-third Regiment U. S. Volunteer Infantry, commanding Samar Island. That detachment of 31 men stationed at Catubig were attacked April 15 by 600 men with 200 rifles and 1 cannon. Our men quartered in convent, which was fired next day by burning hemp thrown from adjoining church. Detachment attempted escape by river. Men getting into boat were killed; remaining men intrenched themselves near river and held out two days longer, facing most adverse circumstances until rescued by Lieutenant Sweeney and 10 men; over 200 of attacking party, many of them are reported having come from Luzon Island, reported killed and many wounded. Lieutenant Sweeney reports streets covered with dead insurgents.

Killed—Sergts. Dustin L. George, William J. Hall; Corpls. Herbert H. Edwards, John F. J. Hamilton; cook Burton E. Hess; musician Burtan R. Wagner; privates Trefflie Pomelow, Otto B. Rapid conquest Luzon last fall from widely scattered enemy, resulted in corresponding dissemination our troops, necessity still obtain and may continue some time yet. This extensive distribution strains to limit entire force now in island. In order prepare gradual decrease force necessary concentrate at central stations, relying for protection outlying districts upon rapid movements to threatened points. Successful development this policy depends largely upon good roads and bridges, which means probable expenditure million dollars gold, possibly more, and presence, at least, ten more engineer officers to work out detailed plans, which can be accomplished during rains, construction commence immediately thereafter. Foregoing based upon idea holding archipelago after March 1 with 45,000 troops; large proportion thereof must be cavalry; before March 1 not possible return any present force looking to concentration American troops. Proposed commence immediately organization native constabulary in towns where such action prudent; this to encourage people to self-protection against robber criminals, roving bands insurgents, with which country abounds. Propose arm this force with inferior weapon; possibly shotguns; if so will call for about 2,000. Notice of amnesty. The immediate purpose of the United States in this archipelago is to establish stable civil institutions according to the beneficient scheme of republican government, which alone is possible under the auspices of the American union. As an important step to this end, the undersigned, by special direction of the President, announces amnesty with complete immunity for the past, and absolute liberty of action for the future, to all persons who are now or at any time since February 4, 1899, have been in insurrection against the United States in either a military or a civil capacity, and who shall within a period of ninety days from the date hereof formally renounce all connection with such insurrection, and subscribe to a declaration acknowledging and accepting the sovereignty and authority of the United States in and over the Philippine Islands. The privilege herewith published is extended to all concerned without any reservation whatever, excepting that all persons who have violated the laws of war during the period of active hostilities are not embraced within the scope of this amnesty. All who desire to take advantage of the terms herewith set forth are requested to present themselves to the commanding officers of the American troops at the most convenient station, who will receive them with due consideration according to rank, make special provisions for their immediate wants, prepare the necessary records, and thereafter permit each individual to proceed to any part of the archipelago according to his own wishes, for which purpose the United States will furnish such transportation as may be available, either by railway, steamboat, or wagon. Prominent persons who may desire to confer with the military governor or with the board of American commissioners will be permitted to visit Manila, and will, as far as possible, be provided with transportation for that purpose. In order to mitigate, as much as possible, consequences which have resulted from the various disturbances which since 1896 have succeeded each other so rapidly, and to provide in some measure for destitute Philippine soldiers during the transitory period which must inevitably succeed a general peace, the military authorities of the United States will pay 30 pesos to each man who presents a rifle in good condition. Whatever individual views may obtain in regard to the foregoing, it must be obvious to all that general acceptance thereof would contribute to the lasting material benefit of these beautiful islands.

Send quick as possible 2,000 shotguns, pattern furnished prison guards, necessary spare parts, 100 rounds per gun buckshot, ammunition and necessary material for 200 rounds per gun, and appliances for loading to be done here by ordnance department.

Force in Philippines has been disseminated to limitation of safety, concentration slow to avoid evacuation of territory now occupied which would be extremely unfortunate. Have not cared to emphasize this feature of situation.

Loss of a regiment at this time would be a serious matter, but if critical emergency arises in China can send a regiment two days' notice.

CORBIN.

MANILA. (Received June 25, 1900—3.20 p. m.)

ADJUTANT-GENERAL, Washington:

Referring to message of June 23, touching negotiations with former insurgents, it is necessary to have some conference with leaders in order to secure decisive results from present favorable conditions. Commission approving, I have assured them that any government instituted would embody the personal rights enumerated in instructions to Commission; that participation in insurrection would not bar future employment in civil or military service; that upon cessation of hostilities, private property not destroyed would be returned, but no damages paid them; there would be no church established by law; no minister interfered with or forced upon any community; no public funds used for support of religious organizations or any member thereof. Foregoing self-evident propositions not rightly understood, even by leaders, were put in form adapted to insure intelligent consideration. As a matter of expediency in agreement with Commission, have informed leaders I would release all claims to money now in their hands, at Hongkong and elsewhere, provided it be deposited in our treasury here, in which event it would become a trust fund for benefit of disabled Filipino soldiers, widows, orphans, of such as died in war. In consideration of such deposits I agreed to turn over an amount equal to that turned in by insurgents, provided such sum should not exceed amount captured by us. There has been nothing in the nature of negotiation—simply advice and instruction in regard to matters in which Commission and myself are in perfect accord.

MANILA. (Received June 25, 1900—8.41 p. m.)

SECRETARY OF WAR, Washington:

No organized army of insurgents anywhere. Small bands under partisans invading territory not now occupied by our forces, compelled contribution and secret support by violence. Army working strenuously to capture and destroy bands, but with force progress slow. Many partisans can probably be reached by captured general and cabinet officers willing to take oath, apparently anxious for peace and seeking from General MacArthur information as to our future course to aid them in inducing general submission. Fully concur in General MacArthur's action in making statement contained in his dispatch to-day, not as condition of surrender, but as information of our policy, in any event given to strengthen those working for peace and to weaken arguments of irreconcilables. Even if mistaken as to good faith or influence of peacemaker, statement made detracts nothing from our position. See no ground for withholding knowledge of our authority and settled purpose when knowledge may secure submission. Insurgent leaders evidently discouraged, but favorable outcome would be hindered by further reducing army and relaxing military grasp.

Paterno, who accepted American sovereignty some time ago, requested permission to organize banquet and fiesta, to last Saturday and Sunday, and assured me the ceremonies would be confined exclusively to celebrating the amnesty and expressing thanks to the United States therefor. Every facility was afforded to insure success, but strong tendency to questionable mottoes on arches. Aguinaldo's portrait and extreme sentiment entertained by speakers assigned to toasts necessitated considerable interference with programme arranged by Filipino committee. No speeches were made, and organized demonstration was practically a failure. The people were allowed unrestricted liberty on the streets for forty-eight hours and enjoyed the opportunity to the fullest limit as a popular holiday. The fiesta may be regarded as a great success. Military precautions were very complete, but there was absolutely no disposition to violence of any kind, and everything passed off very smoothly.

At present have 450 Macabebes, Major Batson's squadron, and 1,200 men in detachments, Samar, Leyte, Panay, Cebu, Negros, Luzon; these have been selected because of supposed loyalty American interests. The arming of native police with shot guns, revolvers, will add at least 3,000 men to armed force available for semimilitary duty. Letters Surgeon-General of the Army, June 19, June 23, apparently reduce by half medical supplies and hospital stores requisition for quarter (or part) ending December 31. Dr. Charles R. Greenleaf submits formal report declaring if thus reduced supplies insufficient properly care for sick and wounded. Understand as matter of course Department is eager to do everything essential for this army, but seems some misconception exists as to medical necessity. Dr. Greenleaf has studied situation carefully and intelligently. Am satisfied will not be safe to ignore his advice, therefore recommend filling requisition in full. Impossible to make mistake side of prudence.

With reference to your telegram of 11th, money can be spared from island revenues for road supplies. Before final action examine my cable May 27, which contemplates expenditure possibly $3,000,000 Mexican from island revenues, or army appropriations, as ordered by Department. Sufficient money now in insular treasury, but control thereof passes entirely from my hands September 1. My policy is very comprehensive and far reaching in remote consequences. If it is approved something specific to this effect should issue from Department before any expense has been incurred. Road supplies will be quite useless unless plan suggested can be carried out in entirety.

Meager result of amnesty, which expires September 21, raises question regarding supplementary action. Captured papers contain convincing evidence that insurgent leaders are making strenuous efforts to hold together until after election; indications also strong that disappointing result will induce many surrenders. Sandico, in carefully prepared paper, declares country requires peace, even if liberty is sacrified to attain it, and says he will surrender immediately if President McKinley is elected. Considering foregoing, recommend amnesty be permitted to expire without remark, thus leaving future policy in abeyance until after election. Week by week, situation shows little improvement; month by month, progress slow, but quite apparent, Unless rapid improvement sets in after election, which fortunately now seems very probable, it will not be possible to materially reduce present force for a long time, unless territory now occupied is abandoned; constrained to modify accordingly estimate of troops necessary to hold archipelago set forth in cable May 27. Hope large force will not be required, but as a possible contingency, touching army reorganization, it is submitted for early consideration.

MANILA. (Received September 19, 1900—6.23 p. m.)

ADJUTANT-GENERAL, Washington:

Considerable activity throughout Luzon. Fighting reported vicinity Carig and Estella, Isabela Province. Insurgents estimated 500, probably much exaggerated, but sufficient force to make disturbance in district heretofore quiet. In the Ilocan provinces Brig. Gen. Samuel B. M. Young reports numerous small affairs, and has called so emphatically for more force that Kingsbury's squadron, Third Cavalry, and Borden's battalion, Fifth Infantry, been sent him; other battalion Fifth, same destination upon arrival. Country north Pasig, including all of Bulacan, very much disturbed, and numerous contacts with small parties throughout that district. South of Pasig, including Tayabas Province, Luzon, same conditions obtain. This activity has been anticipated and reported upon in letters, August 25, 29, and cable August 31. September 17 Capt. David D. Mitchell, Fifteenth Infantry, 90 men, Company L, Fifteenth Infantry, from Siniloan, Laguna Province, attacked insurgent General Cailles, who had 800 men in position at Mavitac, same province. Desperate fight ensued, which was pushed from the front with great pertinacity by Mitchell across causeway and through water waist deep; cooperative attack under Capt. George F. Cooke, Fifteenth Infantry, with 40 men, Company K, Fifteenth Infantry, and 10 men, Company B, Thirty-seventh Infantry, U. S. Volunteers; could not reach enemy's position because of high water in arm of lake, which could not be crossed; entire country was afloat in consequence recent rains; this very much impeded offensive action. After hour twenty minutes' fighting command withdrew to Siniloan. Upon renewal operations 18th found that insurgents had escaped from Mavitac previous night, most of them no doubt going back into contiguous barrios to appear for time being, or until called into fight again, as peaceful amigos. Casualties, which all occurred Mitchell's command, consisting of 130 men, 4 officers, were: Company L, Fifteenth Infantry—Killed and died wounds: David D. Mitchell, captain, Fifteenth Infantry; George A. Cooper, second lieutenant, Fifteenth Infantry; First Sergt. William Fitzgerald, Sergt. Evremonde DeHart, Corpl. Lauritz Jensen, Privates Edward C. Coburn, George R. Horton, Thomas P. Kelley, Thomas Mulray, John P. Brink, William L. Banker, Arthur S. Mansfield, Thomas I. Pitcher, Scott L. Smith, Richard Taylor, Edward M. Neal, Fred Duggan, Emanuel Kaufman. Wounded: Corpls. Charles Oswald, William H. Polley, Privates Benjamin Owens, Michael Kelly, Otto F. H. Bathe, Everette Matlock, Francis P. Flanagan, Michael J. Hennessey, Anthony Kearney, Harry Perry, Charles R. Debaugh. Company L, Thirty-seventh Infantry—Killed and died wounds: First Sergt. Thomas P. A. Howe, Privates Edwin J. Godahl, George A. Haight, Edward Stallcup, Alfred J. Mueller, James C. West. Wounded: Capt. John E. Moran, Sergt. Robert Mahaffy, Corpl. Frank A. Story, Privates Frank T. Bell, William S. Bradley, Worley T. Crosswhite, David Day, Cornelius Gentry. Thirty-three per cent is profoundly impressive loss and indicates stubbornness of fight, fearless leadership of officers and splendid response of men. Insurgent loss, as far as known, 10 killed, 20 wounded; among former, Colonel Fidel.

Two thousand one hundred and eighty Katipunan insurrectos whom Connisque enrolled, bolomen, came from mountains and surrendered to Gen. Samuel B. M. Young to-day at Santa Maria. [They] renounced insurrection and swore allegiance to the United States. The oath was administered by the padre at the church with impressive religious ceremonies. General Young attributes the surrender to President's reelection and vigorous prosecution of the war. Although no rifles surrendered, this is important as indicating a reaction among the people Ilocos Sur. Movable columns Samar, Panay, commenced operations. Twenty-eighth Regiment U. S. ADJUTANT-GENERAL, Washington:

Expectations, based on result of election, have not been realized. Progress of pacification apparent to me, but still very slow. Condition very flexible and likely to become chronic. I have therefore initiated a more rigid policy by issue of proclamation, enjoining precise observance of laws of war, with special reference to sending supplies and information to enemy in field, from towns occupied by our troops, and also warning leaders that intimidation of natives, by kidnaping or assassination, must sooner or later lead to their trial for felonious crimes, unless they become fugitive criminals beyond the jurisdiction of the United States, which latter course would mean lifelong expatriation. Proclamation well received, but country expectant and awaiting practical application thereof. Am considering expediency of closing ports of both Camarines, Albay, Samar, and Leyte. Would like to emphasize new policy by deporting to Guam at early date a few prominent leaders now in my hands. Request authority accordingly. Pro-American natives Manila, with chief justice at the head, have organized party, which apparently has some elements of cohesion and usefulness. Field movements outlined in my message of October 26 will probably be somewhat interrupted by early return of volunteers. It is difficult to convince people, especially natives, that any of the volunteers will be replaced.

Early information of purpose of Department in regard to army legislation and the prospect of the passage of an army bill would greatly strengthen my administration here.

Many papers [belonging to] Trias, secured recent capture, one of which contains Filipino account conference between Trias and Japanese consul in remote part of Cavite Province October 11, this year. Paper carefully prepared, authenticated by Filipino secretary, measurably confirmed by other captured papers, most probably true. I accept it as such without any hesitation. Consul advised that Trias visit Japan to negotiate voluntary contributions of arms, and, concerning future of archipelago, Filipinos represented that concessions which they might be forced to make to Washington would be more agreeable if made to Japan, which, as a nation of kindred blood, would not be likely to assert —— superiority. Consul said Japan desired coaling stations, freedom to trade and build railways. That individual Japanese have assisted insurgents has been more than suspected, but if official intervention and encouragement has transpired, a new and strong light is thrown on situation—sufficient, perhaps, to account for defiant attitude of many leaders, especially the wavering policy of Trias, who on several occasions has apparently been on verge of surrender, and also explain unyielding character of resistance in southern Luzon. In view of delicate international questions involved, shall act only under advice of Department. Papers by mail.

Hemp in Southern Luzon in same relation to present struggle as cotton during rebellion; fields nearly all in possession of insurgents; large sums collected from contraband trade, which can only be controlled by closing ports, the military advantage of which would arise from self-interested action of hemp dealers to induce pacification, and also action of natives to same end, in order to get rice in; if hemp could not get out or rice get in, two powerful interests would operate for tranquilization. Army now stronger than it will ever be again. Every effort being made to utilize this advantage for purpose of obtaining decisive results; temporary closure of ports powerful factor, which shall abandon with reluctance; final results can not be predicted, but we are now nearer pacification than at any time since outbreak.

Referring your message January 10, wishes of Department will be executed substantially as expressed. I purpose returning troops on schedule calculated to prevent unfavorable reaction on military situation; to this end also am forcing organization of scouts and police, hiring watchmen to replace soldiers guarding property, by which means get a regiment from Manila and possibly another from vicinity for service in remote part of island, and, thereby, in connection with prompt arrival Eleventh Infantry, Fifth Cavalry, be enhanced to hold all territory now occupied, and also continue some active operations until arrival of ample force. Margin of safety small during period of exchange of volunteers for regulars, and, as consequence, every detail requires most thoughtful consideration; possibly some volunteers may not reach home by July 1, although all will be afloat by that time. Specific views of Department requested upon my message January 9. Favorable conditions which now obtain will be maintained unless something very unexpected occurs.

General Funston has just returned from expedition to Palanan, province of Isabela, where he captured Aguinaldo, who is now in my possession at Malacanan. Particulars later.

MACARTHUR.

MANILA. (Received March 28, 1901—4.38 p. m.)

ADJUTANT-GENERAL, Washington:

Important messages fell into General Funston's hands February 28, from which Aguinaldo was located at Palanan, Isabela Province. Expedition organized, consisting Aguinaldo's captured messenger, 4 ex-insurgent officers, and 78 Macabebes, who spoke Tagalo; armed Mausers, Remingtons; dressed to represent insurgents. Funston commanded, accompanied by Capt. Russell T. Hazzard, Eleventh Cavalry; Capt. Harry W. Newton, Thirty-fourth Volunteer Infantry; Lieut. Oliver P. M. Hazzard, Eleventh Volunteer Cavalry; Lieut. Burton J. Mitchell, Fortieth Volunteer Infantry. Officers dressed as American privates, and represented prisoners. Expedition sailed Manila March 6, Vicksburg. Landed March 14 last, coast Luzon, 20 miles south Casiguran. Reached Palanan, marching three afternoons, March 23. Natives completely misled; supposed detachment insurgent reenforcements, for which supplies furnished Aguinaldo; also sent supplies, and had his escort, 40 men, paraded to extend proper honor. Short distance Aguinaldo's quarters disguise discarded. Combat followed, resulting 2 insurgents killed, 18 rifles, 1,000 rounds ammunition captured, together with Aguinaldo and two principal staff officers. No casualties our side. Splendid cooperation navy through Commander Barry. Officers, men Vicksburg indispensable to success. Funston loudly praises navy; entire army joins in thanks to sea service. The transaction was brilliant in conception and faultless in execution. All credit must go Funston, who, under supervision General Wheaton, organized and conducted expedition from start to finish. His reward should be signal and immediate. Concur with General Wheaton, who recommends Funston's retention volunteers until he can be appointed brigadier-general regulars. I hope speedy cessation hostilities throughout archipelago as consequence this stroke. As result of conference now in progress, probable Aguinaldo will issue address advising general surrender, delivery arms, acceptance American supremacy.

Secwar personally joins in this expression. You will observe following instructions Secwar: Fact that Aguinaldo has made unfounded claims to have received promises from American officers should lead to especial care in communicating with him. All possibility misconstruction or misrepresentation should be avoided, and you should expressly state to him in such manner that it will be capable unquestionable proof that no officer of Government in Philippine Islands is authorized to make to him any promise not contained in your notice of amnesty June 21, 1900, with your explanatory statement July 2, 1900, or in public acts Philippine Commission heretofore enacted. He should be treated like other prisoners war, without severity, but with every precaution against escape, and he must determine course which he will pursue in view such assurances and guarantees as are contained in papers above enumerated and in view President's instructions to Philippine Commissioners and President's other public utterances. In case he should offer allegiance United States and undertake secure general acceptance American sovereignty by his former followers, you will nevertheless retain him in custody until practical results his efforts leave no doubt his good faith and no possibility retraction on his part. Should he take other course of refusing allegiance, he should be detained in custody in such manner that neither by act nor communication can he interfere with pacification of country; and your general order 4, January 7, 1901, special order 6 same date, and letter instructions to Major Orwig by General Barry January 14, 1901, all relating to deportation insurgent prisoners Guam, are approved both as to form and substance. If it should appear that he has violated laws war, he should be tried.

Since arrival Manila Aguinaldo been [Malacanan] investigating conditions archipelago, has relied almost entirely upon [instructive] advice Chief Justice Arellano; as result to-day [subscribed, swore] declaration, page 11, my annual report. Proposes to address armed insurgents, advising surrender, delivery arms, acceptance American sovereignty. Has reached conclusion voluntarily, without semblance coercion or promises. United States absolutely uncommitted. He is satisfied people demand peace: believes interest of country need it, and has apparently sacrificed his own view for the benefit of the archipelago. In present attitude he appears to great advantage. Aguinaldo's action potential for pacification. To same end request authority renew amnesty notice June 21, to terminate June 1, after which all in arms considered outlaws, criminals, treated accordingly. Do not doubt Aguinaldo's present sincerity, but presence in island for some time to come very undesirable. As best solution situation, also calculated strengthen efforts to pacify, recommend Aguinaldo and two selected by himself, and Chief Justice Arellano, if he can be persuaded to go, and two distinguished pro-Americans, make party visit to United States for purpose of observation and study American institutions. If authorized will send Sheridan. Can furnish all funds necessary from money appropriated act June 9, 1898. Funston or J. Franklin Bell charge party, both speak Spanish. With reference to your dispatch of April 1, it is considered important that Aguinaldo remain in custody or under military surveillance for considerable time while the good faith of his allegiance is established by his assistance in the pacification of the country; that this can better be accomplished in the Philippines than here; that if his declaration of allegiance is sincere he can be of more service in Manila than here, and that such visit as you propose would necessarily result in an exciting public spectacle not favorable to the study of institutions. The proposal that Aguinaldo should come to this country at this time is therefore disapproved. Cable for consideration draft of such notice as you propose for extension of amnesty.

Referring messages requesting full text Aguinaldo's proposed address and announcing decision Secretary of War against further amnesty notice, respectfully submit following, which was prepared by Aguinaldo, assisted only by the two staff officers captured with him; original in Spanish and ready for printing and distribution whenever considered expedient by Department. So far as military situation concerned, its immediate publication simultaneously with amnesty proposed by me—April 6—would, in my opinion, almost instantly terminate hostilities throughout archipelago, insure delivery of several thousand guns still held by insurgents, and establish peace under conditions most favorable to immediate organization and permanent maintenance of stable civil government.

"To the Philippine people:

"I believe that I am not in error in presuming that the unhappy fate to which my adverse fortune has led me is not a surprise to those who have been familiar, day by day, with the progress of the war. The lessons thus taught, the full meaning of which has but recently come to my knowledge, suggest to me with irresistible force that the complete termination of hostilities and a long-lasting peace are not only desirable but absolutely essential to the welfare of the Philippines. The Filipinos have never been dismayed by their weakness, nor have they faltered in following the path pointed out by their fortitude and courage; the time has come, however, in which they find their advance along this path impeded by an irresistible force, a force which, while it restrains them, yet enlightens the mind and opens another course by presenting to them the cause of peace. This cause has been joyfully embraced by a majority of our fellow-countrymen, who are already united around the glorious and sovereign banner of the United States. In this banner they repose their trust, in the belief that under its protection our people will attain all the promised liberties which they are even now beginning to enjoy.

"The country has declared unmistakably for peace. So be it. Enough of blood, enough of tears and desolation. This wish can not be ignored by the men still in arms, if they are animated by no other desire than to serve this noble people which has thus clearly manifested its will. So also do I respect this will, now that it is known to me, and after mature deliberation resolutely proclaim to the world that I can not refuse to heed the voice of a people longing for peace, nor the lamentations of thousands of families yearning to see their dear ones in the enjoyment of the liberty promised by the generosity of the great American Union. By acknowledging and accepting the sovereignty of the United States throughout the entire archipelago, as I now do without any reservation whatsoever, I believe that I am serving thee, my beloved country. May hapiness be thine.

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
Washington, June 21, 1901.

On and after the fourth day of July, 1901, until it shall be otherwise ordered, the president of the Philippine Commission will exercise the executive authority in all civil affairs in the government of the Philippine Islands heretofore exercised in such affairs by the military governor of the Philippines, and to this end the Hon. William H. Taft, president of the said Commission, is hereby appointed civil governor of the Philippine Islands. Such executive authority will be exefcised under and in conformity to the instructions to the Philippine Commission, dated April 7, 1900, and subject to the approval and control of the Secretary of war of the United States. The municipal and provincial civil governments which have been or shall hereafter be established in said islands, and all persons performing duties appertaining to the offices of civil government in said islands will, in respect of such duties, report to the said civil governor.

The power to appoint civil officers heretofore vested in the Philippine Commission or in the military governor will be exercised by the civil governor with the advice and consent of the Commission. The military governor of the Philippines is hereby relieved from the performance, on and after the said fourth day of July, of the civil duties hereinbefore described, but his authority will continue to be exercised as heretofore in those districts in which insurrection against the authority of the United States continues to exist or in which public order is not sufficiently restored to enable provincial civil government to be established under the instructions to the Commission, dated April 7, 1900.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 87.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY, ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE, Washington, June 22, 1901.

By direction of the Secretary of War, the following order from the War Department is published to the Army for the information and guidance of all concerned:

"WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, June 21, 1901.

"On and after the 4th day of July, 1901, until it shall be otherwise ordered, the president of the Philippine Commission will exercise the executive authority in all civil affairs in the government of the Philippine Islands heretofore exercised in such affairs by the military governor of the Philippines, and to that end the Hon. William H. Taft, president of the said Commission, is hereby appointed civil governor of the Philippine Islands. Such executive authority will be exercised under and in conformity to the instructions to the Philippine Commissioners dated April 7, 1900, and subject to the approval and control of the Secretary of War of the United States. The municipal and provincial civil governments which have been or shall hereafter be established in said islands, and all persons performing duties appertaining to the offices of civil government in said islands, will in respect of such duties report to the said civil governor.

"The power to appoint civil officers, heretofore vested in the Philippine Commission or in the military governor, will be exercised by the civil governor, with the advice and consent of the Commission.

"The military governor of the Philippines is hereby relieved from the performance, on and after the said 4th of July, of the civil duties hereinbefore described, but his authority will continue to be exercised as heretofore in those districts in which insurrection against the authority of the United States continues to exist, or in which public order is not sufficiently restored to enable provincial civil governments to be established under the instructions to the Commission dated April 7, 1900.

On August 25, pursuant to writ of habeas corpus case Calloway ordered deported, I declined produce prisoner, court first instance making return that prisoner was held by authority United States; that court had no jurisdiction in such a case; court decided no jurisdiction; man was deported yesterday. Supreme court served writ for Brooks, civil-service messenger, who violated his contract, deserted, went Iloilo for employment private firm. Was arrested and ordered deported as disciplinary measure; offered make return as before; prisoner not produced in court; court refused to hear, and demanded presence prisoner. I have declined to produce him until peace these islands. Authority commanding general division, military governor, must not be subjected to review by courts, which I hold to be analogous to State courts; have acted accordingly, being careful to show respect by giving heedful attention to its demands; the influence of army, on which life of civil government depends in these islands, no matter whose opinion to contrary, will be seriously impaired if action of commanding general division is reviewable by civil courts. A respectful return will always be made. The only course that should be permitted is appeal from his decision to Secretary of War for final decision as to right or wrong of his action.

Taft dispatch Secretary of War received. Principle involved is more far-reaching and of more deadly importance to stability United States Army authority these islands until better sentiment masses obtains than put by Taft. Request complied with, following results: Habeas corpus for any deserter who may employ lawyer, any person now held for trial violation rules of war, inquiry into cases adjudged by military commission. Finnick case now before court; he was tried for commissary fraud. Informed writ preparing to take Howard, captured in Mindoro, out of my custody. The principle is so far-reaching that efforts of Army, its influence will be jeopardized, and beg to say in a state of insurrection military authority over prisoners should not be questioned by civil court. It will not do to believe court will not interfere except where it ought. It can not help itself; it must grant writs when asked, and service on me will be as frequent as there are prisoners. The case is vital for the influence of the military in these islands; lessen it, we arm the enemies of the United States Army; inspire them with hope. They are more numerous in sentiment, in my opinion, than reports indicate. There will never be any conflict between civil authorities and me if court refrains from interference with proper authority of commanding general of division, in a country known to all to be hostile, and in insurrection to United States Army in sentiment, and in considerable territory open and active. I have always given courtesy and support to the court. This conflict is not my seeking. Principle involved is that when court is informed that prisoners held by military authority of United States Army for crime, court shall not discharge prisoners, nor shall he be taken into court, nor is trial by authority of military law reviewable on habeas corpus by court.

Forwarded by mail October 10 recommendation creating two departments Division Philippines, instead four. Mail delayed by accidents to transports. Suggested Department of North Philippines, headquarters Manila, and Department South Philippines, headquarters Cebu, dividing line as follows: Passing southeastwardly through the west pass of Apo or Mindoro Strait to the twelfth parallel of north latitude; thence east along the 124th° 10′ east of Greenwich, but including the entire island of Masbate; thence north to San Bernardino Straits. North Philippines embraces 4 brigades, south Philippines 3 brigades, as heretofore organized by me. Request executive action by cable on this dispatch, to take effect November 30, if sufficiently broad and clear to be understood and suggestion meets approval. The insurrection in Batangas, Laguna, and Tayabas provinces must be put down, which I have in view by giving Wheaton Department of North Philippines, Wade to command South Philippines. Wheaton is excellent leader to conduct active campaign, and time is now ripe for it in provinces named. Public begin to fear that vigorous action in Samar may indicate future in store for other sections still in insurrection, which is fact, and I want to make the impression a reality if necessary. Prominent Filipino insurrecto sympathizers begin to feel their interests and persons are in danger, and I want to force them into active efforts for peace.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 148. HDQRS. OF THE ARMY, ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE, Washington, November 9, 1901.

The following order from the War Department is published to the Army for the information and guidance of all concerned:

"WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, November 9, 1901.

"By direction of the President the Departments of Northern and Southern Luzon, of the Visayas, and of Mindanao and Jolo will be discontinued on November 30, 1901, and on and after that date the Division of the Philippines will be composed of the following departments:

"Department of North Philippines to include all that portion of the Philippine Archipelago lying north of a line passing southeastwardly through the West Pass of Apo or Mindoro Strait to the twelfth parallel of north latitude, thence east along said parallel 124° 10′ east of Greenwich, but including the entire island of Masbate, thence north to San Bernardino Straits.

"Maj. Gen. Loyd Wheaton, U. S. Army, is assigned to the command of this department, with headquarters at Manila, island of Luzon.

"Department of South Philippines to include all that portion of the Philippine Archipelago lying south of the dividing line as above described.

"Brig. Gen. James F. Wade, U. S. Army, is assigned to the command of this department, with headquarters at Cebu, island of Cebu.

"ELIHU ROOT, Secretary of War."

The records of the discontinued departments will be disposed of as the division commander may direct.

With reference to your telegram of 16th, we think $500,000 will clear the ground, which is practically wild land; make the roads, without which nothing can be done toward construction; prepare foundation with rock to be obtained in the vicinity, and cover labor for construction of the post. The material to be purchased and supplied from the United States, lumber, nails, iron roofing, large pump, water pipe, plumbing material, etc., probably cost $300,000; but it is large post, and as yet we have not worked out the bill of lumber; water and drainage pipe required can not be determined until ground cleared, carefully surveyed, and post plotted. We can not do more than to clear, survey, and plot ground this season. Have only four months to work before rains begin. Must have quartermaster with skill for this work and energy to supervise it. Send [Capt.] Joseph C. Byron and Thomas Humphreys; quartermasters out here are all engaged in other ways. My idea is to prepare this season for construction next. If post is to be constructed, authority to begin clearing requested. Think $200,000 sufficient for this calendar year.

Major Waller, 4 officers and 50 men of the Marine Corps, 36 native bearers, four days' rations, started last week of December from Lanang, on the east coast of Samar, to cross the island to Basey, about 35 miles on map. Trail at one time existed, but found in places only. Lieutenant Lyles, Twelfth U. S. Infantry, accompanied the command. Incessant rains from the start, swollen streams, and other natural obstacles made progress extremely slow. When rations consumed men exhausted rapidly, dropping on the way. Major Waller separated from Captain Porter, Lieutenant Williams, and major part of the men, proceeding toward Basey, where he arrived January 9 with 2 officers, 13 men; also Lieutenant Lyles. He returned to the mountains next day with relief, but returned to Basey about ten days later unsuccessful. Porter was to build rafts, but timber would not float. Second day after separating from Waller Porter moved toward Lanang, arriving January 11 with 2 men, all exhausted physically and mentally. Lieutenant Williams and over 30 men left in mountains in similar condition with native bearers. Relief expedition under Lieutenant Williams, First Infantry, delayed starting two days by storm raging and torrent river. Started 13th; reached Marines 18th, saving Lieutenant Williams and all except 10 men not found, who are no doubt dead from starvation, namely: Privates Fangule, E. Foster, G. M. Britt, T. Wards, Brown, F. F. Murry, T. Buffett, Baley, Baroni, Connell, R. Kettle died hospital, Tacloban, January 23. Captain Porter, Lieutenant Williams, and 18 men hospital, Tacloban, not very clear in mind regarding much of the time covered by period of suffering. All will probably recover. Major Waller at present disordered in his recollections. Suffering of this command twenty days can not be described. Efforts of Lieutenant Williams, First Infantry, and his relief party unequaled for courage and labor.

MAJ. GEN. ADNA R. CHAFFEE,
Commanding Division of the Philippines,
Manila, P. I.

GENERAL: At the instance of the Secretary of War, I inclose herewith a copy of a report of Maj. Cornelius Gardener, Thirteenth U. S. Infantry, as provincial governor of the province of Tayabas, the same having been made by him to the civil governor of the Philippine Islands.

There is so much contained in this report, reflecting not only upon officers of the Army but the general conduct of affairs and the military branch of the Government, that the Secretary of War desires you to cause a careful inquiry to be made concerning these statements, and if they be found true that the necessary administrative and disciplinary measures be applied to correct these evils.

Your particular attention is invited to the portions of the report which are underscored.

You are requested to make a full report of the investigation herein directed as soon as possible.

Very respectfully,

H. C. CORBIN,
Adjutant-General, Major-General, U. S. Army.

Associated Press reports battalions Tenth and Eleventh Infantry ordered here, battalion Fifteenth en route. Do not want Twenty-ninth to relieve Ninth, as mentioned in my letter January 30; under this new condition, unless organizations are ordered home, will have to extend occupation rather than contract, as I am now doing by calling in detachments. I will take away Third and Twelfth Infantry soon, which will enable me to cover their ground by fewer troops. Conditions favor this in section occupied by these regiments. Count on reduction by July to 35,000, including native troops.

CHAFFEE.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, February 24, 1902.

CHAFFEE, Manila:

Secretary War desires you to continue process of contracting occupation, following policy described in your dispatch received February 22, as rapidly as civil governor is willing to take responsibility of maintaining order by use of constabulary and police. Return Ninth, Third, Twelfth, Twenty-first, and Thirteenth Infantry in order named. Use Kilpatrick and Buford on San Francisco route. The Twenty-ninth Infantry will be held in this country for the present. Home battalion system abandoned; those in United States will be sent to join regiments, not to increase your force, but enable you to relieve regiments longest on duty in islands.

Disciplinary measures, however, seem necessary to produce obedience. Military officers have no right to make any arrests in provinces under civil government unless under circumstances of immediate exigency or when called upon by civil authority, and in every such case the prisoner is to be immediately turned over to the civil authorities for trial. It is insisted, and I think with justice, that service rendered in one quarter should be paid for at the rate of exchange established by the civil governor for that quarter, though paid at subsequent date; native labor accounts for last quarter should be paid at the 2.10 rate, not at the 2.27 rate fixed for the present quarter; payment was due on conclusion of service rendered, but it is rare that accounts can be paid immediately. It is not right for the government to do an injustice; therefore payment should be made at the rate ruling at the time of service rendered.

February 19 letter was sent you inclosing for investigation copy of charges made by Governor Gardener of Tayabas Province (Luzon), which contained general allegations of cruelties practiced by troops on natives, and generally of an insolent and brutal attitude of the army toward natives. On April 2 cablegram was sent you urging action with all speed consistent with thorough and searching investigation. March 4 cablegram was sent you directing disciplinary measures to produce obedience to President's instructions subordinating military officers to civil government in pacified provinces and instructing you to relieve Maj. Edwin F. Glenn and Capt. James A. Ryan from duty and order them to Manila to await investigation into their conduct, in accordance with instructions to follow by mail. March 24 instructions were mailed you containing statement of charges against those officers and Gen. Jacob H. Smith as the basis of the investigation ordered by the cable of March 4. Further instructions in both matters are required by the following facts: Press dispatches state that upon the trial of Major Waller, of the Marine Corps, testimony was given by Waller, corroborated by other witnesses, that Gen. Jacob H. Smith instructed him to kill and burn; that the more he killed and burned the better pleased General Smith would be; that it was no time to take prisoners; and that when Major Waller asked General Smith to define the age limit for killing he replied, "Everything over 10." If such testimony was given, and the facts can be established, you will place General Smith on trial by court-martial. Yesterday, before Senate Committee on Philippines, Sergt. Charles S. Riley and Private William Lewis Smith, of the Twenty-sixth Volunteer Infantry, testified that the form of torture known as the "water cure" was administered to the presidente of the town of Igbarras, Iloilo Province, Panay, by a detachment of the Eighteenth Regiment U. S. Infantry, under command Lieut. Arthur L. Conger, under orders of Maj. Edwin F. Glenn, then captain, Twenty-fifth Regiment U. S. Infantry, and that Capt. and Asst. Surg. Palmer Lyon, at that time a contract surgeon, was present to assist them. The officers named, or such of them as are found to be responsible for the act, will be tried therefor by court-martial. Conger and Lyon are in the United States. Twenty-sixth Volunteer Infantry and Eighteenth Regiment U. S. Infantry having returned to United States, and most of the witnesses being presumptively here, Secretary of War directs Maj. Edwin F. Glenn be directed proceed to San Francisco and report to commanding general, Department of California, with a view to his trial by court-martial under charges alleging the cruelties practiced by him upon a native of the Philippine Islands at Igbarras June 27, 1900. If you can discover any witnesses still in the service in the Philippine Islands who can testify in support of the charges, or if Major Glenn desires attendance of any persons now serving in the islands as witnesses for defense, direct them proceed to San Francisco for that purpose. As the two years allowed for the prosecution by statutes of limitation is nearly at an end, no time is to be lost. Take such course in advancing or postponing investigations previously ordered into conduct General Smith and Major Glenn as shall be required to enable you to execute these instructions. It is believed the violations of law and humanity, of which these cases, if true, are examples, will prove to be few and occasional and not to characterize the conduct of the army generally in the Philippine Islands, but the fact that any such acts of cruelty and barbarity appear to have been done indicates necessity of most thorough and searching and exhaustive investigation under the general charges preferred by Governor Gardener, and you will spare no effort in the investigation already ordered under these charges to uncover every such case which may have occurred and bring the offenders to justice. The President desires to know in the fullest and most circumstantial manner all the facts, nothing being concealed and no man being for any reason favored or shielded. For the very reason that the President intends back up the army in the heartiest fashion in every lawful and legitimate method of doing its work, he also intends to see that the most rigorous care is exercised to detect and prevent any cruelty or brutality, and that men guilty thereof are punished. Great as the provocation has been in dealing with foes who habitually resort to treachery, murder, and torture against our men, nothing can justify or will be held to justify the use of torture or inhuman conduct of any kind on the part of the American Army.

Reference your cable 17th, inquiry into Waller case disclosed inference that presidente of Basey and two native prisoners had been shot through influence, direction, or knowledge Major Glenn and Lieutenant Cook, Philippine Scouts; that padre of Basey had been improperly treated by direction or knowledge of Major Glenn. Major Watts instructed ascertain fact. His report recently received (and) examined by me yesterday shows necessity trial Lieutenant Cook for murder [and] Lieutenant Gaujot for water cure of three padres. Probability both cases may involve Glenn to extent that officers acted according his instructions. Glenn should not therefore be ordered San Francisco. He can be charged with directing application water cure to president Igbarras as stated in your cable. Conger [and] Lyon, the presidente, Mr. Riley, and Smith to be cited as witnesses and sent out here. Two latter may not be required Glenn's case, but if Conger [and] Lyon be tried they doubtless will be needed witnesses. Inquiry will be sent [set] on foot obtain evidence at Igbarras. Waller testified incidence substance as cabled by you regarding conversation had with General Smith. Captain Porter, Marines, testified having conversation two other officers. Say Waller told them regarding it very soon after occurrence. Smith now on Buford, quarantined, sailing 20th, but as you direct will retain him bring trial. Of course he intended remarks to refer persons hostile to troops, not those friendly; any other inference will do him injustice. Sorely impossible convey in words correct idea difficulties been met with by officers in prosecution this war, nor can President fully comprehend that very much necessary success would have failed of accomplishment had not serious measures been used force disclosure information. Some officers have doubtless failed in exercise due discretion, blood grown hot in their dealings with deceit and lying, hence severity some few occassions. This regretted. Record Waller trial not yet in. Sent probably May 1. Waller acquitted by court.

With reference to my telegram of 15th, yours 21st, when at Malabang authorized Baldwin continue clearing trail toward lake if not opposed, but he was not to move in force until expedition was fully prepared, which I expected to accomplish by 25th. On 18th he pushed his advance from camp 8 miles out, with orders to clear blockaded trail, halt when it reached sufficient water, which was not found until second crossing Maliling River where it issues from Lake Tapao. Advance consisted one battalion Twenty-seventh Regiment U. S. Infantry, under Major Scott. He reached Tapao without opposition, but found trail badly obstructed fallen timber. Baldwin arrived same place noon 20th with Moore's battalion and mountain battery. In order to find defensive camp and grazing to north of him he sent forward Moore's battalion, one gun. Moore was fired on from hills in front and to his left. He returned fire, but did not advance. Baldwin brought forward rest of battery, three infantry companies, and drove off assailants; firing distance 1,100 down to 300 yards. Excellent firing by battery. Enemy driven 2 miles and scattered. No casualties our troops. Seven Moro bodies found. Opposing Moros from Pinellas village, whose fort is in sight, flying red flag. Yesterday morning delegation arrived at Baldwin's camp from Ganasi, making absolute submission United States authority under terms my proclamation. Yesterday morning there was an affair of few minutes with Sultan of Pualao's men, who attempted reoccupy ground cleared day before, and they were forcibly dispersed. Baldwin says will be necessary reduce fort at Pulas, if it continues hostile, before passing it. Altitude camp, 2,650 feet. Davis says he has ordered Baldwin not to assault any fort or occupy hostile places until the two weeks' time which I granted the Moros to surrender murderers has expired. Yours yesterday was sent at once to Davis; received by him 10.50 p. m. He has ordered Baldwin to abstain absolutely from any aggressive movement, but to favor in every way possible friendly conference. To withdraw all our forces will ruin our prestige; to withdraw part of force will be dangerous. Have ordered trail cleared to rear quickly. Eight miles was well opened when I was there. Shall maintain our position, but not advance further until you are heard from. Febiger's battalion of 200 is in reserve. Baldwin's advance to so great distance was premature, but occasioned by opportunity to seize advantage in situation and position for camping troops. Pershing at Iligan says everything quiet. He is confident Moros on north side have no idea of rising.

With reference to your telegram of 22d, and two April 23, we will endeavor not become involved in war with Moros. All my actions and instructions have had in view avoiding any conflict at all. We must not fail duty which demands application Mosaic law, "An eye for an eye," when dealing with savages who know no other way obtaining redress for wrong, and count all as cowards who fail to make the demand and execute it. Every murder of a soldier by Moro must be satisfied by punishment of offender in our courts. If this be not done better to leave country so favorable for the crime. Certain it is that for each offense we condone 10 crimes will follow, and that great island will remain terra incognita. Better for Moros that army press into their settlements in friendly spirit than stand barred out at their gates and lose their respect. We can never become friends in such situation. Before Baldwin could be communicated with he had taken fort at Pulas after slight resistance; no casualties. Very soon after neighboring town of Ganasi opened its doors, hoisted white flag, and delivered red flag. Datto Lampok and others with strong following asked permission to call and make peace. Datto Amani Pack, of Ganasi, who sent threatening message in reply my letter, is one of those who have submitted. Camp is 2 miles from Ganasi, whose Sultan has asked Baldwin come there. Have directed him not to move. He is 10 miles from Datto. It is my purpose to have interview with General Davis; will go on Hancock, which left here to-day for Malabang with battalion Tenth Infantry. It is our purpose to show considerable force troops to lake Moros, converse with dattos, then retire troops by different trails to Malabang and Paran; thereafter to send expeditions occasionally to lake. We supposed Ganasi 35 miles from Malabang, actually short 21. No fighting; not necessary overcome opposition to advance to present location troops. Seven hundred and seventy-five men with Baldwin; 2 troops cavalry dismounted 12 miles in rear. Reserve Malabang telegraph line 3 miles from Baldwin. Every effort will be made prevent general war. After much talk with Datto Bayan, Brig. Gen. George W. Davis demanded May 1 that murderers and horses be given up or Datto send peace delegation talk with him by noon May 2. Message delivered noon May 1; messenger not returned 11 o'clock May 2. During night our troops fired upon. Did not reply. Moros again fired upon troops morning May 2; squads went out drove off approaching Moros. Eleven o'clock troops attacked took fort without loss; 1,300 yards beyond, another fort strongest work; attacked it. Dispatch from Davis says our troops surrounded fort 3 o'clock. Firing in progress 5 o'clock. About 20 men wounded; also First Lieut. Henry S. Wagner, General Davis's aid, and Lieutenant Jossman, Twenty-seventh Infantry; former seriously.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL, Washington, D. C.:

Report full substance [Brig. Gen.] George W. Davis's message May 3 from Bayan: "Eighty-four survivors Bayan surrendered unconditionally this morning at 7. Sultan Bayan, Raja Muda Bayan, Sultan Pandapatan, and all leading dattos dead and many their followers. Assault principal fort which surrendered last night one most gallant performances American arms. Col. Frank D. Baldwin and his regiment deserve all praise, hand-to-hand struggle in four lines of ditches under walls of fort. These trenches are lined with Moro dead from rifle fire. Have never seen heard any performance excelling this gallantry grit. Painful duty report overthrow Moro power not accomplished without severe loss. One officer, 7 enlisted killed, 4 officers, 37 enlisted wounded. Telegraph list later. After 84 survivors marched out this morning as prisoners and was understood they were all, 8 others, who had concealed themselves in rubbish inside fort, made break for liberty; tried cut way out; none succeeded. Some Moro wounded tried stab soldiers trying help them. Impossible to state number Moros killed; many lying in tall grass. Surrender saves us from siege and starving out or escalade. Impossible to have carried works without scaling ladders, which were ready. Intend retain prisoners until two or three small adjacent forts occupied; then, with your consent, to retain hostages, 8 or 10 principals, release others; force in line for advance; 4 mountain guns, 470 rifles; this fully sufficient. Could not use more men advantageously. Had we sent strong column would only have swelled casualty list. One neighboring datto already presented himself as friend, and expect general coming in shortly, when weight blow known. Dead sent Malabang for burial. In light present knowledge could have besieged principal forts and in time forced surrender, but that would probably resulted in sortie for freedom and escape for many. By attacking them have been completely crushed. The only kind of lesson these wild Moros seem to be able to profit by. Shall invite Sultan Sarac pay me friendly visit, if he does not do so his own initiative; has fort further in plain sight and of same strength as was Bayan on beautiful tableland, thousand acres fine upland rice, and urging people to return its cultivation."

Result to follow this action very important, namely, it secures respect United States of America authority center Moro savagery.

Brig. Gen. George W. Davis reports, 1 p. m., Saturday, May 3, Moro prisoners that had been disarmed, sitting on open hilltop surrounded by strong guard, at concerted signal, sprang feet, rushed down hill. Several endeavored to seize rifles guards; one succeeded while soldier drinking from canteen; direction flight such as bring them rear company, so firing upon Moros would endanger our men. Guard and one company opened fire without orders, killing 35; recaptured 9; others escaped. Following from Brig. Gen. George W. Davis, May 6: Situation to-day every way satisfactory. No hostile shot been fired since escape prisoners from guard. Would be exceedingly easy for Moros climb bluff, cut our telegraph traversing shore lake 4 miles; not molested. Two o'clock to-day Rinini Tampanga, of Tuburan, and delegation presented themselves. Sultan Ganasi says Datto (1901) Paygoag was killed Bayan Fort and his people dead or dispersed. Will investigate, but doubt whole report. Number prisoners escaped probably not exceeding 25; 10 recaptured unhurt. For miles about country much same its natural aspect as Camp Meade, Pennsylvania; enormous agricultural facilities. All wounded doing well. Lieutenant Jossman seriously hurt; bullet penetrated lung, ranged downward, lodged body; no amputation yet. Chief surgeon says one or two will likely be necessary; hopes recovery without. May 7 leave in morning for Malabang meet General Chaffee, expected morning 10th. No change situation. Wounded doing well. Datto from lower Bayan Fort presented himself, saying his people want peace, promising bring cattle, other supplies.

Lanao, May 12: Been here past three days studying situation with Brig. Gen. George W. Davis. Think two battalions should remain if can be supplied. Ganasi trail very difficult, but another trail promises much better. Think withdrawal from Lake would seriously jeopardize safety weaker dattos; would have given friendly assistance, but believe if we remain the more powerful dattos will come in when it is apparent that our mission is friendly. From present indications further hostilities will not be necessary unless provoked by Moros. Bayan caused much astonishment; was extremely necessary wholesome lesson, which don't think will have to be repeated. Some dattos very suspicious and on defensive. Lake country beautiful; more suitable for the occupancy of Americans than any part of the archipelago; elevation, soil, and climate perfect, comparing favorably with any valley of the Alleghenies.

Referring to telegram from your office of 7th ultimo, Lieut. Frank S. Burr reports May 8 no foundation for published letter that large number prisoners shot Irocin, Sorsogon Province, by his order. [Maj.] Frank F. Eastman, inspector-general, Fourth Brigade, reports June 9 upon investigation alleged shooting prisoners Irocin [First Lieut.] Frank S. Burr, that Walker testified under oath he did not make statement alleged. Six noncommissioned officers and 12 privates, including Walker, at or near Irocin, during part of October and November, 1901, testify no prisoners shot at that or any other time. Records show that from October 7 to November 11, 1901, 4 companies Fifteenth Infantry, 3 detachments constabulary, and many people, commanded by Capt. Edmund Wittenmyer, joined in campaign over country south of Sorsogon Bay; object to rid country of ladrones and Anting Anting fanatics; that during which period 26 were killed, about 350 prisoners captured. Of the killed, Lieutenant Burr's command effected 14 of the number, 7 in one ambush, 4 in another. Night of October 27, Frank S. Burr, 2 soldiers, one native police, guided by natives, marched from Irocin to barrio near San Roque, 12 miles; 3.30 in the morning were surprised, killed Balalog, leader of gang, and 2 others; wounded 4. Report following showing temper two strong parties Lake Lanao who will probably have to be attacked soon in order to prevent war. Influence is extending and becoming chronic. Gen. George W. Davis and Col. Frank D. Baldwin of this opinion; but they are doing all they can to prevent resumption of hostilities. I regard our retirement from lake great mistake from any point of view; but to remain we must insist on respect for the lives of our soldiers, who are snipped and boloed very frequently. Datto Bacolod and Masui are at present the chief offenders and instigators of hostile spirit. Believe them now sparring for time to gather rice crop. Gen. George W. Davis and Col. Frank D. Baldwin think they will become actively hostile in two months or less. Quote following reply to-day, June 17, from Datto Tunan Dundan and Sultan of Bacolod: "We ask you to return to Malabang because we do not want you live (at) Lanao, but want you to return to Malabang. You must follow our religion and customs, and in not doing so you will be to blame, for all dattos of the Laguna will make war against you, because we profess only one religion, which is that of Stambul. This letter, burned in six places, shows to you that it means war." End.

Five men One hundred and first Company, Coast Artillery, attacked by 10 Moros with bolos on Makadar trail, 10 miles from Malabang, June 22. One man cut in the head, seriously; one wounded in arm, serious. Moros secured one rifle. This result our efforts to treat with Moros friendly, trusting to their honor, of which apparently they have not the least. Nearly every day our wires are cut and our men attacked, but thus far we have not inflicted wounds in return. Shall I permit this business to continue? General Davis asks that general policy of the United States toward Lake Moros be at once decided [upon] and announced. I concur in request. Until this is done have directed Davis to warn all friendly dattos not allow their people use Makadar trail when armed. This being understood by them soldiers will be instructed to use effective measures, and if necessary to kill every armed Moro found on that trail; also not allow an armed Moro to come nearer than 10 paces. Makadar trail must be made safe, or we must abandon Lake station. Practically impossible to have intercourse with any dattos who will not voluntarily come to us. Since we can not make progress toward peaceful relations, Bacolod, Masiu, and Buting dattos should be coerced, and sooner it shall be done the better for all concerned.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 66.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY, ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE, Washington, July 4, 1902.

The following has been received from the War Department:

"WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, July 4, 1902.

"To the Army of the United States:

"The President upon this anniversary of national independence wishes to express to the officers and enlisted men of the United States Army his deep appreciation of the service they have rendered to the country in the great and difficult undertakings which they have brought to a successful conclusion during the past year.

"He thanks the officers and the enlisted men who have been maintaining order and carrying on the military government in Cuba, because they have faithfully given effect to the humane purposes of the American people. They have with sincere kindness helped the Cuban people to take all the successive steps necessary to the establishment of their own constitutional government. During the time required for that process they have governed Cuba wisely, regarding justice and respecting individual liberty; have honestly collected and expended for the best interests of the Cuban people the revenues, amounting to over sixty millions of dollars; have carried out practical and thorough sanitary measures, greatly improving the health and lowering the death rate of the island. By patient, scientific research they have ascertained the causes of yellow fever, and by good administration have put an end to that most dreadful disease which has long destroyed the lives and hindered the commercial prosperity of the Cubans. They have expedited justice and secured protection for the rights of the innocent, while they have cleansed the prisons and established sound discipline and healthful conditions for the punishment of the guilty. They have reestablished and renovated and put upon a substantial basis adequate hospitals and asylums for the care of the unfortunate. They have established a general system of free common schools throughout the island, in which over two hundred thousand children are in actual attendance. They have constructed great and necessary public works. They have gradually trained the Cubans themselves in all branches of administration, so that the new government upon assuming power has begun its work with an experienced force of Cuban civil-service employees competent to execute its orders. They have borne themselves with dignity and self-control, so that nearly four years of military occupation have passed unmarred by injury or insult to man or woman. They have transferred the Government of Cuba to the Cuban people amid universal expressions of friendship and good will, and have left a record of ordered justice and liberty, of rapid improvement in material and moral conditions, and progress in the art of government which reflects great credit upon the people of the United States.

"The President thanks the officers and enlisted men of the Army in the Philippines, both regulars and volunteers, for the courage and fortitude, the indomitable spirit and loyal devotion with which they have put down and ended the great insurrection which has raged throughout the archipelago against the lawful sovereignty and just authority of the United States. The task was peculiarly difficult and trying. They were required at first to overcome organized resistance of superior numbers, well equipped with modern arms of precision, intrenched in an unknown country of mountain defiles, jungles, and swamps, apparently capable of interminable defense. When this resistance had been overcome they were required to crush out a general system of guerrilla warfare conducted among a people speaking unknown tongues, from whom it was almost impossible to obtain the information necessary for successful pursuit or to guard against surprise and ambush.

"The enemies by whom they were surrounded were regardless of all obligations of good faith and of all the limitations which humanity has imposed upon civilized warfare. Bound themselves by the laws of war, our soldiers were called upon to meet every device of unscrupulous treachery and to contemplate without reprisal the infliction of barbarous cruelties upon their comrades and friendly natives. They were instructed, while punishing armed resistance, to conciliate the friendship of the peaceful, yet had to do with a population among whom it was impossible to distinguish friend from foe, and who in countless instances used a false appearance of friendship for ambush and assassination. They were obliged to deal with problems of communication and transportation in a country without roads and frequently made impassable by torrential rains. They were weakened by tropical heat and tropical disease. Widely scattered over a great archipelago, extending a thousand miles from north to south, the gravest responsibilities, involving the life or death of their commands, frequently devolved upon young and inexperienced officers beyond the reach of specific orders or advice.

"Under all these adverse circumstances the Army of the Philippines has accomplished its task rapidly and completely. In more than two thousand combats, great and small, within three years, it has exhibited unvarying courage and resolution. Utilizing the lessons of the Indian wars, it has relentlessly followed the guerrilla bands to their fastnesses in mountain and jungle and crushed them. It has put an end to the vast system of intimidation and secret assassination by which the peaceful natives were prevented from taking a genuine part in government under American authority. It has captured or forced to surrender substantially all the leaders of the insurrection. It has submitted to no discouragement and halted at no obstacle. Its officers have shown high qualities of command, and its men have shown devotion and discipline. Its splendid virile energy has been accompanied by self-control, patience, and magnanimity. With surprisingly few individual exceptions its course has been characterized by humanity and kindness to the prisoner and the noncombatant. With admirable good temper, sympathy, and loyalty to American ideals its commanding generals have joined with the civilian agents of the Government in healing the wounds of war and assuring to the people of the Philippines the blessings of peace and prosperity. Individual liberty, protection of personal rights, civil order, public instruction, and religious freedom have followed its footsteps. It has added honor to the flag which it defended, and has justified increased confidence in the future of the American people, whose soldiers do not shrink from labor or death, yet love liberty and peace.

"The President feels that he expresses the sentiments of all the loyal people of the United States in doing honor to the whole Army which has joined in the performance and shares in the credit of these honorable services.

"This general order will be read aloud at parade in every military post on the 4th day of July, 1902, or on the first day after it shall have been received.

"ELIHU ROOT, Secretary of War."
